LOCAL.

Departure of the Pittsburgh guardsmen for the strike fields last night brought out large crowds. There was considerable hissing and jeering. Once a riot was narrowly quelled and one man's insult brought him a musket blow which sent him 10 feet through the air. The departure was totally unlike that of the same regiments and many of the same men, for the Spanish-American war, four years ago, when they were the cheered heroes of the hour.—Page 1.

ROOSEVELT'S OFFER TO THE MINERS.

(By Associated Press to The Gazette.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 7.—The following statement was made public at the White House this afternoon:

"On Monday, October 6, the Hon. Carroll D. Wright, commissioner of labor, went to Philadelphia and gave to Mr. John Mitchell the following from the president:

"'If Mr. Mitchell will secure the immediate return to work of the miners in the anthracite regions, the president will at once appoint a commission to investigate thoroughly into all the matters at issue between the operators and miners, and will do all in his power to obtain a settlement of those questions in accordance with the report of the commission.'

"Mr. Mitchell has taken this matter under consideration, but the president has not yet been advised of any decision."

GUARDSMEN OF IRON CITY OFF FOR SERVICE

Some Hissed and Jeered as the Soldiers Marched the Streets.

RIOT WAS QUELLED BY FIFTY POLICE

TROOPS DEAF TO INSULTS

Gov. Stone's orders have been complied with. The entire Pennsylvania division of the National guard is moving to the anthracite coal region, in the eastern part of the state, and by this evening nearly all the troops will be in that section and doing active duty in the several towns in which much of the lawlessness of the present strike has occurred.

A great throng of people witnessed the departure of the Eighteenth and Fourteenth regiments, a portion of the Tenth regiment and Battery B from Pittsburgh last night. There was not much enthusiasm shown. There was, however, some hissing and jeering. The scenes were not at all like those attending the departure of the soldiers the last time they were called into active service—when they responded to the government's call at the time of the outbreak of the Spanish-American war. Then everything was wildly enthusiastic. Every man in blue was a hero and was cheered and lauded to the skies.

One Rowdy Properly Handled.

The hissing, jeering and other demonstrations of ill-will and ill-feeling made at certain points along the routes of parade were entirely uncalled for and some of the soldiers took it very much to heart. As soon as the police authorities learned of what was being done reserves were hurried out and put actively to work breaking up the bands of rowdies who had gathered at several points to work up demonstrations against the boys in blue.

As a rule, the soldiers marched along with "eyes front," looking neither to the left or right at those who hissed and shouted epithets against them; but there was one animated exception. As Company B of the Eighteenth regiment was passing in front of The Gazette building some one in the crowd which the lined the curb shouted "Scab protector." Without a moment's warning the gun of a guardsman was snatched from his hands by an officer and the offender was struck a terrific blow over the head. Before anyone could realize what had happened the gun was passed back to its owner and the line had passed.

An Officer Defines His Position.

The man who was struck was dazed and would have fallen had not companions grasped him and pushed him to the rear of the crowd. The blow from the rifle's butt laid the scalp open and blood flowed freely; but the man's friends took care that it did not become common knowledge on the street.

While the first section of the train which took the Eighteenth from the city was standing in Liberty avenue awaiting orders to move the officer who struck the blow did not try to conceal the fact, but spoke freely of the matter. He said he was not out with his regiment in answer to the call or the defense of the coal operator, but that the call of the chief executive of Pennsylvania had summoned him, and no one had the privilege of insulting him or any member of the guard so long as he was answering such a call.

Officers of the Eighteenth were of the opinion that an organized effort to work up feeling against their commands was made. They say that it was carefully planned out, that groups of four and five men were scattered through the throngs and at a certain signal every voice was raised against the leaving of the soldiers, no consideration being given by these anarchistic promotors of disturbance to the fact that the members of the guard were under orders from the head of the state government and were but doing their duty, although many of them are said to be in sympathy with the strikers. At the time the Eighteenth departed the police were unable to do much toward stopping the shameful demonstrations. By the time the Fourteenth appeared the police force had been strengthened and the officers acted promtuly in breaking up the hissing, jeering squads.

Scenes in Liberty Avenue.

The scenes in Liberty avenue, where the troops boarded the cars, was an animated one. On every hand gatherings of men in uniform were to be seen, surrounded by young women and girls, many of the latter having come down town to see their best fellows march away. Every guardsman was loaded down with his baggage, and although this was heavy enough, none seemed to mind having a bit of femininity hanging on.

When the men were ordered aboard there were many hasty goodbys spoken. Once the men were inside the cars the girls lined alongside the trains and animated conversations were carried on. Even after the trains began to move slowly toward Union station the girl who had to remain behind clung to the hand of the man inside, who in numerous instances, hung half-way out of the window. As the trains began to move more swiftly holds were broken and the girls began to take on that far-away look.

After the two sections bearing the Eighteenth had moved out and given place to the trains for the Fourteenth, the girls who had seen the Eighteenth boys leave, took positions on the curbstone and the same scenes were repeated when Col. W. E. Thompson's boys appeared.

Tenth's Men Get Away First.

The members of Companies A, B, H and K of the Tenth regiment were the first to get away. They came in early in the afternoon and left Union station about 9:30 o'clock. The Eighteenth followed them. Two sections were required for the command of Col. F. J. Rutledge. The first section pulled out at 10:10 o'clock and the second left 10 minutes later.

The members of the Fourteenth were compelled to wait until the tracks were cleared of the Tenth and Eighteenth before their cars could be placed in position for loading, and it was almost midnight before Thompson's regiment got away for

NO SUGGESTION FROM PRESIDENT

Stone Says Guard Is Ordered Out Solely Because Needed.

TROOPS' LOCATION

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Harrisburg, Oct. 7.—Gov. Stone was asked this evening if there was any truth in the report that orders to send the entire National guard to the anthracite region was at President Roosevelt's suggestion.

He replied: "There has been no communication between the president and myself concerning the strike."

"Are so many soldiers necessary in the strike districts?"

"It was deemed necessary at the council to send out the entire division."

"Do you think your act will defeat the Republican state ticket?"

"In the performance of what was believed to be a plain public duty, its political effect was not considered."

The movement of the additional troops ordered on duty began at midnight and inside of 24 hours the entire division of the Pennsylvania National Guard will be under canvas.

Time for Private Affairs.

The start could have been made earlier if the necessity had required it, but it was decided at last night's council of war at the executive mansion not to rush the soldiers into camp. The prospects are they will be out for considerable time and officers and men were given a chance to arrange their private affairs before they were expected to report for duty.

Maj. Gen. Miller formally established headquarters in the Commonwealth hotel this morning and then started for Washington with Adjt. Gen. Stewart to attend the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. Col. Elliott of Philadelphia, assistant adjutant general of the division, is directing the movement of troops, assisted by Col. Richardson, division quartermaster general, who has charge of the shipment of the camp equipage.

Division Sergeant Major DeWoody of Franklin and Maj. Baitler of Philadelphia are also at headquarters.

Disposition of Troops.

Headquarters of Division.
National Guard of Pennsylvania.
General Orders No. 14.

I. In compliance with general order No. 30, adjutant general's office, the division is hereby ordered on duty in the counties of Luzerne, Schuylkill, Carbon, Lackawanna, Susquehanna, Northumberland and Columbia to see that all persons engaging in acts of violence are arrested, and that they and their families have ample protection; protect all trains and property from unlawful interference; arrest all persons engaging in acts of violence and intimidating, and hold them under guard until their release will not endanger the public peace; that threats, intimidations, assaults and all acts of violence cease at once; that the public peace and good order be preserved, and that no interference will be permitted with officers and men in the discharge of their duties.

II. The commanding officers of the respective brigades are charged with the duties of suppressing disturbances, maintaining peace and order in the districts assigned herewith.

First brigade, Brig. Gen. Schall, commanding—Carbon county, the southern half of Luzerne county, and that section of Schuylkill county lying south and east of a line drawn through Brookside, New Boston and Delano.

Location of Western Brigade.

Second brigade, Brig. Gen. Wiley, commanding—Northumberland and Columbia counties and that section of Schuylkill county west of a line drawn through Brookside, New Boston and Delano.

Third Brigade, Brig. Gen. Gobin, commanding—Susquehanna and Lackawanna counties and the northern half of Luzerne county.

They will make such disposition of the troops under their commands as will, in their judgment, best conserve the purpose for which they have been ordered on duty.

III. Brig. Gen. Gobin, commanding the Third brigade, will hold and exercise command in those districts now outside of his district heretofore designated until relieved by the troops of the First and Second brigades, and then give such instructions as will concentrate his command in his designated district.

IV. Second Brigade Commissary Sergt. Jones, commanding, will be relieved from duty under Brig. Gen. Gobin on Thursday, October 9. The commanding officer will place himself in telegraphic communication with and report for duty to the commanding officer of the Second brigade.

Troops en route to their designated district will provide rations for two days' rations, the cost thereof not to exceed 30 cents per day, and all ammunition on hand. Every precaution will be taken to insure safe and successful movement of movement of troops, mounted batteries, horses and cavalry mounted.

Orders for Supplies.

VI. Brigade officers of the quartermaster and commissary departments will contract and supply their respective brigades with ten days' rations, reporting to these headquarters the quantities and cost thereof. Transportation will be furnished by brigade quartermasters. Camp equipage will be supplied in the designated districts by the division quartermaster.

VII. The commanding officers of the respective brigades will report fully to these headquarters.

By command of MAJ. GEN. MILLER.
W. J. ELLIOTT, Assistant Adjutant General.

The cost of keeping the entire state military force on duty will not be less than $50,000 per day.

EIGHTEEN VESSELS WRECKED ON COAST

Fishermen's Craft Encounter Gale and Ten Lives Are Lost.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Oct. 7.—The mail steamer Virginia Lake has returned here from Labrador and brings reports that the whole coast of Labrador has been swept by a fearful gale. Eighteen vessels were driven ashore and are total losses. Some of the wrecked vessels had cargoes of fish on board.

The Virginia Lake brings home 153 shipwrecked fishermen who composed the crews of the lost vessels. The gale, with regard to results, is the worst experienced since 1888.

The steamer Kite, with 225 persons on board, ran on the rocks, but was refloated. Ten lives were lost.

THE PRESIDENT HEARS OF OPERATORS' BREAK

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 7.

Attorney General Knox, acting on a petition forwarded to him by William R. Hearst of New York, has instructed District Attorney Burnett of New York to investigate evidence against the coal carrying railroads, which Mr. Hearst says he can produce, for violation of the anti-trust law.

For the first time since the conference at the White House last Friday, President Roosevelt learned today through an authoritative source that there was a break in the line of operators and that an important part of them are willing to yield. Just what concessions they are willing to make are not yet known, for there is official silence on this subject. It is quite evident, however, that persons higher in authority than the operators who were present at the White House conference, have become convinced that the refusal to accept the good offices of the president of the United States was a mistake and have brought pressure to bear.

CALL FOR TROOPS.

Mayor of New Orleans Asks Governor for Them to Suppress Car Strike Violence.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Oct. 7.—Mayor Capdevielle, after a consultation with the public safety committee, which lasted until midnight, decided to call upon the governor for troops to suppress violence.

The adjutant general is now here and the governor will be reached at his home in North Louisiana in the morning.

NO COMPROMISE IN BIGGAR SUITS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Freehold, N. J., Oct. 7.—The Monmouth county grand jury met here today and was charged by Judge Franklin Fort relative to the conspiracy alleged to have been entered into by Laura Biggar, C. K. Hendrick of Bayonne and ex-Justice of the Peace Stanton of Hoboken to gain possession of the entire estate of the late Henry M. Bennett. Hendrick and Stanton are still in the county jail here, having been unable to secure acceptable bail, and Miss Biggar has not been arrested.

Judge Fort said if the jury was satisfied a conspiracy had been entered into, indictments should be found against everyone concerned in it. He referred by name to Laura Biggar, Hendrick, Stanton and Dr. John T. Collins.

Judge Fort urged the jury to take no cognizance of any efforts that might be made to effect a compromise between Laura Biggar and the other heirs of the estate. He said there might possibly be an effort to induce Miss Biggar to give up some of the legacies under Mr. Bennett's will by promising her that in return the proceedings against her would be dropped. The judge said if any lawyer or other person approaches the jury in an effort to have the case dropped, that lawyer or other person should be himself indicted.

He called attention to the fact that when Laura Biggar signed the application for the probate of Mr. Bennett's will she signed herself "Laura Biggar;" but when she put in a claim for the whole estate she signed her name as "Laura Bennett."

The conspiracy case may not be taken up by the jury for a day or two, although the judge urged prompt action.

Ex-Judge W. T. Hoffman applied to Judge Fort today to have Dr. Hendrick admitted to bail on security offered by Dr. Stack of Hoboken. The application was refused by Judge Fort, just as it was refused last week by Judge Heisley. Judge Fort held that as the property was mortgaged it was not sufficient security.

MISSING PREACHER RETURNS.

Nurse, Who Disappeared at Same Time, With Him as His Wife.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Special.)—After an absence abroad of nearly two years, the Rev. James Le Baron Johnson, formerly curate at Grace church and chaplain in the fire department, whose disappearance from this city in December, 1901, created a sensation, has returned home.

Miss Mary Hoffman, the pretty and wealthy nurse who disappeared at the same time, returned with the clergyman as his wife, and the couple, with their child, are now in the Adirondacks.

QUAY'S FIRST BALLOT REFORM CONFERENCE

It Will Hold Initial Session Tomorrow—Telephone Accident to Garvin.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Public Ledger Building,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 7.

Chairman Quay resumed his duties at state headquarters today. Francis J. Torrance, Republican city chairman of Allegheny, had a long talk this morning with the senator, and they discussed very fully conditions in Allegheny county. E. D. McCormick, chairman of Westmoreland and Henry Robinson of Mercer, also called on Col. Quay.

The ballot reform committee authorized by the Republican state committee, appointed by Chairman Quay, will hold its first session Thursday night at the Hotel Walton. It will be open to the public. Invitations have been sent to Clinton Rogers Woodruff, William Flinn of Allegheny and others who entertain themselves by discussing this question whenever an opportunity presents itself. Mr. Woodruff has accepted the invitation.

Chairman Thomas Garvin of the speakers' bureau met with a peculiar accident at headquarters this afternoon. He was using a Bell telephone, one of the desk designs, and just as he obtained talking there was a call on the Keystone 'phone, an opposition line. Garvin picked up the Keystone 'phone before releasing his hold on the Bell. He received a shock which rendered him temporarily unconscious. A physician was sent for, but before his arrival Garvin was able to sit up.

The accident is the first of the kind known to local telephone experts, and they are unable to explain the cause. It is believed an electric light or trolley wire had crossed one of the telephone lines, and Garvin completed a circuit by holding both 'phones at once.

NEW CONSUMPTION CURE.

Marvelous Result of Treatment of Fred Hammann by Vienna Specialist.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Fred Hammann, a patient with hasty consumption, selected by the New York Journal at the Vanderbilt clinic from 100 other cases and sent at the Journal's expense to Prof. Hoff, the eminent specialist at Vienna, to prove to the world that the disease is curable, has returned home completely cured. Dr. Hoff's famous prescription, together with a bottle of the medicine and a 24-page handbook, containing the Journal's account of the cure as it progressed, is being sent out free to consumptives and all sufferers from bronchitis, asthma and catarrh, by the Journal Research Society, 490 American Tract building, New York city.

REGGIE VANDERBILT PASSES ORDEAL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The Sun in a special from New Haven, Conn., says: It was reported tonight that notice had been sent to Reginald Vanderbilt that he had passed the examination entitling him to a degree from Yale, and that similar notice would be sent to the other candidates. Yale officials refused to give out the results of the examinations.

TEXAS OIL FIELD AGAIN BURNING

Forty Derricks Destroyed and Hundred Others Doomed.

TWELVE LIVES LOST

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Beaumont, Tex., Oct. 7.—(Midnight.)—Another great fire more disastrous than the conflagration of a few weeks ago swept over the oil fields here tonight, causing the probable loss of 12 or more lives and entailing a property loss of several thousand dollars.

The fire was discovered shortly before 11 o'clock and with remarkable rapidity it spread to the many derricks in the Hogg-Swayne tract.

The encroachment of the flames was so rapid that many people were caught in the fiery path, and at midnight it is believed that 12 people have perished, and the fatalities may reach 20.

The entire Hogg-Swayne tract, comprising one of the largest sections in the oil fields, probably will be burned. Forty or more of the large derricks have been destroyed by the flames.

At this hour the fire is spreading and the property loss will be heavy. The entire oil field presents a brilliant spectacle as the flames grow brighter and brighter.

Oct. 8.—Up to 1 o'clock it is estimated that 50 derricks have been destroyed and over 100 are still burning.

Reports as to the estimated loss of life are conflicting. A report from Austin, which was received there by long distance telephone, places the loss of life at 20 persons, but the report cannot be confirmed at this hour.

GOLD NEAR SYRACUSE

Excitement has been caused at Marathon by the discovery of gold. Every landowner in this section is staking off his property and preparing to mine the precious metal.

A short time ago Howard S. Wood, while digging a ditch across his premises, noticed that the dirt was filled with a yellow substance in fine particles resembling small chips of mica. On being subjected to an acid test it was pronounced by an expert to be gold.

Large quantities of similar metal have been found on other farms in the vicinity.

MANAGER STEVENS SAID TO BE DYING.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The Sun this morning says: Word was received here yesterday that Edward Stevens, the theatrical manager, is dying of consumption at Sayre, Pa. Ten years ago he was well known in the theatrical world. He took Lote Fuller abroad and managed her so well that she gained a bigger reputation abroad than she ever enjoyed here. Now he is none too well off.

FARQUAHAR HOLDS BOARD RESPONSIBLE.

SHENANDOAH, PA., Oct. 7.—Provost Marshal Farquahar this evening served notice on the local advisory board of the United Mine Workers of America that the members of the board would be arrested if any more dynamiting should occur in the district. Michael Mushague was arrested by a squad of City troopers under Maj. Farquahar today for alleged complicity in the Brownsville dynamiting affair of last night. Mushague is held a prisoner in the guard house.

ROOSEVELT'S PROPOSITION IS REJECTED

Mitchell Will Not Agree That the Miners Work Pending Inquiry.

MANUFACTURERS SEEN IN BUFFALO

GLEAM OF HOPE APPEARS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 7.—President Mitchell has positively declined President Roosevelt's recommendation that the miners return to work pending an investigation of their grievances. He does not discuss the question, but says he will not accept the proposal.

The conference held today between the committee appointed by the National Manufacturers' association and President Mitchell and his lieutenants took up various phases of the anthracite coal strike, and it was unofficially stated that Mr. Mitchell impressed the manufacturers' committee favorably with the justice of the miners' cause. No definite plan for resumption of work was agreed upon.

President Mitchell left Buffalo tonight at 10 o'clock for Wilkesbarre. The representatives of the manufacturers—D. M. Parry of Indianapolis, Frank Leake of Philadelphia, George H. Harbour of Detroit and Richard Young of New York—will go to Philadelphia tomorrow, where they will try to obtain a conference with the coal operators, whom they will attempt to influence to accept arbitration.

A Hopeful Indication.

The fact that communication was established with the operators by long distance telephone, and that an appointment was made to meet a committee representing them in Philadelphia tomorrow, is looked upon as significant, as it had been announced by members of the manufacturers' committee that there existed no understanding with the operators prior to today's meeting and no step in that direction would be taken until the negotiations with President Mitchell reached a stage where such a meeting would promise results.

The conference was held behind closed doors and only a brief statement was given out, signed by the manufacturers, at the end of the meeting. The statement says:

"The committee of the National Association of Manufacturers has listened to the explanation of the present strike difficulty as offered by a special committee of the United Mine Workers, at the head of which was John Mitchell. The National Association of Manufacturers' committee has learned what it could of the conditions, and now goes to Philadelphia for the purpose of meeting a committee of mine owners with the idea of getting their side of the difficulty. The National Association of Manufacturers' committee carries no proposition from the mine workers and has no other mission than the desire to speedily bring about a settlement of this dispute."

Proposition to the Miners.

Mr. Mitchell was appealed to on the ground of humanity to concede every possible point so that the country might be saved from the hardships and suffering incident to a coal famine which seemed inevitable. It is also said a proposition of some kind was submitted to the mine workers, but the terms specified are not obtainable.

Mr. Mitchell pointed out in substance that offers for conciliation already brought forth by those high in authority had been spurned by the operators. He would not place the miners in the position of supplicants for peace. They were willing to abide by the decision of fair arbitrators. As the matter now stands a proposal from the operators is the thing to be expected.

After the meeting President Parry was asked if the conference had resulted in bringing any nearer a solution of the strike question.

"We have great hopes that something definite will be done," he replied.

"What if this attempt at conciliation proves to be a failure?"

"Then the prospect is a bad one. Manufacturers are trying to run on soft coal, but they cannot get a sufficient quantity of that. One cannot contract for any large quantity. In a short time this will be exhausted. This will mean the shutting down of factories."

"How many men are employed in factories represented by the association?"

"There are 1,500 manufacturers, and each employs from 500 to 1,500 men."

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Rodella Bane Prefers Death Rather Than Trial for Drowning Gay Smith.

WHEELING, VA., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Owing to severe mental and physical strain which she has undergone and her desire to die, it is very likely that Rodella Bane will never be tried for the murder of Gay Smith, to which she confessed this morning. Chief of Police Ritz swore out a warrant charging her with that crime and a policeman is stationed at the door of her room at the city hospital.

The girl has utterly collapsed and moans constantly that she could change places with Gay Smith. She appears to realize her position and does not want to live to face the ordeal of trial.

STRIKERS VOTE TO REMAIN OUT

TROOPS DISPERSE MOB

Little Disturbance Reported in the Anthracite Region—One Colliery Is Expected to Resume Operations Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 7.—In accordance with the address issued by President Mitchell last night, calling upon all local unions to meet and take a vote on the question of remaining on strike, the mine workers of the Prospect, Oakdale and Midvale collieries of the Lehigh Coal Company held a meeting in this city today, and at its conclusion it was announced that the men had unanimously decided to stay out in a body until they had won the strike. This is the first meeting held in the anthracite field under the instructions of President Mitchell.

The Wyoming valley was extremely quiet today. There is not the least sign of disturbance anywhere. No violence of consequence has been reported for several days.

SHAMOKIN, PA., Oct. 7.—Companies E and H, Fourth regiment, were rushed to the Royal Oak colliery from their encampment at Mt. Carmel this evening and dispersed at least 1,000 people watching 20 non-unionists who were behind a barricade in the breaker. At the sight of the troops the mob fled, but some of them hurled rocks at the non-unionists before they escaped into their homes. The soldiers will guard the colliery all night.

One Miner Mobbed.

While John Colson of Mahanoy City, a non-unionist engineer at the Reading company's Henry Clay shaft, was walking to the colliery this afternoon, he was attacked by a mob, one of whom hit him on the head with a brick, while others clubbed him into insensibility. He was rescued from death by a body of coal and iron police dispersing the mob. Local colliery superintendents today asked Sheriff Deitrick to have troops stationed here.

SCRANTON, PA., Oct. 7.—Announcement was made by the Temple Iron Company today that enough men had now been secured to make a start of its big Mt. Lookout colliery in Wyoming, and that operations will be resumed there tomorrow or the next day.

The main question now being asked is whether or not President Mitchell will call a convention to consider the Roosevelt proposition. If he calls such a convention it is thought the vote will be to accept the proposition. If he refuses to call it, there is a danger, it is quite generally believed by onlookers and emphatically asserted by the company representatives, that a certain element of the strikers will seize his refusal as an excuse to make a break. From the trend of conversation among the local officers, however, it is a fair inference that they do not expect a convention will be called.

House Wrecked by Dynamite.

Meetings are being arranged by the locals for tomorrow in obedience to President Mitchell's suggestion to pass resolutions declaring that the miners are not refraining from going back to work because of fear of violence, as alleged by the operators at Friday's White House conference.

SHENANDOAH, PA., Oct. 7.—Mrs. Kuklewicz of Brownsville, near here, called on Gen. Gobin at headquarters this morning and reported to him that her home was partly destroyed by a dynamite explosion this morning. She said the explosion set fire to the house and between the fire and the wreck caused by the explosion the damage to the house is so great that she was compelled to move out with her family. It was reported to the general that the explosion was determined upon by the Lithuanian local of Brownsville. Provost Marshal Farquhar, in command of a squad of the Second City troop, went to Brownsville this morning to make an investigation. Kuklewicz is employed at the Shenandoah colliery.

In speaking of the general orders issued last night in connection with the calling out of the entire guard, Gen. Gobin says he desires to call special attention to the following clause:

"He will arrest all persons engaging in acts of violence and intimidation and hold them under guard until their release will not endanger the public peace."

This, he says, will dispose of hearings before justices of the peace in the matter of these arrests and ought to have a good effect.

MONEY BOXES AT POLLS.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—(Special.)—The coal question has become a burning issue with the politicians of all parties in Chicago just now.

Among the novel plans suggested to raise funds for the relief of the anthracite miners is one in the form of a resolution passed at today's meeting of the city Democratic committee.

It provides that on the final registration day, next Saturday, an attempt be made to have contribution boxes placed in every polling place to enable those who sympathize with the strikers to put in any sum they please for relief of miners. An effort will be made to secure permission of the election commissioners to place the boxes.

W. C. T. U. TAKES HAND.

Coal Strike Discussed at Massachusetts Annual Convention.

NEW BEDFORD, MASS., Oct. 7.—In her address before the annual session of the Massachusetts W. C. T. U., the president, Mrs. Katherine Lente Stevenson, dwelt at some length on the coal strike. She said that whether or not the operators had anything to arbitrate, the American people had much that it demanded to have arbitrated, and its voice must make itself heard.

She suggested immediate federal intervention so that the mines may be worked, the establishment by act of congress of a permanent court of compulsory arbitration, and, as the last and only radical remedy, government ownership of all public utilities.

the scene of the one of the greatest mine strikes in history. The train carrying the members of Battery B and their guns was the last to leave the city. The artillery men entrained at the East Liberty stock yards and their train followed the Fourteenth regiment trains closely.

Thousands of people filled the downtown streets of Pittsburgh last night. From 7 o'clock until after 11, Fifth avenue was literally black with people. Crowds gathered in front of the newspaper offices to scan the latest bulletins and inquire if there was any late word from the striking regions. "Has the president taken any further action," was the query of an old man whose hair was white as snow.

"Will there be any real fighting," asked one anxious woman. Everybody appeared to be excited. Many thought the troops would have but little to do, while others took a much graver view of the situation.

Departure of the Eighteenth.

The Eighteenth regiment, composed of 12 companies, about 550 strong, left Pittsburgh shortly after 10 o'clock. The command left in two sections. On the first car of the initial section was the hospital corps. The second car was used as regimental headquarters. The first train was composed of 10 passenger coaches.

The second train had seven day coaches, three baggage cars and one horse car. This train carried members of the Third battalion, the First and Second having gone on the first train. Owing to the heavy traffic on the railroads this week, on account of the G. A. R. encampment in Washington, it was impossible to get sleepers for the officers.

Pittsburgh liverymen were not anxious to allow their horses to go to the scene of action and it was with the greatest difficulty that some of the officers succeeded in getting enough equine flesh to take with them. Several were compelled to abandon the idea of getting horses until they reach their destination.

The officers who left last night were: Col. Frank I. Rutledge, in command; Lieut. Col. J. Conrad Kay; Majors R. W. A. Simmons, James E. McNary and Alex. J. Henderson, and Major and Surgeon Dr. C. C. Wiley. The captains of the various companies were: First battalion—Company B, C. C. Huff; Company H, James A. Stout; Company C, E. M. Hukill, Jr.; Company M, L. L. Carson. Second battalion—Company I, Harry McKain; Company F, J. H. K. Duff; Company G, Albert W. Obert. Third battalion—Company E, William K. Reifmeyer; Company L, Randolph H. Shaffer; Company A, R. M. Patterson (first lieutenant); Company K, John B. Guthrie.

Harry Davis Turned Down.

In the absence of Quartermaster Robert Bissell, who is at present at Yellowstone park, Col. Rutledge yesterday asked Harry F. Davis, an ex-captain of Company B, who is on the retired list, to act in his place, and at once telegraphed Gen. Willis J. Hulings of his action. After Davis had served through the day as temporary quartermaster, a message was received last night from Harrisburg stating that Adjt.-Gen. Thomas J. Stewart objected to the appointment. First Lieut. George B. Lane of Company M, was appointed in his place.

The orders were that the Eighteenth form at Ross street and Fifth avenue at 8:15 o'clock last night, but it was 9:15 o'clock when the last company reported. The five Oakland companies formed at their headquarters in Fifth avenue and the two East End companies came in on street cars from their armories.

The five companies of the Fifth ward formed at the Watson street armory and were the last to report. It was 9:30 o'clock when Col. Rutledge gave the marching order and the troops wended their way toward Union station. The line of march was from Ross street to Fifth avenue, to Wood street, and to Liberty to the cars. The regiment had no music to march to except that furnished by the buglers. Col. Rutledge said he had given orders to have the regimental band notified, but the members, he said, had evidently not received the communications and failed to put in an appearance.

Soldiers From Out of Town.

The members of Company H, Tenth regiment, were the first soldiers to reach Pittsburgh from out-of-town yesterday. They came in about 3 o'clock in the afternoon with Company K of Waynesburg. The Greene county organization came to Washington in a special train and the two companies left the Washington county capital shortly before 2 o'clock.

When Pittsburgh was reached the members of the companies were given permission to leave their cars and go down town, with orders to report back at 7 o'clock.

Company K of New Brighton was the next organization to arrive. It was almost 4 o'clock when this company reached Union station and its members were given the same privileges of the other arrivals.

The last company to reach the city was A, from Monongahela, which came in at 7:10 o'clock over the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad. Forty out of 50 members of Company A reported for duty. Thirty-eight out of Company D's enrollment reported. The Waynesburg company had but 40 out of 53 members, but 10 more are to follow today. Company H of Washington reported 53 out of 55 members.

The other companies of the regiment, C of Uniontown, D of Connellsville, E of Mt. Pleasant and I of Greensburg all mobilized at Greensburg, where they joined the other companies last night.

ALMOST A RIOT MARKED LEAVING OF FOURTEENTH

Quick Work of Police Broke up a Nasty Demonstration—Scene at the Armory.

Jeers, hisses and ugly names were also flung after the marching Fourteenth regiment as it moved through the streets last night before boarding the train for Mahanoy City at Seventh and Liberty avenues. As the moving column halted the crowd from the sidewalk surged in to protect one of their number whose jeers had been resented by one of the guardsmen. The crowd was in bad temper and it broke up the order of the guardsmen.

A musket was swung about for a blow, but the crush of the crowd prevented it and in half a minute Inspector Will of the first police district and 50 officers were on the scene. They formed a cordon between the guardsmen and the crowd.

The officers' appearance just at this juncture quelled what was certain in another minute to become an ugly riot.

Yells of "Scabs," "Blacklegs," "Cowards" and other epithets from all sides tried the temper of the marching guardsmen. The crowd was predominated by the people who could receive no thought but that the men were going on a mission which would lessen the chances of the striking miners.

The guardsmen bore the taunts and insults with admirable equanimity. It was just one man, who had taken one too many parting drinks on his departure, who by his swing of a musket threatened a riot.

All along the line of march the innocent instruments of the commonwealth submitted to jeers. The departure was a striking contrast to that of the same regiment and many of the same men in 1898, when they were ready to lay down their lives in the cause of a free Cuba. Then there was red fire, hurrahs and "God bless you and God speed you."

Last night the sentiment of the crowd was reflected in the exclamation of a young man, who appeared as though he should know better:

"There go the bums."

As the crowd was being quieted at Seventh and Liberty avenues the tip was passed from man to man:

The Fourteenth left the armory in Union street at 11:15 o'clock for a march to the train, which was to be down Liberty avenue to Seventh avenue. Col. Thompson marched ahead of Nirella's Fourteenth Regiment band. Staff and field officers followed, and then the nine companies forming the regiment. The march was from Union street, up Fifth avenue to Smithfield, and on Smithfield to Seventh avenue, where the regiment came to a rest. Later it was moved to the north side of Liberty avenue. At 11:45 every man of the seven companies, which were mobilized at the armory, was aboard and the train started. At East Liberty the train stopped for the men of Company F and at Wilkinsburg Company I joined the regiment.

BATTERY B'S START GREATLY DELAYED

Artillerymen Loaded Guns and Supplies in Darkness and Mud—Go to Mt. Carmel.

Although Battery B was scheduled to leave at 9 o'clock for Mt. Carmel it was not until midnight that the train moved out of the East Liberty yards. The delay was caused by the failure of the Pennsylvania railroad to get the cars into the yards in time to allow the men to load the guns, caissons and supplies. The work of loading was difficult because the men had to haul the guns through several inches of mud. There are no lights in the East Liberty yards and all the loading was done by lanterns.

Capt. Rees and his men left the armory promptly at 9 o'clock and marched to where the train was to be side-tracked for them. Capt. Rees was told that on account of the demand made by the other commands it was impossible to get any coaches nearer than those in the yards at Union station.

Capt. Rees made a short address to the men just before they boarded the train. He instructed them in the manner in which they should conduct themselves. They were warned against displaying temper or foolishness in the performance of a duty that was entirely new to them.

GUARDSMEN WERE PROMPT IN RESPONDING

Majority of Pittsburgh's Soldiers Were in Readiness to Move Before Noon.

Members of the Allegheny county organizations of the national guard of Pennsylvania were astir at an early hour yesterday morning and all during the day men wearing the uniforms of soldiers were seen on the streets of the two cities. They were either hurrying to the armories or discharging some duty to which they had been assigned by the officers. It was known early in the afternoon that the Second brigade regiments would be assigned to the following points: Eighteenth and Tenth regiments, Shenandoah; Fourteenth, Mahanoy City; Sixteenth, Mt. Carmel; Fifth, Ashland; Battery B, brigade headquarters as soon as Gen. W. J. Hulings commanding the brigade in the absence of Gen. John A. Wylie, decided where they would be located.

Aroused Before Daylight.

A majority of the members of the Eighteenth regiment were awakened from their slumbers before daybreak yesterday morning by messengers with the announcement that the expected orders to move had come at last. Many of them left their beds and went at once to the headquarters in Fifth avenue, Oakland. Col. Frank I. Rutledge was one of the first to appear at headquarters. As the word became more generally known the captains and other officers began flocking to the scene.

In some instances it became necessary for the officers to send for and arrest members of the guard. When arrested, the men were allowed to get their clothing at home and were taken immediately to headquarters, where they were placed under guard.

Scores of men, anxious to enlist and go to the scene of action visited the Eighteenth headquarters yesterday. Almost 100 new men were examined by the surgeons and sworn in for service in the Eighteenth yesterday.

It was stated last night of the 700 men in the regiment only a few over 500 would be able to go. It is estimated by the officers that fully 200 men are out of the city; these will be notified as soon as possible, and it may be that another special train with from 150 to 200 men will leave for the Shenandoah district tonight.

Fourteenth's Men Were Prompt.

The Allegheny county controller's office was headquarters for the Fourteenth regiment during the work of preparation yesterday. W. Emory Thompson, colonel of the regiment, is also county controller. Col. Thompson was in West Virginia on business when the governor's order was issued, but intelligence of it soon reached him and early yesterday morning he reached his home at McKeesport, donned his uniform and started for Pittsburgh.

In the meantime Lieut. Col. Harry Corbett of the Fourteenth had set in motion the machinery of mobilization and even before the formal official order had passed down through the regular channels the men of the Fourteenth were notified of the governor's order. Almost to a man they were ready before noon.

Everything was found in good order, excepting only one company. This is Company F. Its armory was burned in July and all the equipment destroyed. Col. Thompson ordered the company to start with the others and requisition was made on the state arsenal for new equipment.

Capt. William T. Rees of Battery B received moving orders yesterday afternoon shortly before 4 o'clock from Gen. Hulings. All the battery men were at the Everett street armory in readiness to move at the command, but Capt. Rees delayed matters until complete arrangements could be made for transportation. A train of two flat cars, a baggage coach and three passenger coaches are necessary to carry the battery.

It was late yesterday evening when the Pennsylvania railroad transportation officials completed arrangements for moving the troops. Cars were brought from all parts of the railroad system, some borrowed from the Baltimore & Ohio and other roads, and many were brought back from Baltimore. Empty box cars and stock cars for the accoutrements and horses were hard to place through the car shortage. Stray box and stock cars which could be found were sent to the railroad repair shops to be equipped with necessary airbrake appliances, so as to make the proposed long trains safe.

VETERANS EN ROUTE.

Tenth Regiment Quickly Mobilizes at Greensburg and Starts for Strike Region.

GREENSBURG, PA., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Tenth regiment soldiers filled the streets of Greensburg for several hours this evening. Companies C of Uniontown, D of Connellsville, E of Mount Pleasant and I of Greensburg, mobilized here, the companies from Fayette county arriving here before the train bearing companies A of Monongahela, B of New Brighton, H of Washington and K of Waynesburg arrived here from Pittsburgh.

On April 19, 1898, the same companies mobilized here for Mount Gretna before being sent to the Philippines.

Company I left with her full quota of men. There were six vacancies this morning, but the calling out of the entire guard had not been long announced until a dozen able-bodied men applied to Capt. Armbourst for the vacancies. Four of the six men selected were miners who had been working steadily in the mines about Greensburg.

MAKING GOOD TIME.

Special Train Leaves Erie and Picks Up Various Companies of Sixteenth Regiment.

ERIE, PA., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Company G, Sixteenth regiment, responded to a man to the order of Gov. Stone, calling out the militia for service in the coal regions. The company embarked on a special train made up here.

The train left the city for Harrisburg at 6 o'clock over the Philadelphia & Erie railroad. It picked up the Meadville, Oil City, Franklin, Butler and Greenville companies at Corry and other points down the road. The regiment will arrive in Harrisburg early in the morning.

The first stop will be made at Sunbury, where the regiment will be divided and the companies sent where most needed. A large crowd witnessed their departure and cheered the soldiers.

Wiley Hurries to Front.

All the News from the Troops Will Be Found in The Gazette

The departed guardsmen leave behind thousands of relatives and friends who will be intensely interested in the doings of the men, their assignment to the various centers of trouble and their general welfare. That these thousands of interested people may have the latest and most accurate reports from the field The Gazette has sent staff correspondents with the troops. From these correspondents will be received all that will tell the ones at home what the "boys" are doing, where they are assigned for duty, if accidents befall them, in fact, everything that will make the reports equivalent to a letter from the absent one. Not only will this be so of the regiments from Pittsburgh and Allegheny, but also of those from the entire western part of the state. If you want to read the news from the guardsmen you must get The Gazette.

PITTSBURGH MEN CHARGE LARCENY

CLAIM LOSS OF $68,000

He Says It Is Fight to Prevent Being Frozen Out by Local Capitalists—Wife Occupies Cell With Him.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Youngstown, O., Oct. 7.—John M. Evans of Phoenix, Ariz., president of the Keystone Copper and Gold Mining Company of Arizona, was arrested here this evening on a telegram sent from Pittsburgh, charging him with the larceny of $68,000 from the company.

Among the complainants are the old board of directors, among whom are Charles P. McLean, former president, who is president of the Lincoln National bank of Pittsburgh; W. S. Wilson, J. W. Smith, W. S. Huselton, S. Strausburger, W. J. Strausburger and J. H. Utley, all of Pittsburgh. Requisition papers will be sent here from Pittsburgh tomorrow, but they will be fought by Evans.

Evans came here to organize a new company with Pittsburgh and Cleveland men. He was followed by Strausburger. It is charged that he was supplied with the money to purchase a new group of mines, and that after he had purchased them at $45,000 he refused to turn over the deed to the property.

Evans' Story of Trouble.

"I do not deny that the deed belongs to the company, and it will be turned over to them as soon as the company fulfills its agreement with me," said Evans tonight. "The company was organized with $1,250,000 capital. I hold 58,000 shares of stock, the majority that is held outside of the treasury stock. I bought the Great Scott group for $45,000 and 4,000 shares of stock in the Keystone company. After I had purchased them the company decided to take them off my hands, paying for them by the sale of treasury stock. We subscribed $35,000 worth of treasury stock, but after I had left the meeting they refused to deliver it. They borrowed $15,000 and took money out of the treasury to pay for the mines, thus not living up to the agreement.

"In September of last year they refused to forward the payroll, amounting to $4,000. I closed down the mine and paid the men myself. Since then it has cost me considerable to keep the mines in shape, keeping down water, etc., and they now owe me $12,000. I found out that they were trying to freeze me out, and I bought up the $4,000 paid on the purchase of the other property.

Kept Out of Pennsylvania.

"Last June we elected a new board of directors in Arizona, where the office of the company is located, and I was chosen president by a majority of 4,000 shares. The old board still attempts to hold over. I have kept out of Pennsylvania, fearing that they would bring action there, although we have beaten them in the Arizona courts. Strausburger kept all the books of the company in Arizona, and if there is anything wrong about them I do not know it."

Evans has been in Arizona for 16 years. He came from Ohio. Mrs. Evans, who is with her husband, shared his cell at the police station until he was sent to a hotel under a guard.

EMPLOYMENT AGENCY TO BE RUN BY STATE

Poor Director Frank T. Redman Will Have Bill Introduced in Next Legislature.

County Poor Director Frank T. Redman of Braddock is preparing a bill for the next session of the legislature, providing for the establishment of state employment offices, similar to the law which has proven a success in Illinois. The bill will provide for the division of the state into districts, with sub-agencies, and employment will be secured free of cost for working people and employers furnished with help in the same manner.

The proposed bill will go a little further than the one in Illinois inasmuch as homes will also be secured for homeless children by the same agencies.

The bill, while aimed principally to aid the worthy poor, is also intended to eradicate to a great extent some of the employment agencies that are now working and charge from 50 cents to $10 to secure positions for people and like amounts from those seeking help. These establishments are, as a rule, loosely conducted and subject to great evils.

At the next meeting of the Association of Directors of Poor and Charities of Pennsylvania, which will be held in Somerset, Pa., October 15, 16 and 17, he will take the matter up with some of the directors and have them make suggestions.

Mr. Redman was the author of the bill which forbade the insuring of children under 5 years of age, defeated after a hard fight in the legislature two years ago.

NEW DEAL IN COLOMBIA.

Panama Newspaper Proposes a Constitution Like Switzerland's.

PANAMA, Oct. 7.—(Copyright Cable.)—An article in the Spanish section of the Star and Herald suggests a convention composed of an equal number of delegates from the government and the Liberal, or revolutionary party.

Each side should have 20 delegates, who should draft a new constitution analogous to that of Switzerland.

Supplies Ordered from Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The war department today received an order from Gov. Stone of Pennsylvania for 10,000 pairs of shoes and 2,500 blankets to be delivered immediately. The blankets and shoes are available at Philadelphia and New York.

The state of Pennsylvania has exhausted its quota of the appropriation allowed by congress for militia supplies, so that Gov. Stone, though getting the goods at cost price, will have to pay $2 per pair for shoes and $3 50 per pair for the blankets.

First Brigade Moves Today.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—Gen. John W. Schall, commander of the First brigade, with headquarters in this city, today received orders from Gov. Stone to make preparations to send the entire First brigade to the coal regions as quickly as possible. Gen. Schall says his command will leave Philadelphia early tomorrow morning.

Federation of Labor to Speak.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 7.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor today appointed a sub-committee to draft an address to the public on the coal strike situation.

DIED BECAUSE OF GRIEF FOR WIFE

O'NEIL'S STRANGE MALADY STILL MYSTERY.

After Her Death He Refused to Work and Although Apparently Healthy Died Suddenly.

Patrick O'Neil, a coal and iron policeman for 21 years, employed at the Edgar Thomson Steel works at Braddock, died suddenly at Mercy hospital yesterday afternoon, a half hour after his arrival there.

His friends believe he died of grief at the loss of his wife, who died on July 3. He was a strong, hearty man up to that time, but could not be consoled after her death. He lost interest in his work and became melancholy and dispirited and two weeks ago refused to continue at work.

A physician was summoned to see him, who was unable to arouse him, and finally sent him to the hospital. He was taken there in the Edgar Thomson ambulance at 3:30 o'clock and was able to help himself when being taken into the hospital.

He was given a drink of liquor and a few minutes later became unconscious, collapsed and died. A post-mortem examination was held on his body at the morgue and it was said symptoms of typhoid fever were found about his lungs.

John Lawler, who went there to claim the body, stated, however, that he had not been sick and his doctor said he had suffered only from melancholia. O'Neil was 54 years old and lived at No. 12 Wood street, Braddock. He leaves five small children.

BANKERS ASSERT SAFE WAS ROBBED

After a failure to collect from Miliza Stiponak and his wife Ilja a sum of over $700, which their six boarders allege they deposited with the proprietor of the boarding house and his wife, Elijl Monchovitch entered suit for the amount yesterday.

Stiponak and his wife were arrested and taken before Magistrate D. J. McGarey for a preliminary hearing. They were held on the charge of larceny by bailee and sent to jail in default of $500 bail each for a further hearing next Friday.

Stiponak and his wife conduct a boarding establishment on Eighteenth street, near Carson, South Side. They are Slavs and have six Slavish boarders. The proprietor of the house and his wife have been acting as bankers for the boarders, who work in the mills in the South Side, and every month gave up a part of their wages.

The prosecutor alleges that over $700 has been placed in their hands for safe keeping. Much to the surprise of the boarders Stiponak and his wife announced at the breakfast table the other morning that their house had been entered during their absence, the trunk which contined the $700 broken into, and the money stolen.

The boarders refused to believe the report and urged Stiponak and his wife to give up the money, which they refused to do. They reiterated the robbery story and said they did not know anything about the money. The boarders then became suspicious and decided to have the couple arrested.

FIRST COAL IN FOUR MONTHS.

Two Anthracite Carloads Attract Attention en Route.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Two carloads of anthracite coal passed through Fishkill Landing this afternoon. The cars were marked "Rush" and were consigned to President Hall, of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, who lives at New Haven. The cars came through the coal fields at night.

FRENCH COAL STRUGGLE.

General Congress of Miners Summoned and Probably Will Strike.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 7.—In a report to the state department under date of September 15, Consul Brunot at St. Etienne says a congress of coal miners of all France will be held at Commentry early in October. It is expected that a strike will be declared, as there is no probability that the demands for an eight-hour day, increase of wages and several other claims of the miners will be granted.

DUSS OPENS IN BUFFALO.

Carl, Pittsburgh Organist, Dedicates Pan-American Organ.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—John Duss and his band have opened a week's engagement at Convention hall.

This evening was also the occasion of the dedication of the Pan-American organ from the Temple of Music, which was given to the city by J. N. Adams. William C. Carl, the Pittsburgh organist, performed this service.

Fifth One Day Late.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Capt. Peter Litzell, Company H, Fifth regiment of Johnstown, has perfected arrangements to respond to the governor's call. He will have his men at the armory tomorrow morning at 6 o'clock and an hour later they will take special cars on the Pennsylvania railroad, on which the Indiana and Blairsville companies will be transported.

BILL IN EQUITY AGAINST ROADS

The Suit Will Be Filed in Philadelphia Today to Force Mining of Coal.

COMBINATION ALLEGED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 7.—Counsel for Frank H. Thompson, a citizen of this commonwealth, will tomorrow in the United States circuit court introduce a bill in equity against the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company, the Central Railroad of New Jersey, the Lehigh Valley railroad, the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad and New York, Ontario & Western railroad.

The bill charges these companies with having formed the illegal combination for the purpose of fixing the price of coal and controlling the coal market and asking the court to declare such combination illegal and restrain the respondents from meeting together for the purpose of fixing the rate at which coal shall be sold.

Application will also be made in behalf of Mr. Thompson, to the attorney general of the state, for a revocation of the charter of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company for alleged violation of the state constitution.

The bill in equity avers that the companies mentioned formed a combination under which the respondents were not to compete with each other, and which regulated prices to be charged for coal at tidewater.

It is charged that the respondents are unwilling and refuse to operate the mines, greatly to the loss of the compainant and in violation of the rights, duties and obligations which the said respondents owe to the public.

KOONTZ STILL ON TICKET

Has Not Withdrawn as Candidate for State Senate—Citizens Ticket Named.

MYERSDALE, PA., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—The report sent out from Somerset yesterday that Gen. Koontz had withdrawn as a candidate on the Citizens ticket for the office of state senator of this district is denied this evening by the leaders of the Citizens movement. The Democratic nominee, Alexander B. Groff, withdrew in favor of Gen. Koontz, whose candidacy was accepted by the party in the three counties composing the district. He will also, by nomination papers filed at Harrisburg, become the candidate of the Citizens party of this county. Allen F. Cooper of Uniontown, the candidate of John S. Weller, is acceptable for the legislature, but instead of L. C. Lambert, Quemahoning township, the name of W. H. Saner of Somerset was substituted.

The following Citizens county ticket was filed on nomination papers with the county commissioners today: Sheriff, William S. Barefoot, Windber; prothonotary, J. C. Harding, Windber; recorder of deeds, Daniel Keller, Somerset; clerk of courts, John Johnston, Shade township; county treasurer, Harvey Hay, Salsbury; commissioner, Joseph Miller, Jefferson township; auditor, Frank Gilbert, Somerset.

HOW TO SELECT A PIANO

Experience Not Necessary.

Pittsburgh, October 7.—Few people realize the importance in the selection of a piano for their home. It means a companion for a lifetime. If it becomes harsh or "tinpanny" in tone, you will always be dissatisfied. If you select a world-renowned make, like the genuine Chickering or the old reliable Hardman piano you are sure to have a standard make with a sweet, singing, poetic and mellow tone that will last a lifetime. These pianos are sold only by Frederick's Reliable Music Store, 623 Smithfield street. Also 10 other reliable makes at reasonable prices. Art catalogue free. Largest selection of pianos in Pittsburgh. Entire building. Bargains in used Chickering, Hardman, Steinway Baby Grand and Upright Pianos. G. Schroeder, Mgr.

RHEUMATIC REMEDY

is a famous prescription which we have dispensed for over twenty-five years. We do not know of a Rheumatic remedy that meets the requirements of this section as this one does.

In cases of Muscular, Inflammatory or Sciatic Rheumatism it invariably relieves in a few days, and one or two bottles generally effects a cure. We have the record of several cases that were entirely relieved by this remedy after trying almost everything else and suffering for years. It certainly is worthy of a trial. Price, $1.00 per bottle. MACHINE SEEKS SINEWS OF WAR

City and County Employes Again Held Up for Campaign Fund.

NO COMPROMISE MADE

Citizens and Democrats Fail to Agree on Legislative Nominees. Flinn Tells Pattison That Republican Majority Will Be Low.

A letter, signed by Recorder Brown, as machine city chairman, and Robertson, as county chairman, has been sent to all city and county employes, asking them to contribute toward the election of the machine county ticket. Among other things, the letter says: "Donations from the sum of $5 upwards would be greatly appreciated, and if responded to by a number of Republicans to whom this letter is addressed, would be sufficient to secure a Republican victory for all the candidates." Of course, the request is a veiled threat, and refusal means discharge, wherever possible.

It is reported that ex-Senator Flinn has assured R. E. Pattison that the Republican state ticket will not receive more than 5,000 majority at the election. Flinn, it is thought, expects that the Ballot Reform party, with Pattison at the head of the state ticket, will poll nearly all the machine votes in the county. There is a good deal of bitterness against Flinn, and the rank and file of the machine will vote the straight ticket.

Three Tickets in Third.

A committee representing the Citizens party and another committee representing the Democrats of the Third legislative district again failed a compromise yesterday. In consequence three tickets will be run in the district. The Citizens party is confident that it can elect its candidates without the aid of the Democrats.

The Citizens committee on meetings and speakers is meeting almost daily in Chairman Cadwallader Evans' office in the Bakewell building. Every borough, township and hamlet in the county has sent requests for meetings and the committee is busy arranging the dates and assigning the speakers. Nearly a half-dozen meetings will be held nightly between now and election day.

There was a big Citizens meeting in Natrona last night. C. H. Stengel, Thomas M. Brown, George Shiras and William S. Woods spoke. A meeting was held in Maennerchor hall, Thirty-fifth ward. For tonight Citizens meetings are scheduled at Swissvale, Homestead and Braddock. Tomorrow night there will be meetings at the Moorhead school, Eleventh ward, in the Carnegie auditorium in Braddock, in Turner hall in Forbes street, in Glassport, in the Fifteenth ward and in Schwerd's hall, Allegheny.

The Democratic committee on meetings and speakers has arranged for the following evening meetings: October 10, Sharpsburg, town hall; Carnegie, White's hall, Y. M. I. hall, Shaw avenue, McKeesport, October 11, Riverside public school, Thirty-fourth ward, October 14, Sixth ward public school, Allegheny; October 18, Wickersham school, Twenty-fourth ward; Penn hall, Wilkinsburg; Kean's auditorium, Seventeenth ward.

The Ballot Reform party will hold its first meeting in Speck's hall, Hazelwood, tonight.

Speaking by Daluzell.

The Republican county committee has made arrangements with Congressman Dalzell to address four meetings in the county. The first will be held at Carnegie Music hall, Schenley park, October 24, on which occasion Senator Quay will be present. The second will be held in Verona on October 27, the third at White's opera house, McKeesport, October 29, and the last on November 1 in Carnegie Music hall, Braddock.

Other machine meetings will be held tonight in the public school hall, Brushton avenue, Thirty-seventh ward; in the Fifth Avenue opera house, Homestead; at Rose street school, Thirteenth ward on October 13; in Liberty hall, Kerr and Petrie streets, Ninth ward, Allegheny, on October 16; in the Sixth ward public school hall, Allegheny, October 31; at Glenshaw public hall, October 21; in Webster public hall, second district of Plum township, October 10.

Big Improvement Started.

The Pittsburgh Railways Company yesterday put a large force of men to work in West Homestead making changes in the Homestead division of the United Traction Company. The work includes the opening of a new street, the construction of a large viaduct, the paving of Eighth avenue from Hays to Sarah street, of duncan street from Sarah to Seventh avenue, and Seventh avenue to its junction with Eighth, and the removal of tracks from Eighth to Seventh avenue and Junction street. The change will give both the borough and the street railway a straight, even-paved street the entire length of the town. The changes will cost about $200,000.

St. John's Turned Down.

At the meeting of the public works committee of Allegheny councils last night the ordinance providing for furnishing St. John's hospital with free lights was by a vote of 10 to 3 returned to councils with a negative recommendation.

Hotel Victoria serves the best business men's lunch for 50c. Try it.

THE WEATHER.

Fair and warm conditions are predicted for Pittsburgh and vicinity for the next two days by the Washington bureau. For a few hours yesterday morning there was bright sunshine, but toward noon the sky became clouded and the rest of the day was of the gloomy type. The temperature remained low during the afternoon and the atmosphere was cool. The maximum was 62 degrees and the minimum 52.

THE PITTSBURGH PRESBYTERY MET

An Interesting Session Was Held in Wilkinsburg Church.

MANY REPORTS READ

Progress in Every Branch of Church Work Outlined—Plans for Raising $50,000 Mission Fund.

The Pittsburgh presbytery held an interesting meeting in the Wilkinsburg Presbyterian church yesterday. The Rev. Jesse L. Cotton of Coraopolis, the moderator, presided. The Rev. Dr. W. L. Fulton presented the report of the committee on freedmen.

During the last year $10,369 50 had been contributed by the churches in the presbytery, this being $521 48 less than the previous year. The headquarters of the board is in Pittsburgh, the Rev. H. T. McClelland, president, and the Rev. E. P. Cowan, secretary. Last year the entire amount turned over to the board by all the churches in the country was $186,000, an increase of $22,000 over that of the previous year.

The Rev. S. T. Brown was accepted as a member of the presbytery. He comes from St. Clairsville, O., and announced to presbytery his acceptance of the joint call from Finleyville and Mingo Junction congregations. An adjourned meeting of the presbytery will be held in the Finleyville church on October 21 at 9:30 a. m. to ordain the Rev. Brown, and at 11 o'clock a. m. the same day, he will be installed as pastor of the Finleyville congregation.

Second Installation.

At 2 o'clock p. m. the installation services in the Mingo Junction church will take place. The Rev. H. H. McMasters, formerly of the Baltimore presbytery, was accepted as a member of presbytery.

The committee on the board of aid for colleges reported that $26,445 had been contributed last year, as compared with $7,404 the year before. Out of 3,000 students in the colleges last year, there were 147 conversions and 121 candidates for the ministry.

The Rev. Dr. R. S. Holmes presented the report of the committee on Presbyterian missions. The urgent need of funds to promote the mission work in the presbytery was referred to, and it was estimated that $50,000 should be raised at once. The committee met to take steps to raise this amount after the presbytery adjourned. The committee has consisted of 18 members, and its increase to 23 members was decided upon. The Rev. Dr. F. W. Sneed was appointed to the place on the committee made vacant by the death of the Rev. Dr. J. J. Beacom, and the Rev. Drs. C. P. Cheesman, Thomas Farry and H. W. Wycoff and Wilson A. Ingram and James L. Buchanon were added to the committee.

Increased Contributions.

The Rev. W. L. McEwan in the report of the committee on systematic beneficence stated that $667.145 had been contributed by the churches in the presbytery during the year. This was $27 79 for each member and shows an increase of about 25 per cent over the previous year. The Rev. J. F. Hill reported for the committee on temperance, and the Rev. Dr. W. P. Shrom for the committee on young people's societies.

The Rev. G. P. Atwell refused the call of the imperial congregation and will remain in charge of the Riverside church. The presbytery passed a resolution urging the synod, which meets on October 16, in Allegheny, to elect the Rev. Jesse L. Cotton as permanent clerk. The latter has been acting clerk since the death of the Rev. Dr. J. J. Beacom.

The presbytery adjourned to meet on the second Tuesday in November at the First Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh. The revision of articles of confession which was expected to come up yesterday will be acted upon then.

About 130 ministers and elders were present at the meeting called to devise plans for raising $50,000 for the work of extending the missions in this presbyterial district. The Rev. Dr. Joseph Duff presided, and addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. William L. McEwan on "The Object of the Meeting," the Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander on "The Work to Be Done," the Rev. Dr. R. S. Holmes on "The Plan Proposed." A systematic effort will at once be made among the various congregations to raise the needed amount. The Rev. Dr. George W. Chalfant will make a canvass of the churches, under the supervision of the committee on presbyterial missions.

POLITICAL THUGS MAYER'S ASSAILANTS

Men Who Are Responsible for His Death Well-Known to Allegheny Police.

The assailants of Albert Mayer, who was found unconscious in East Robinson street, Allegheny, early Sunday morning and died at the Allegheny General hospital later, are well-known to the Allegheny police. It is said these persons will not be placed in custody for political reasons. Detective James Steele and Thomas J. O'Brien have been working on the case and traced Mayer's movements on that morning, in several well-known speakeasies in the Fourth ward.

The officers have all along been trying to give the impression that Mayer was a victim of alcoholism and heart disease. It has been learned from the dead man's wife that he was not a drinking man nor afflicted with heart disease. Mrs. Mayer says she has every reason to believe that her husband was a victim of several political thugs of the Fourth ward of that city, who had a motive for assaulting him.

Mayer not only had his skull fractured, but his eye was blackened and he was bruised about the shoulders and arms. The detectives say they have been investigating the case and are convinced Mayer did not meet with foul play.

Mayer was employed as a foreman in the Allegheny plant of the Westinghouse electrical works, and was paid off on last Saturday afternoon. He had $62 with him when he left the foundry. There was nothing found on his person by the police when he was picked up in East Robinson street. The residents of the Fourth ward say that Mayer was murdered. Coroner Jesse M. McGeary decided yesterday to postpone the inquest in the case, pending further investigation.

PEACE PIPE SMOKED.

Tobacco Combines Celebrate Conclusion of Trade War.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—(Copyright Cable.)—Pipes of peace were smoked tonight to celebrate the conclusion of the great tobacco war.

A dinner was given by James B. Duke, president of the American Tobacco Company, to the new British-American Tobacco Company in the Carlton hotel. Both conversation and speeches were fraternal in tone, and also showed the determination of the allied trusts to capture the tobacco trade of the world.

CLAIMS HALF MILLION.

Cook County Treasurer and Bondsmen Sued by City of Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Corporation Counsel Walker for the city of Chicago, has brought suit against County Treasurer Samuel B. Raymond and his bondsmen to recover damages for interest alleged to have been withheld from the city.

He alleges the total damages will reach $327,000.

Must Come to Washington.

BERNE, Oct. 7.—The federal council has notified Dr. C. D. Bourcard, minister of Switzerland at London, who is disinclined to leave that post, that its decision to appoint him Swiss minister at Washington is unalterable and that it is useless to ask for a further reconsideration of the appointment.

CONTEST FOR THE LIBRARIAN'S JOB

DALZELL IS THE MAN, DEFEATING BLAISDELL.

Library Committee's Report Is Turned Down by School Board.

A lively contest occurred last night at the regular monthly meeting of the board of school controllers of Allegheny over the election of a librarian of the public school library, to succeed the late Mr. Benny. The committee on library at its last meeting unanimously nominated Frederick W. Blaisdell for librarian. Since that meeting D. O. Dalzell of Allegheny came out for the office and made a vigorous canvass.

When the report of the library committee came up for consideration last night Dr. S. S. Woodburn moved its adoption. A. C. Latimer and William Eichenlaub opposed the adoption of the report, saying that there was another candidate who had got no recognition before the committee. Mr. Latimer nominated Mr. Dalzell. Dr. Woodburn said that Mr. Blaisdell was a college graduate and thoroughly equipped for the position. Miss Kate McKnight said to be a librarian was a profession, and Mr. Blaisdell had made a study of that profession. Mr. Latimer contended that Dalzell was an Alleghenian, who, while not a college graduate, was thoroughly competent to hold the office. Mr. Latimer's motion to nominate Dalzell carried and the result was Dalzell, 41; Blaisdell, 23. The salary is $1,000 a year.

The officers of the board of control were instructed to issue $125,000 bonds for the annex to the High school building, and Superintendent of Schools John Morrow was authorized to employ a clerk in his office at $40 a month. Miss Irene E. McDermott was elected teacher of domestic science in the Second ward, and Miss Grace Woodward a teacher of cooking and sewing in the Fourth ward. Lida M. MacKeever and Frances Johnston were elected teachers in the Eleventh ward, and Eleanore Dietrich in the Thirteenth ward.

APPEAL TO GRAND JURY.

Kentucky Judge Calls for Investigation of Trust Phase of the Coal Situation in Covington.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Judge Tarvin today asked the Kenton county (Ky.) grand jury to investigate the local coal situation in Covington, to learn whether there is a combination among dealers to put up prices. Judge Tarvin declared coal prices in Covington are out of all reason and asked that the trust feature be carefully looked into.

"I want to call your attention," he said, "to the statutes on trusts and combinations. They are very strict and severe. I don't know of any such trust in Covington, unless it should develop that the coal dealers of the city have combined. It is certainly your duty to investigate, to find out whether they have an agreement to fix the price of coal. If so, it is your duty, and should be your pleasure, to indict."

THE DAY'S HAPPENINGS.

—Fourteen cases of typhoid fever, one of scarlet fever and four of diphtheria were reported to the bureau of health yesterday.

—There were 122 deaths in the city last week, the principal causes being: Smallpox, six; typhoid fever, nine; diphtheria, five; pneumonia, 18, and violence, 10.

—Emma Kendall, colored, who shot John Kendall at their home, No. 13 Third avenue, late Monday night, was held in $1,000 bail yesterday morning at Central police station. She refused to explain how the shooting occurred.

—Mrs. Stella Huckestein, a daughter-in-law of John Huckestein, the Allegheny brick manufacturer, while returning home from Philadelphia, wandered from the train at Harrisburg, where she was found and her family notified.

—Joseph Mullen, 50 years old, of No. 7 Dyke street, Glenwood, a carpenter employed on a new building in Greenfield avenue, fell from the third floor to the sidewalk, a distance of 30 feet, yesterday afternoon. His right arm was broken and he received serious internal injuries.

—Joseph Brown was fined $5 at Central station yesterday morning. It is alleged that while under the influence of liquor at Penn and Grant street early in the morning he objected to Ada Smith, colored, sitting at his table and knocked her down, when she took offense at his remarks.

NEIGHBORS MEET NEXT GOVERNOR

SPEAKS IN COATESVILLE

He Compliments That Town by Calling It the Pittsburgh of the East—Rattling Speeches by Gen. Bingham and Mr. Burk.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Coatesville, Pa., Oct. 7.—Brawny ironworkers, sturdy farmers and prosperous merchants of Chester valley touched elbows tonight and cheered for protection, prosperity and Pennypacker. Ex-Judge Pennypacker tonight was in the home of his friends, and his welcome was all that the most exacting could desire.

A reception at the Speakman house, where crowds shook hands with their old neighbor, the next governor of Pennsylvania, was followed by an enthusiastic meeting in the opera house.

On his arrival here this morning Judge Pennypacker was met by a committee headed by Burgess W. A. P. Thompson. A delegation from West Chester, led by T. Larry Eyre, called upon him.

Richard D. Gibney, a former Democrat, but now a sturdy advocate of protection and prosperity, presided over a meeting which was addressed by Judge Pennypacker, Gen. Bingham, Congressman Henry Burk of Philadelphia and Ex-District Attorney W. I. Shaffer of Delaware. In the course of his remarks Judge Pennypacker referred to the thriving town of Coatesville as the Pittsburgh of the east.

Comparison of States.

He urged that the only way to judge the merits of the Republican party is by what the party has done. He then compared the management of the southern Democratic states with that of the advanced Republican states of the north. He told how in the Democratic states voters were disfranchised because of their political beliefs; the states were in debt; life and liberty only partly protected, and northerners could not help but look with horror upon scenes equal to those of the dark ages which are enacted daily there.

Judge Pennypacker was liberally applauded, as was Gen. Bingam, the next speaker. He congratulated Chester county for returning to congress such an able representative as Thomas Butler.

The general went on to show how Democratic national success, with its consequent hard times, followed the two elections of Pattison to the gubernatorial chair, gave the country a Democratic congress and the disastrous Wilson tariff bill.

"We are going to elect the whole ticket,' said he. "There is no objectionable man on it, unless from a Democratic standpoint, because it contains the names of two soldiers."

A Characterization of Democracy.

There was vociferous applause as Gen. Bingham closed, and Congressman Henry Burk was introduced. Mr. Burk explained the misstatements and abuse of the Democratic croakers, and pronounced the Democracy "a party of fallacies; an annex of the Greenback party; a chum of the anti-imperialists; the cause of the most disastrous financial and business depression the country ever knew; and having now exhausted every old fallacy, and not daring to meet the voters on national issues, is crying reform and clean politics with the same old Democratic bray from the same old Democratic mule."

The meeting closed with rattling speeches by Mr. Shaffer and Representative Thomas E. Lack, a reception to the candidate and three cheers for the whole ticket. The party left at midnight for Altoona, where there will be a reception tomorrow afternoon and a meeting in the evening.

DAMROSCH A STRONG EXPO ATTRACTION

The Pittsburgh exposition season has only 10 days remaining. The latest musical attraction, the Damrosch orchestra, is developing drawing powers wholly unexpected. Four superb programs were played yesterday.

Among today's choice selections will be a violin solo by Mr. Mannes, the prelude from "The Deluge," the andante from Beethoven's world famed Fifth symphony and gems from Verdi's grand "Aida."

Miss Anna Bussert, the beautiful soprano soloist with the orchestra, can feel highly flattered at the deep impression her singing has made. In the Carmen aria last night and again in German's "Lavender Song" she developed a beauty of tone, coupled to tremendous volume in climaxes that took her audience by surprise and then by storm. The program for this afternoon follows:

2 P. M.

Overture—"Stradella" ..... Flotow
Concerto for strings in G ..... Bach
(a) Song from "The Trumpeter of Sakkingen" ..... Bungert
(b) Serenade ..... Moskowski
"The Dragon Fly," polka-mazurka ..... Strauss
Slavonic dances ..... Dvorak

4 P. M.

(a) "Cavalry Ride" ..... Rubinstein
(b) Melody in F ..... Rubinstein
Soprano solo—Waltz "Paria" ..... Arditi
Miss Anna Bussert.
Andante from Symphony V ..... Beethoven
Waltz—"Dreams on the Ocean" ..... Gung'l
Prelude from "The Deluge" ..... Saint-Saens
(Violin solo—Mr. David Mannes.)
March ..... Von Blon

PITTSBURGHER GETS DAMAGES.

W. H. Brown Awarded $5,000 in Suit of Long Standing.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—(Special)—Attorney M. F. Boyd, master commissioner in the case of W. H. Brown, a Pittsburgh coal operator, against the city of Cincinnati, which has been in the federal courts since 1870, filed his report today, awarding Brown $5,000 for damages done his coal docks by the building of the East End sewer.

The original suit was for about $60,000 damages. The master commissioner was appointed in 1885, and has been hearing evidence and filing reports ever since.

Used Unique Weapons.

The junior and freshmen classes of the dental department of the Western University of Pennsylvania yesterday had their annual fight over the class flag in the building at Penn avenue and Tenth street. The juniors, who guarded the flag, had several bags of plaster of paris and a barrel of water, which they hurled at the attacking party. At noon those who took part in the fight and were covered with hard plaster of paris paraded the downtown streets.

French Miners Striking.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—Thirty-six thousand miners have ceased work in the Pas de Calais region. Large numbers of troops are arriving at all threatened points. Several minor disturbances have been reported, but no serious trouble has as yet occurred.

Never Dreamed of Trouble.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Abraham Freimann, an importer of diamonds, reported to the police today that 10 packages of unset diamonds, valued at $18,000, were taken from beneath the pillow on which he was sleeping some time last night.

TEMPORARY LOAN IS RECOMMENDED

Finance Committee of Councils Takes Step to Provide Against Expected Deficit.

The Pittsburgh councils' committee on finance met last evening and affirmatively recommended the ordinance authorizing a temporary loan to be made to meet a deficit that is likely to occur in the city treasury. Some of the members were inclined to wait till the deficit was apparent, but the majority regarded it as a precautionary measure which should be taken in time.

An ordinance authorizing the payment of $1,132 35 to the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company was affirmatively recommended in order to let councils pass upon the matter. The bill was for telephones used by the bureau of fire during the past year, and if it is passed other bills amounting to $8,200 will be presented. The ordinance was opposed by some on the ground that the original ordinance granting the company the right to use streets contained a proviso that telephones for the city be furnished free. Later an ordinance specifying that only 70 telephones be furnished free was passed by common council, but died with last year's select council. Councils will decide whether the original ordinance is to be enforced or not.

Other measures affirmatively recommended were ordinances transferring $3,000 from the repairing fund to an appropriation for paving a portion of Boggs avenue, and transferring $30,000 from the contingent fund to the bureau of health.

An ordinance authorizing the payment of $2,197 05, expenses arising from the Fourth of July celebration, was laid over for further information.

MORE INQUIRY IN THE DIAMOND WIDENING.

Public Works Committee Sends Matter to Special Committee—Carnahan Fears Great Cost.

At a meeting of the public works committee of Pittsburgh councils last evening the ordinance repealing an ordinance for the widening of Diamond alley was referred to a special committee of three for further investigation. City Solicitor T. D. Carnahan was present and informed the committee that in his judgment the ordinance should pass, as he believed that when the viewers' reports were filed in court the abutting property owners would appeal and the city would be put to a great cost.

A resolution authorizing the payment of $1,890 for diving work at the Brilliant pumping station was referred to a special committee to investigate, as was a resolution authorizing the payment of $750 for expert service in examining into the condition of the old South Tenth street bridge. In the latter case the objection was raised by Daniel S. Crawford, who thought the bill was excessive.

Measures affirmatively recommended were as follows:

HOMESTEAD'S DEBT IS OVER THE LIMIT

Sensation Was Sprung at Council Meeting Last Night—Matter May Go to Court.

A sensation was sprung at a meeting of Homestead council last night when Chairman John F. Hill of the finance committee read a statement that the borough is up to its limit in debt. An issue of $164,000 bonds was recently voted for the purpose of taking care of the debt, which cannot be placed at present owing to the money stringency.

A petition containing several thousand names was presented, asking for the improvement of the Second ward engine house. Mr. Hill said the borough was at the end of its string. He called upon Solicitor McConegly to verify his statement, which Mr. McConegly did. Members favoring the matter took the stand that as the borough had been issuing certificates of indebtedness, which bear 5 per cent interest, these could be issued for the improvement, and the matter was passed by a vote of 7 to 4. The property committee was instructed to advertise for bids, but Mr. Hill served notice that if it were done he would take the matter into court and hold each of the members responsible for the amount involved.

A resolution adopted by the finance committee was presented calling for a stoppage of the issuing of certificates of debt and that those on hand be destroyed. The resolution was adopted. These certificates have been issued for four years.

NEWS FROM THE SUBURBS.

An independent military company, to be known as the Homestead infantry, is being formed. A meeting will be held October 20 to complete the organization.

The Homestead school board yesterday decided to take vigorous steps to compel vaccination of the school children.

O. K. Milliken, a conductor on the Homeville branch of the Pittsburgh Railways lines, entered suit against two women before Justice Giles of Homestead yesterday for an unusual cause. The women are Eleanore and Jane Oswald, whom Milliken charges with disorderly conduct, alleging that because his car carried them past the place they wanted to get off, they tongue-lashed him unmercifully. They will be given a hearing tonight.

Both station buildings at Copeland, on the Pennsylvania railroad, were entered by thieves yesterday morning and $1 60 in pennies, a number of tickets and a clerk's revolver were stolen and the entire contents of the ticket agent's office scattered over the floor.

The paint and wall paper store of B. M. Smith at No. 623 Braddock avenue, Braddock, was wrecked yesterday morning by the breaking of the shelves on which were piled several hundred cans of paint, causing a loss of $700.

Millvale council last evening appointed a committee to wait on the local representative of the Wellington Pump Company, with reference to the pumping apparatus which that company installed for the borough, which is not working properly. A communication from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company said that the blocking of the railroad crossing on Bridge street, near Bennett station, would be investigated and remedied.

CHURCH BURNED LAST MORTGAGE

West End Methodist Church Is Now Free from Debt.

JOHN A. WOOD'S GIFT

Seventy-Ninth Annual Session of Pittsburgh Conference Opens Today—Over 230 Ministers Are Expected to Attend.

A $9,000 mortgage, creased and crumpled with much handling, blazed up on the pulpit stand of the West End Methodist Episcopal church last night in evidence of the successful efforts of that congregation to rid the church of debt. It was a notable triumph for the 800 or more persons who compose the congregation and the Sunday school. They were there in force to celebrate their financial independence, and with them were many members of the Pittsburgh conference, who had come to attend the regular sessions of that body beginning today.

The burning of the mortgage was preceded by an elaborate program. Former pastors of the church vied with each other in relating amusing anecdotes of their pastorates and paying feeling tribute to members who had served the church long and faithfully. Dr. H. C. Beacom of Natrona, who as a preacher-foreman "bossed" the work of building the church in 1888, touched upon the incidents of that period in a most amusing way. The Rev. Dr. S. T. Mitchell of Johnstown, a former pastor, and the Rev. Dr. T. N. Boyle, presiding elder of this district, were there to congratulate the congregation on their thrifty habits. Many touching reminiscences of the old place of worship were recalled by John A. Hollingshead of Homestead, who attended the West End church 53 years ago.

Sang the Doxology Twice.

After the talking Capt. J. A. Woods, whose generosity made it possible to liquidate the debt at this time, took the mortgage and prepared to burn it. "This church owes me nothing," he said. "On the contrary, I fell tonight that I owe all my worldly goods to it. And now as these papers go up in smoke may all except that which is pure and good depart from our hearts."

The congregation rose to witness the burning of the mortgage and gave vent to their joyful feelings by twice singing the doxology. A few loud peals from the church bell and the familiar Chautauqua salute completed a ceremony that was full of meaning to the hundreds of persons who had sacrificed much to pay for their handsome church edifice.

The Rev. Dr. C. W. Smith, editor of the Christian Advocate, presided until the mortgage was produced, when the pastor, the Rev. George W. Terbuch, was called to the chair. Since June 15 Dr. Terbush and his congregation have raised $10,188, of which Capt. J. A. Wood gave $5,000. The church cost $40,000. The committee having charge of the final ceremony were Capt. J. A. Wood, T. P. Hershberger and the Rev. Dr. H. C. Beacom.

Opening of the Conference.

The seventy-ninth annual session of the Pittsburgh conference of the Methodist Episcopal church is expected to be one of the most important held for years. All the meetings, except the lay conference, will be held in the West End church, where elaborate preparations have been made to entertain the ministers. Of the 250 preachers in the conference, it is expected that at least 230 will be on hand today.

The official program for today is as follows: 1 p. m., board of examiners will meet in the Epworth league room; 2:30 to 5 p. m., reception committee will direct preachers to their places of entertainment; 7:30, addresses of welcome by John Weaver, the Revs. E. R. Donehoo, W. R. Thompson, T. J. Gaehr and R. R. Davidson; responses by J. W. Milese and H. L. Chapman. Capt. John A. Wood will preside.

Indians Will Make Music.

A novel feature in connection with the religious meeting which will be held on Sunday afternoon in the Bijou theater in charge of the Rev. S. Edward Young, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, will be the Carlisle Indian band. The band will make its first and only appearance in Pittsburgh on Sunday.

A great many colds originate in the throat. Before they go down on the Lungs, Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant will often effect a cure.

CATARRH IS THE CAUSE OF MOST KIDNEY DISEASES

Pe-ru-na Cures Catarrh.

Samuel R. Sprecher, Junior Beadle Court Angelina, 3422 I. O. O. F., 205 New High St., Los Angeles, Cal., writes:

"I came here a few years ago suffering with catarrh of the kidneys, in search of health. I thought the climate would cure me, but found I was mistaken, but what the climate could not do Peruna could and did do. Seven weeks' trial convinced me that I had the right medicine and I was then a well man. I know of at least twenty friends and members of the lodge to which I belong who have been cured of catarrh, bladder and kidney trouble through the use of Peruna, and it has a host of friends in this city."—Samuel R. Sprecher.

Catarrh of the Kidneys a Common Disease — Kidney Trouble Often Fails to Be Regarded as Catarrh By Physicians.

Catarrh of the kidneys is very common indeed. It is a pity this fact is not better known to the physicians as well as the people.

People have kidney disease. They take some diuretic, hoping to get better. They never once think of catarrh. Kidney disease and catarrh are seldom associated in the minds of the people, and alas, it is not very often associated in the minds of the physicians. Too few physicians recognize catarrh of the kidneys. They doctor for something else. They try this remedy and that remedy. The trouble may be catarrh all the time. A few bottles of Peruna would cure them.

Thousands of Testimonials.

Thousands of testimonials from people who have had kidney disease which had gone beyond the control of the physicians, are received by Dr. Hartman every year, giving Peruna the whole praise for marvelous cures.

Pe-ru-na Cures Kidney Disease.

Peruna cures kidney disease. The reason it cures kidney disease is because it cures catarrh. Catarrh of the kidneys is the cause of most kidney disease. Peruna cures catarrh, wherever it happens to be located. It rarely fails.

President Louisiana Commercial Club.

Hon. William Watson Washburn, President of the Louisiana Commercial Club and a very well-known man of New Orleans, La., writes from 637 Canal street:

"I am satisfied that there is not a finer medicine placed before the public today than Peruna. I have been troubled for nearly twelve years with kidney and liver trouble, and at times I have been a pretty sick man unable to attend to my duties.

"I had about made up my mind that no medicine could help me when one of your booklets was brought to my office, which I read in a leisure hour. I then decided to give Peruna a trial and found that I had at last secured the right medicine for me.

"For two months I used it faithfully and then felt so well that I was like a young man once more. This was over a year ago and I have not had any trouble since.

"Although I am in the seventies, I feel better and more active that I did thirty years ago."—W. W. Washburn.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

R·I·P·A·N·S

I had been troubled for the past year with dizziness and palpitation of the heart superinduced by a severe attack of indigestion. I was treated for some time by my family physician without any apparent relief. A friend recommended me to try Ripans Tabules. I did so without anticipating any good therefrom, but I am now so happy that I am recommending the Tabules to all my friends.

Great Selling of Women's Suits.

No plainer or more forceful English could be used to describe the way women came for those suits that we announced yesterday morning.

You were told they were from 25 to 35 per cent under the regular price, as well as how they came to be sold for that discount.

You found everything correctly stated.

Some wanted $20 suits, others $25 and $30, still others the finest in the lot—and each selection was a strong verification of the less prices for good things in this store and the scope of its variety.

For today additions have come to hand, and women who want something fine, with not much to pay, can be entirely satisfied, even to the most particular.

As we have said, they are sample suits. Many are entirely lined with silk. The materials are cheviot, broadcloth, zibeline, Scotch mixtures and pleasing novelty weaves. There are black and solid colors, as well as those popular mixtures known as mannish effects.

The styles of Jackets are blouse, new long hip-seam coat, the staple little fly-fronts, tight-fitting and various other novelty effects. The sleeves in the jackets are copies of Paris and Vienna extremes, modified to meet American views, comprising such sleeve novelties as the new Bishop Puff, the Colonial, the DuBarry, and the Iris.

They will be sold for $15 and along to $50, although they are worth from $25 to $70.

By the way, we brought out something yesterday afternoon that the town hasn't got yet. It will have it later after we have exploited it.

New Velvet Shirtwaist Dress

which is the hobby of the hour. Just a few days ago some Pittsburg ladies back from a trip remarked in chorus (they were so full of the idea) that it was impossible to walk a block in New York without seeing one or more of these very handsome and practical suits.

The "wink and nod" proverb came to mind—and the suits are here.

Pretty Persian Rugs in Carpet Sizes.

One-Third Off.

We have picked out a number of Persian Muskebad Rugs and offer them today at one-third less their usual prices.

They are a fine study, both in style and color, and to make the matter quite intelligent to everyone details are given.

No. 2877 is 11 feet by 8 feet 6 inches in size. It has an ivory ground with a medallion center, and a border relieved by small effects. The former price was $145—the price now is $96.67.

No. 2859 is 10 feet by 9 feet 10 inches in size. A soft red, and exceedingly well covered design. Splendid rug for the office or for the den. The price was $100—the price now is $66.67.

No. 2887 is 10 feet 8 inches by 7 feet in size. A rich yellow ground with an excellent design harmonizing. The border is a Persian mixed effect. The former price was $125—the price now is $83.34.

No. 3364 is 10 feet 8 inches by 5 feet 2 inches in size. It has a red center covered with a Persian design, something that is unique. It is a splendid office rug. The former price was $145—the price now is $96.67.

No. 3300 is 10 feet by 8 feet 6 inches in size. A yellow medallion center with a rich Persian border. A fine rug for a small parlor. The former price was $125—the price now is $83.34.

No. 2918 is 13 feet 9 inches by 10 feet 6 inches in size. A pink medallion center with antique Persian border. A beautiful rug for a bedroom. The former price was $215—the present price is $144.

No. 2920 is 14 feet by 10 feet 6 inches in size. It is a yellow covered design surrounded by soft red and yellow border. Very good rug for bedroom. The former price was $220—the present price is $146.67.

No. 2882 is 11 feet 3 inches by 9 feet 5 inches in size. A medallion red center with a Persian border of mixed colors. Suitable for either library or den. The former price was $145—the present price is $96.67.

No. 2930 is 10 feet 10 inches by 9 feet 5 inches in size. Medallion red and yellow center and border beautifully blended. Another fine rug for library or den. The former price was $140—the present price is $93.34.

In putting these prices down to the common level of the more common rugs from the Orient, you have an excellent opportunity to judge of the worthy and the unworthy.

Cheviot Dress Skirts $5.

Seven-gored or with flounced wide flare bottom. The lining is finest moire percaline. Tailored as well as any skirt we've ever sold for double the price.

If you will consider for a moment the price of the material, this grade, as well as the lining, and the cost of making, as only a good tailor can make a skirt, you will wonder why we want to lose money.

But we will not lose any money. This price only proves our buying power and readiness of noted manufacturers to make us concessions.

Black Peau de Cygne Waists, $3.90

Worth $6.50.

More of the fruits of a late New York trip. By taking all the maker had the price was made to harmonize with our ideas.

So we say $3.90. Box pleats back and front, with a little yoke of pinch tucks. Stock collar with neat little turn-over relieved on edges by white and black cord.

Inexpensive Dress Goods.

Some 7,000 yards of fine dress Cheviots just received, and we are going to sell them in the same manner in which they were bought—less than usual.

Quite a hobby of ours, this thing of getting nice dress goods for an underprice and then quoting them to you in the same way.

The less prices are, in this case,

New Wraps for Girls.

So many styles that we wouldn't dare undertake to tell of the whole list—for that would fill a page all by itself.

Be content, please, with a hint.

Full length coats for girls 8 to 14. The coats are in red and brown cheviot, trimmed in many pretty ways with braid. $13, $14.50, $15 and up to $25.

Little Girls' full length Coats—4 to 6 years—plain cloths in brown, tan, blue and red. Lined throughout. $7.

At $8.50 Norfolk Jackets of blue cheviot. For girls 6 to 12 years.

At $8.50 Girls'—6 to 12—Monte Carlo Reefers with velvet collar, and trimmed with black hercules braid and fancy buttons. Come in red and blue cheviot.

Good Coffee.

Sometimes you pay the highest price and buy the best-known brands, and then are disappointed with your morning cup. The fault is often in the blending, but oftener in the making and the kind of Coffee Pot you use to make it in.

If you come to our Basement Store we will serve you with a delicious cup of Coffee free, made in an up-to-date Coffee Pot, a coffee we think you will pronounce the best flavor you ever tasted, and made in a pot that has no intricate parts you cannot understand, with sieves and tubes hard to keep clean. It is known as the "Kin-Hee."

Come in and see it, and get a good cup of coffee, for the asking.

PUNXSUTAWNEY CASE HOLDS ITS MYSTERY.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PUNXSUTAWNEY, PA., Oct. 7.—The coroner's jury was in session all day taking testimony on the death of Agnes Tompkins. Nothing was brought out which throws any light on the girl's death. The Stonebreaker girl who, it is said, took a drink from the bottle furnished by L. M. Miller on Saturday night, and who lay in a stupor all day Sunday, has entirely recovered.

Mrs. Hogenlogler, the other victim of the alleged knockout drops, is in a very weak condition and has gone to her sister's home at Dubois. The physicians who held the autopsy have not been called to testify and they will make no statement until they are called before the coroner.

A warrant was sworn out this afternoon by Leroy Tompkins, father of Agnes, charging Miller with assault. Bail was offered, but Justice Corey refused to accept it and the hearing was fixed for Thursday afternoon. The coroner's jury adjourned to meet again October 14, and it is thought that a report of the chemical analysis of the contents of the dead girl's stomach will be known by that time.

McKinley's Barber Dead.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—James T. Cheney, known as "Senator," one of the best-known negro characters, died last night of typhoid fever. Cheney was a barber, and when President McKinley visited here was the only barber in the city who shaved him. He became President McKinley's warm admirer, and at the campaign opening in 1896 went to Canton and sang a composition of his own, "McKinley Will Save the Country." Cheney was born in slavery 59 years ago, in Bowling Green, Ky. He served from 1863 to the end of the war in the Fifth United States cavalry.

Drove Team While Dying.

GREENVILLE, PA., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—J. Wiley Hunter of Sandy Lake township, drove into the yard of his brother at Sandy Lake this morning, dying from a dose of carbolic acid taken with suicidal intent. The lines were grasped so tightly in his hands that his fingers had to be pried open. He died a few moments after being lifted from the buggy.

Death Caused Suspicion.

MONONGAHELA, PA., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Mrs. Alexander Eastman was found dead at her home in Courtney this morning. She lived alone. The house was open and the furniture in disorder. Squire Williams decided to notify the coroner, who will investigate.

Sheriff Hoon's Bill Rejected.

BUTLER, PA., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—The county commissioners today refused to pay Sheriff Hoon's bill for deputies employed during the recent attack upon the jail when an effort was made to lynch Joseph Bennett. Litigation is promised.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

SHARON, PA.—W. G. Hunter, aged 35, of Stoneboro, committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid. He conducted a general store.

NEWARK, O.—Mrs. Elizabeth Tewell, a widow, aged 65, while crossing the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio here, was killed by an engine.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA.—The boiler of the electric light plant here blew up. The machinery and building were damaged. The town is without electric light.

BEAVER FALLS, PA.—Miss Elizabeth McKnight, of this place, a graduate of Geneva college, will leave for Indian Territory as a teacher among the Indians.

SHARON, PA.—Two cars on the Sharon-Wheatland street car line collided at South Sharon. Both were badly damaged, and Conductor Combs was slightly hurt.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—Word has been received here of the conviction and life imprisonment of James Walsher in Oklahoma for the murder four years ago of John F. Stone, a former New Castle man.

BELLEFONTE, PA.—The application for a new trial for Frank Beckwith, convicted of murder in the second degree for killing his wife, was withdrawn, and Judge Love sentenced the prisoner to nine years in the Eastern penitentiary.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—Agents of the Pittsburgh & Western railway are attempting to secure options on all property on the western side of Mercer street, from Grandview avenue to the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh terminal. Their object cannot be learned.

GREENSBURG, PA.—The Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Greensburg Street Railway Company has purchased land in South Greensburg and will erect a car barn 310x85 feet. It will accommodate 30 cars. The barn near Jeannette will be used for storage purposes.

GREENSVILLE, PA.—Mrs. Charles Smith attempted suicide for the fourth time by cutting her throat. The knife was taken away from her and she will recover. Mrs. Smith attempted to take the lives of her husband and two children. She will be taken to an asylum.

BROWNSVILLE, PA.—James Jeffries, colored, was taken to the Uniontown jail and bound over to the charges of assault and battery and highway robbery. Near Brownell, it is alleged, he held up and clubbed into insensibility Simon Yusuf, an Assyrian peddler, and then robbed the man of $25.

OHIO IMPROVEMENT STRONGLY ADVOCATED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—The National Board of Steam Navigation held its thirty-first annual convention today, with about 75 members present. F. A. Laidley of Cincinnati presided.

Resolutions were adopted indorsing the plan of the Ohio Valley Improvement association to ask congress to appropriate a sufficient sum for the improvement of the Ohio river from Pittsburgh to Cairo, so that the work may be prosecuted at different points at the same time and the entire river made navigable without interruption at the earliest possible time.

Officers were elected as follows: President, F. A. Laidley, Cincinnati; first vice president, H. D. Moore, New York; second vice president, F. B. Dalzell, New York; treasurer, W. J. Wood, Pittsburgh; secretary, C. H. Boyer, New York.

WILLING TO SELL.

H. D. Laughlin Offers Chicago & Alton Officials Easy Way Out.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Chicago & Alton Railroad Company was held today in this city.

H. D. Laughlin, minority stockholder, who yesterday filed suit against the company, attacking the validity of the lease entered into between the Chicago & Alton Railroad Company and the Chicago & Alton Railway Company, appeared at the meeting and offered to sell his stock. It is probable his offer will be accepted.

No Railroad Sympathetic Strike.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Chief Arthur of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers does not attach any importance to the rumor from the east of a sympathetic strike on the railroads, entering the anthracite coal regions.

Yankee Gunboat for Colombia.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—The gunboat Bogota, the vessel of the Colombian government, which has been fitting out here, sailed for southern waters this afternoon. She is manned almost entirely by Americans.

ROOSEVELT COMMENDED ON STRIKE ATTITUDE

Ohio Legislature Also Passes Resolution Extoling the Anthracite Miners.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 7.—After a spirited debate the lower house of the general assembly of Ohio this afternoon adopted a resolution commending the course of President Roosevelt in the coal strike and also the miners for their law-abiding and patriotic conduct.

The resolution was offered by Robert Pollock of Stark county, a Republican. J. G. Devaul of Monroe county attempted to secure the substitution of another resolution denouncing the coal operators and calling upon President Roosevelt to take speedy action to end the strike. This was rejected by a party vote and then the Pollock resolution was unanimously adopted. It reads as follows:

We most heartily commend the patriotic and manly efforts which President Roosevelt has already taken to bring about a settlement of the strike and restore business; and to the thousands of miners and their capable and efficient officers, headed by President John Mitchell, we express congratulations upon their law-abiding and patriotic conduct during the entire progress of the strike; and believing that their cause is just and right and ought to prevail we extend unto them our sympathy and best wishes for success.

STEEL CORPORATION MAKES NEW RECORD

Earnings for Quarter Ending With September Are Announced as $36,764,643.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The directors of the United States Steel Corporation today issued a statement of net earnings for the nine months ending September 30. Earnings for July, August and September, with the last month estimated, aggregate $36,764,643; total net earnings for nine months, deducting each month's expenses for ordinary repairs, renewals and maintenance of plant, also interest on bonds and fixed charges of the subsidiary companies, aggregate $101,142,158.

The usual dividends of 1¾ per cent on the preferred and 1 per cent on the common, quarterly, were declared.

Deducting $10,774,166 for sinking fund on bonds of the subsidiary companies and depreciation and reserve funds, leaves a balance of profits for the nine months applicable for securities of the corporation, of $90,368,053. From this amount is deducted $13,680,000 for nine months interest and a sinking fund on the bonds, leaving a net balance of $76,688,053.

Undivided profits for the nine months applicable to increase of "depreciation and reserve fund" accounts, new construction, or surplus, are $34,647,982.

The preferred dividend is payable November 15 and the common dividend December 30.

END OF MANEUVERS.

All Army Men Agree That Results Have Been Most Excellent.

FORT RILEY, KAS., Oct. 7.—The closing day's maneuvers were fine in performance, but poor from a spectacular point of view. The exercise in brief was the deployment of a line of battle preparatory to making an attack upon an enemy in position.

With the close of the maneuvers there seems to be but one opinion among the regulars and national guard officers concerning it. All agree excellent results have been obtained and that much greater good could be accomplished by maneuvers conducted upon a more extensive scale.

Donated $5,000 for Strikers.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The Miners' Federation of Great Britain at Southport today voted $5,000 from the central fund for the relief of the striking American miners and adopted a resolution in favor of the executive board and the different districts making further donations for the same purpose.

Foreign Coal Advanced.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The Scotch coal masters are in receipt of numerous urgent inquiries for the prompt shipment of coal to New York and Philadelphia, and they are arranging freightage for 40,000 tons. The most urgent demand is for anthracite, for which American buyers now have to pay $4 12 per ton, against $3 12 which they refused to pay a month ago.

TRUE FOOD

Always Cures Dyspepsia.

Wrong food brings penalties.

A lady in Lone Tree, Okla., found this out. After suffering for years with dyspepsia, she says:

"Many times I could not eat anything; sometimes I drank a little hot milk, at other times the lightest food distressed me so that death would have been gladly welcomed as a relief. I was weak and listless and unable to work for want of strength.

"Two years ago a dear friend earnestly recommended me to try Grape-Nuts, as she had found it a most valuable food. I commenced to use it immediately, and the benefit I received in an incredibly short time was almost marvelous.

"Words cannot express the joy and thankfulness I felt when I found I was relieved of that dreadful distress from indigestion that I had been experiencing after each meal.

"After continued use, health and strength returned; I began to enjoy life and go among my friends again so much improved that remarks were made about my good health. I sleep well now, sit all day with perfect ease and comfort and sew and work as I like. I wish I could induce every sufferer from dyspepsia to use Grape-Nuts." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

BLASTING OFF TOP OF RAILROAD TUNNEL

Pennsylvania Railroad Performing Difficult Work Near Irwin.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

IRWIN, PA., Oct. 7.—One of the most hazardous and carefully planned pieces of work yet done on the Pennsylvania railroad's four-track improvement in the Pittsburgh district is being executed three miles west of here, in tearing out the Ardara tunnel. For several months preparations were made to do the work. The top of the tunnel was cut away as far down as it was deemed safe to do so. To take the entire top off was a problem for a while, as it would not do, at this time, to block traffic for even a few minutes.

Several plans were considered, and it was finally decided to blow away a few feet at a time with dynamite. The first test of this plan was tried this morning. Holes covering a surface of about four feet were drilled and the charges of the explosive were put in and fired between trains. The interval was only a few minutes, but four feet of the top of the tunnel was blown completely away, and but little of the debris fell to the tracks.

The work caused no delay in the train service. It will be continued every other day until the entire tunnel is removed. Then two temporary tracks will be laid to the north to be used until the new roadbed and tracks are down for the four-track system.

BURGLARS WERE FRUSTRATED.

Attempted to Blow Open Three Safes, But Got Little Booty.

PARKERSBURG, PA., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Burglars attempted to blow open three safes at West Union last night. At the Kane & Hyser Hardware Company's store they got into the safe, but found nothing. At the office of the West Union Gas Company they failed to get into the safe.

At the postoffice they drilled into the safe and had nitro-glycerin in it ready to blow the door off when they were frightened away. The safe is still as they left, everybody being afraid to attempt to open it. The burglars got some registered mail and stamps and escaped without leaving any clue.

Preparing for Reunion.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Big preparations are being made for the reunion of the One Hundred and Fortieth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, to be held here tomorrow. Among the distinguished men who will take part in the program will be the Rev. John R. Paxton of New York, Assistant Postmaster General Shallenberger, Washington; Gen. H. H. Bingham, Philadelphia; Gen. J. A. Beaver, Bellefonte, and the Rev. J. L. Milligan, Pittsburgh, chaplain of the regiment.

No Concessions to Strikers.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—The Kanawha Fuel Company, representing practically all the mines on the south side of the Kanawha river, held a special meeting today to consider the strike situation, and after thorough discussion decided to make no concessions to the strikers.

Cure for Asthma and Hay Fever

The statements published below confirm the claim of Dr. Schiffmann that his remedy is an absolute cure for Asthma and Hay Fever.

Mrs. Mary Zachery, Pleasant Hill, La., says: "I have found your Asthma Cure a permanent cure for Asthma, for which I used it 7 years ago. I have never had the slightest return of the trouble since. I have also found your remedy excellent in Bronchial affections."

A Hay Fever sufferer writes: "I have had Hay Fever for 14 years. I bought a package of your remedy (Schiffmann's Asthma Cure), of our druggist and due to its use this is the first summer that I have not been troubled." Mrs. Frank Gullfogle, 6237 Ridge avenue, Roxboro, Philadelphia.

Sold by druggists at 50c and $1.00.

SIXTEEN PAGES.

President Roosevelt's plan of ending the strike is promulgated opportunely just as the entire national guard of Pennsylvania is called into the field. The whole disturbed region will soon be so strongly guarded that the attacks upon persons and property which have become so frequent will soon become impossible. Usually when a strike degenerates into riot its collapse is impending, but in the present conflict the miners' union has displayed unexpected staying power and its resources do not appear to have been exhausted. The strain has been so long and so severe, however, that any honorable settlement ought to be welcome, and one is afforded by the president's pledge that he will at once appoint a commission to investigate thoroughly all the matters at issue and do all in his power to secure action in accord with the report of the commission. It will doubtless be urged against acceptance of the plan that a thorough congressional investigation made nearly 20 years ago of labor conditions in the anthracite region produced no result, and the arbitration legislation recommended by President Cleveland in 1886 in a special message to congress also produced no result. In reply it may be said that things are different now and great confidence may be reposed in President Roosevelt's tenacity of purpose. The miners have far more to gain than to lose by trying the plan proposed. If they reject it and are beaten out in the end, as in all probability they will be, they will have lost a position of advantage which they might have occupied.

Probably the worst phase of the strike in the anthracite region is the impetus it has given to state socialism. "Government ownership of the coal mines" was the sentiment voiced by the New York Democratic convention. It has been repeated in a hundred localities. It has taken concrete form in the "People's Coal League," promoted by the American Agriculturist. That grange organ puts forward government ownership as the only permanent solution of the problem, and is busy carrying forward a propaganda for which it solicits contributions on a scale from $1 to $100, the latter sum entitling the donor to a vice presidency in the league. Government ownership of coal mines would be an opening wedge for government ownership of railroads, telegraphs and everything else. If the idea is once recognized government ownership will become the cry of every man who is worsted in individual competition, though the fault lies solely with himself.

Sometimes the American people are carried away by their emotions. But in their thoughtful moments they are not ready to admit the necessity for any leveling movement. Being born free and equal they start life on a common level and at the end they return to the common heritage of the grave. Between those events freedom implies individual initiative in the enjoyment of life and the pursuit of happiness. Individual initiative has led the country to world supremacy in the industrial arts and in national progress. If any rational objection can be urged against the huge combinations of capital, as such, it is that they put limitations upon individual effort. But the cure for such ills as we suffer is not state socialism, which would mean the creation of one vast trust to conduct all business managed by professional politicians and manned by ward workers. Even facing a scarcity of coal it would be very unwise to leap out of the frying pan into the fire.

It has often been noted that good times breed labor troubles. The great strikes come when work is plentiful and labor is in demand. This is naturally the case, for then, if ever, is the time for labor to get a higher price for the human skill and effort it has to sell. That a natural impulse to take advantage of general prosperity for the betterment of labor conditions should give rise to ruinous conflicts shows a lack of proper machinery for the adjustment of interests which are really reciprocal. As it is exactions are being made and strikes are taking place which threaten to check the general prosperity. Both in New York and Pennsylvania the troops have been called out to preserve the peace. Simultaneously with the order of Gov. Stone calling out the entire national guard of Pennsylvania, Gov. Odell of New York has had to call out a regiment to protect the property of the Hudson Valley Railway Company, upon whose lines a strike has been in progress. A hundred miles of the road will be picketed by the troops to preserve order. The violence which makes such exertion of force necessary injures the cause of labor by making the original causes of the conflict a matter of subordinate importance. When the issue resolves itself into the plain question whether or not order shall be maintained there is only one answer to that which public opinion will consider for a moment. Public authority forcibly asserts itself and in suppressing the disturbance generally breaks the strike.

London, it has been noted, is worried over the possibility that our anthracite miners' strike will cause it to pay dearly for its winter coal, the price at Cardiff having advanced under American demand. A further international complication is threatened by the miners' federation in France, whose officers and representatives were discussing the question of another strike yesterday. Though no conclusion has been reached, one of the leaders predicted a strike just after the session, intimating it might be called today. It will readily be remembered that when the French miners were on strike a couple of years ago American bituminous coal was freely exported to Mediterranean ports, the price of Welsh coal having been advanced, as a result of the strike, to practically prohibitive figures. There is now no immediate danger of American importations into French territory, but a strike of the French miners would be more menacing to London consumers than the strike here. Total American engagements of Welsh coal aggregate 200,000 tons. The French demand, in the event of a strike of the French miners, would speedily pass that mark. All of this serves to illustrate in a striking manner the increasing interdependence of the nations and the closer relations between them. It is not many years since an extensive strike in one country was looked upon as rather a fortunate thing for the competitors, but in the present instance, even though the Welsh producers may smile, the remainder of Great Britain views the situation with alarm.

GET BUSY.

To form and sustain a broad and consistent policy in the management of municipal affairs a firm foundation of party support is necessary, and while municipal politics are as unsettled as they are a period of drift and uncertainty is inevitable. We shall have to wait until a new recorder is elected and party agreement established between the majority in councils and the executive department before any large undertaking can be prosecuted successfully. But meanwhile there are many matters belonging to the ordinary routine of city business which ought to be attended to without check or interference from political differences, and the contending factions in councils ought to get together for that purpose. The public welfare must not be allowed to suffer while they squabble and negligence of ordinary business duties will be sharply resented by public opinion.

A case in point is the way the health officers have been hampered in their efforts to check the spread of smallpox by the difficulty of getting action on matters over which there is no room for controversy. While the situation in Pittsburgh is no worse than in other large cities, yet it calls for energetic and vigilant effort. One of these outbreaks of malignant smallpox, which occur about once in every 20 years, is now taking place both in Europe and America, and in any community where it escapes control it is going to be a very serious affair, entailing heavy expense to the public as well as a vast extent of private distress. But necessary accommodations at the municipal hospital have not been provided and recommendations of the health officers are pigeonholed. A slight increase in the number of daily cases would crowd the hospital so that no more cases could be sent there. The only recourse then would be to quarantine each house in which a case of smallpox was found and the pay of the guards would amount to a far greater sum than would be required to provide hospital accommodations. Even such an obvious necessity as authority to employ a resident physician at the municipal hospital has not been attended to, although the amount involved is only about $125 a month, and it would mean much for the comfort and welfare of patients taken from their homes and sent to the hospital.

Such behavior on the part of the city councils is thoroughly culpable and the public will not accept political differences as an excuse for inaction in such matters. The leaders on both sides should co-operate to secure prompt action.

THE FIRST POINT.

Withholding the report of the viewers in the Diamond alley widening is not vital at the moment. It will have to be produced in due course of the legal proceedings as a part of the record. The duty of the moment is to give an emphatic negative to the resolution proposing the repeal of the ordinance under which the viewers acted. More room must be had for the accommodation of traffic in the downtown district. The clearing of Liberty street will be a long step to that end in one direction, but that improvement will render even more imperative the opening of Diamond and Virgin alleys to the cross-town business. In nearly every material thing Pittsburgh has been making notable progress except in this matter of accommodating the increasing street crowds and vehicle transit.

AN INDEX TO THE FUTURE.

Purchase by the United States Steel Corporation of 200 acres of land at New Orleans, having a river frontage of 2,200 feet, is an early indication to the people of Pittsburgh of what the isthmian canal project means to this city. The far-seeing managers of the great corporation anticipate a vast development of their export trade with New Orleans as the distributing point when the canal is completed, though they have a present use for the property just acquired. Warehouses will be built and manufactured goods shipped during stages of high water, to be held in stock to supply the needs of southern markets. But when the Ohio is slackwatered below Pittsburgh and the canal is completed these warehouses and their water frontage will assume enlarged importance as depots for transhipments of goods for the markets of South America and Asia and the west coast of the United States. It is with this enlargement in view that the purchase is made more than because of present needs. Doubtless, also, the property will be added to.

While the isthmian canal is yet a distant achievement because of the necessary and highly important preliminary formalities, as well as the physical work, it is one of the certainties of the future. Others than the officials of the United States Steel Corporation have seen its importance to the Ohio Valley and the region of the two great rivers that join at Pittsburgh to send their united waters into it, and while the United States Steel Corporation is perhaps the first to make an investment looking to its completion, the prospect has stimulated the demand on congress to make the Ohio river navigable all the year by means of locks and dams. This work would amply repay the cost were there to be no canal, and with the canal a question of time only, its importance to the whole nation is so great that the benefits are easily apparent to observing minds far beyond the territories that will be directly benefited by the enterprise. With these influences added to the local demand it ought to be no difficult matter to have hopes for the Ohio river improvement realized long ere ships are floated from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean through a waterway designed and completed by man to be an improvement on the work of nature.

The circumstance that the United States Steel Corporation is looking ahead in the south means much more than the mere acquisition of facilities for handling the present capacity of the mills. In periods of abundant prosperity like this, mills pushed to their fullest capacity are unable to keep up with demand and importations are necessary to prevent actual famine in the home market. When markets are widened and broadened by the completion of the isthmian canal the present mills will be utterly inadequate. Even now, with only the natural growth of markets to stimulate production, manufacturers have found it necessary to plan new works and extensions and improvements that will cost tens of millions of dollars in the Pittsburgh district alone. The canal will compel expenditures that will make present enterprises appear modest. An assured volume of water on which to float heavy and imperishable freights, with the accompanying cheapness of transportation, added to the familiar advantages of this region, will form a powerful magnet to attract capital here for investment. The future is so full of promise for Pittsburgh and the tributary territories as to make present prosperity appear the bud rather than the full blown flower.

If hope is to be realized it will be necessary that present political conditions continue—that the relation of the parties to each other in state and nation continue. A reversal of them would be a shock to confidence that would nullify the advantages here and in sight. Prosperity, plenty of employment for capital, plenty of employment for labor, adequate wages—all these are influenced for good or for evil by the policies of the party in power. This was not clearly seen by a majority of the people when Pattison was last elected governor, nor even when, two years afterward, Grover Cleveland was elected president for the second time. But later nothing was more clear. It stood out in all the distinctness with which objects are seen in the sunshine of a frosty morning, with the snow crunching under the foot, and it was felt with all the biting penetrability of a below-zero gale whistling about the shivering frame of a man without an overcoat. The suffering of that time in contrast with the abundance of the present has made the people wise in their own behalf. The principles that now prevail must be maintained to insure the continuance, to say nothing of the increase of prosperity, and we do not doubt that they will be.

REGIMENTS HAVE GONE FORWARD

Last evening the national guardsmen of Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania were embarked for the anthracite coal region in obedience to Gov. Stone's order. The mobilization was accomplished with very little friction. The troopers made a thoroughly soldierlike appearance and can be depended upon to do their whole duty in the field. Of course, they were accompanied by special correspondents of The Gazette, who will get all the news of how the boys fare in their military duties, for the friends at home will naturally be anxious to know.

With this additional 7,000 men in the field the disturbed area ought to be thoroughly covered. There will be an end to rioting, mob violence and intimidation if the members of the guard are sufficient to secure that result. Thus full opportunity will be given the operators to make good their promise to mine coal enough to supply the public wants and the matter of relief will rest largely upon them unless President Mitchell and his associates wisely decide to act upon President Roosevelt's advice.

The size of the force ordered out at the present time should conduce to the speedy resolution of the situation in as far as disorder has been a factor in it. The hope is permitted that a resumption of industry may be effected, particularly with the aid of President Mitchell, so that when order is restored by the national guard it may be maintained without its further intervention. It is highly desirable that its term of service may be short. It will be expensive to the commonwealth at best, and onerous if long continued. The season is advanced and the increasing inclemency of the weather renders duty on the tented field the reverse of wholesome or agreeable. For these reasons every citizen wishes the necessity for having the soldiers out will soon pass, and this wish is doubly strong with the immediate relatives and friends of the troopers.

IRRIGATION CONGRESS.

What promises to be the most profitable and interesting session of the national irrigation congress ever held in the history of that organization assembled yesterday at Colorado Springs. In all its previous assemblies the congress devoted itself largely to appeals for help and prophecy as to what might be done to make more fruitful the arid lands of the west. The present session will be one of thanksgiving for blessings realized and the inauguration of wider plans to make effective the new laws passed by the late congress.

Because a Republican president urged it and a Republican congress wisely made it law, nationally aided irrigation has become fact instead of a dream. The law applies to all the states and territories, beginning with the two Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, between the 100th meridan and the Pacific, and the present session of the irrigation congress will be engaged largely in perfecting the details of the work of application.

An amusing instance of interpreting words in a Pickwickian sense so as to remove an offensive quality is afforded by the way in which the French premier has explained away some blazing indiscretions committed by M. Pelletan, the minister of marine. In a recent speech-making tour in the south of France M. Pelletan made 11 different kinds of trouble. Italy was stirred by a speech in Corsica in which M. Pelletan said that the island was to be fortified because of its military importance, and that "its east coast aims straight at the heart of Italy." At Bizerta he said it was intended to make that part of the Mediterranean a French possession, and while France did not desire conflict with either England or Italy, it was her duty to prepare for the holy war with her enemies wherever they might be. Foreign nations naturally asked explanations of these bellicose utterances, and the French premier has tried to smooth things over by a remarkable speech in which he contended that the government was not responsible for what any individual cabinet minister might say, and that after all the objectionable words used by M. Pelletan were uttered "in the infectious warmth of a banquet," and had "in the speaker's mind only the value of a literary ornament, a figure of rhetoric." This is a neat way of saying that M. Pelletan was "talking through his hat."

Gov. Pattison's denial of statements in The Gazette does not deny. He ignores the specific language of his reported reply to Mr. Cassatt and merely cites proceedings permitted to drag along, according to his own statement, for two weary years. During that time the incorporation of the combine was vetoed in New Jersey. The point The Gazette made was that the subject contains no political capital at present, for no one is looking for a remedy that may require more than two years to apply.

It would be rather hazardous this morning to attempt to raise a laugh among the members of the Pennsylvania national guard over some of the alleged coal strike jokes that have been current during the past few weeks.

Earthquake shocks in Italy and in Peru, together with the recent disturbances in the West Indies, indicate there is no scarcity of fuel below the earth's surface, no matter what there may be on top.

The crown prince of Siam says he wants to have a quiet time in America. But, then, if the reception committee allows him to spend all his time in Philadelphia there are sure to be objections raised.

If Col. Richard Harding Davis is anywhere within reach he should be notified that there is something doing in his particular line.

New Jersey will have to look to her laurels. Kansas boasts "a lightning bolt" two miles long which fell recently in that state.

But just think how lustily we can all join in singing "Johnny Comes Marching Home" when this cruel strike is over.

FEELING ON COAL AT DANGER POINT

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Oct. 7.

With coal operators holding a secret meeting downtown, Harlem begging for coal at any price, and the East Side tenement folk burning wood or doing without fuel of any kind, the coal situation today was about the worst since the strike began. There was a sharp snap of frost early this morning, and that set everyone to wondering what was to happen next. The news that Gov. Stone had ordered out the whole National Guard of Pennsylvania was received with mingled feelings. One thought this would lead to the ending of the quarrel, while others doubted whether the operators could deliver the goods promptly, in spite of their assertions that they could mine and ship all the coal required, provided they had proper protection for their laborers. What New Yorkers cannot understand is how the coal dealers in outside towns—in New Jersey and New York states—can supply the commodity at about one-half the price that is asked in this city. In Passaic, for instance, pea coal is sold at $10 a ton, and a week ago it was only $8. This is not the most desirable size, but it will serve, and there are thousands of New Yorkers who would be glad to buy it at the rate of $10 a ton, or even $12 or $14. One of the worst features of the famine is that so many persons suspect a manipulation of coal by those who control the situation more or less. There is a dangerous undercurrent of anger that might flame up in a moment. The local newspapers, wisely enough, refrain from comment of its fact; but there is not one of them that is not fully aware of its existence. The conviction is that the present state of things cannot last. Unless there is an orderly avenue of relief within the next few days, then there may be riots that will convert some parts of New York—particularly the tenement quarters—into battlefields. Men say these things to each other, and if they are not printed in the papers here it is because no one desires to foment the mischief that is only too ready to make itself felt.

Miss Croman's New Success.

Henrietta Crosman has made a big hit in her new play, "The Sword of the King," at Wallack's. Maurice Campbell, her manager, thinks it will prove to be another "Mistress Nell" in popular favor. There are many opportunities for the exquisite subtlety which, as Pittsburghers well know, is one of the charms of Miss Crosman's acting, while there is enough dash and go in the action to enable her to break loose in her characteristic way on occasion. In theaters in New York generally there is a slump in the attendance on the second night of a new production, but the audience at Wallack's this evening was fully as large as that of Monday.

Found Pittsburgh a Hustling Place.

Harry Ellsler, the old-time manager of the Pittsburgh Grand opera house, was hustling along Broadway this afternoon, having just returned from a three weeks' visit to Pittsburgh. He said the changes and increase in hustle in the city since he had been there before, several years ago, were simply wonderful. He had been impressed by the skyscrapers, the larger crowds of people in the streets, and the general air of prosperity, so that he actually gasped as he talked about them. Then he added, reflectively, "But, perhaps, my astonishment was due in part to the fact that I had not been in Pittsburgh for a long time and had forgotten just what kind of a hustling place it used to be."

Exodus of Blue to Washington.

A very large number of G. A. R. veterans and their families went to Washington today. At the Pennsylvania railroad depot in Jersey City the waiting room was full of men in army blue and their families, and the ticket agents were busy serving the long strips of cardboard headed "Excursion," which would take one to Washington and back at half price. The agent asked each purchaser, in a perfunctory way: "Is the return part of this ticket to be used by a member of your family?" And when he had answered in the affirmative the ticket was handed over, and away you went, with a very hazy idea of why the question was asked at all. It seemed to give the ticket man some satisfaction, however, and perhaps that was why he asked. The big parade will take place in Washington tomorrow, which is understood to be the reason there was such a rush on the trains today.

A Popular Police Captain Dead.

Capt. J. J. Donahue of the Morrisania police station dropped dead at his desk today. Death loves a shining mark, and Donahue was regarded as one of the "straightest" men on the force.

No Generalship in Police Force.

A New Yorker who knows his city and its people pretty well said to me this evening: "If there should be a riot on account of this coal business, I do not know a police captain or an inspector who would be capable of leading his men intelligently forward to quell disorder. There are plenty of brave men on the force, but bravery is not the only essential. There must be coolness, quickness of resource and an overpowering intelligence. Where is there such a man in the New York police department? I do not know of one, from Commissioner Partridge down. None that I can think of combines all the qualities necessary to quell a sudden disturbance actuated by strong feeling. There is only one man in the city that could take the lead of the police in such an emergency, and he is no longer a policeman. I mean W. S. Devery. Whatever they may say against the ex-chief, no one has ever questioned his personal bravery, his determination or his understanding of human nature, as it is often brought to the notice of a policeman. He has had a lifelong training in dealing with just such situations as might arise at any time in consequence of this coal stringency. Mark my words: If there should be a riot, Devery will be missed, and many a big police official will wish in his heart that "Big Bill" were still eligible to wear a blue uniform and drive back a mob with a club or his brawny fists, as it might happen."

Hydrophobia Treatment a Failure.

A Brooklyn woman, Mrs. Adelaide C. Wheeler, died of hydrophobia today. Her case has caused something of a hydrophobia scare. She was bitten by a dog eight weeks ago and was treated for 15 days in the Health Department hospital in East Fifteenth street by a method said to be "like that given by Pasteur doctors." She had been discharged as cured, but violent symptoms manifested themselves on Sunday last and she died in agony this morning. Evidently the treatment "like that given by Pasteur doctors" lacks some essential qualities, and as there were a dozen other persons bitten by the dog that caused the death of Mrs. Wheeler, there is something very like a panic in one part of Brooklyn.

A Dearth of Gas, Also.

Another danger from the lack of coal is worrying Brooklynites. The gas supply has become short, and there is so much air in the pipes, according to consumers, that when a gas jet is left burning at night it is likely to go out before morning, and more than one family has narrowly escaped asphyxiation. They say the air blows out the gas while it continues merrily to force around the hands on the dial-plates of the meters. The gas company which supplies the whole borough merely remarks grimly that Brooklyn ought to be glad to have any gas at all, and that if there is not an increase in the supply of coal, gas soon will be cut off altogether. Another unpleasantness threatened from the coal famine is that the cars may stop because the trolley companies may be unable to get fuel to generate electricity. In the light of all this, the old question might be asked, "Who would live in Brooklyn?" were it not that conditions are equally as bad in Manhattan.

Secretary Shaw Uses a Trowel.

One of the most interesting public ceremonies that have taken place in New York for years was the laying of the corner stone of the new custom house in Bowling Green this afternoon. It is not every day that New Yorkers can see a member of the cabinet standing amid the roar of Broadway, with his hat off, tinkering at a mountain of carved granite with a silver trowel. Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury, was the personage that did this ancient work with a deft touch and true, and his speech was not more characteristic of the adaptable American man of affairs than his handling of the time-honored tools with which he put the finishing touch to the great stone. Lyman J. Gage, Mr. Shaw's predecessor in office, also made an address, but he could not lay the stone, because Mr. Shaw had done the job completely. The clang of the Broadway car made a striking accompaniment to the ceremonies that was not altogether out of harmony with the proceedings.

Russell Sage Again Ill.

Russell Sage is reported to be seriously ill at his home, Cedarhurst, Long Island. He was taken with a chill last night and has been closely attended by a physician all day. Friends of the financier say that there is probably nothing particularly dangerous in his illness, except that, on account of his great age, any indisposition brings with it more or less danger. No one doubts that Uncle Russell himself would pooh-pooh it if he were asked his opinion of the trouble. He never has admitted himself really ill since he was nearly killed by Norcross' bomb in the last century.

Less Light in the Tenderloin.

The side streets of the Tenderloin are much darker than they used to be before a man was killed in the cellar of one of the Twenty-ninth street restaurants. The electric signs have been quenched and rules of hospitality at the free-and-easy eating and drinking places have been modified. Capt. Walsh, the new police head of the district, declares that he will "clean" it, and certainly he has made many improvements, in that the eye and ear of passers-by are not so often offended. That anything really can "clean" the Tenderloin, except by burning it down no one believes. It is too thoroughly impregnated with moral and criminal filth to yield to ordinary sanitary measures, and all that can be done is to push its worst features out of sight. That is what Capt. Walsh appears to be doing. Doubtless, he is doing the best he can, but the general belief is that the district will break out again as soon as the new captain gets a little weary of well-doing, as do captains of the Thirtieth street station, sooner or later.

Even a Genius Must Serve on Jury.

Nikola Tesla is a great inventor—a genius, if you will—but genius does not exempt a man from jury duty, and Tesla was fined $100 today because he did not respond to such a call in general sessions. He seems to feel worse about it than if he had been struck by 1,000 volts or so of his own manufactured lightning.

Recreation Piers for School Rooms.

There is a strong agitation to have the recreation piers along the East river side turned into school rooms. The probability is that it will be done. The board of education approves of the plan and if it can get enough money to do the work it will go ahead. The logical suggestion is made that as the school houses were turned into play grounds in the summer vacation to eke out the space of the recreation piers, it would be only right to turn the piers into school houses in the winter. There are some 60,000 children on half-time in the schools, just because there is not room for them to study all day.

Prospect of Street Signs.

So many people want to construct illuminated street signs for the city that when President Cantor of Manhattan borough opened the bids this morning they were heaped all over the enormous round table. All kinds of signs and electric lights, each within the specifications, it is presumed, have been offered for consideration, and the range of cost is so wide that it will be hard, indeed, if the president does not find something that he can accept in the name of the municipality. The dark fact remains, however, that the city is woefully short of street signs, and that a stranger in New York has to find his way about by faith, and not by sight.

Cassatt Sees Mayor Low.

President A. J. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad had a conference with Mayor Low this morning. It is understood they were discussing the coal situation, but neither would say what the conversation had been about. They are personal friends and the public may suppose, if it chooses, that it was nothing more than a social call.

New Broadway Tabernacle.

The new Broadway tabernacle, to take the place of the edifice at the corner of Thirty-fourth street and Broadway, which has been already partly razed, will be at Broadway and Fifty-sixth street. Plans were filed today. They show that the church will be a large and handsome one. It will cost, according to the plans, some $350,000.

THE RURAL EDITORS.

Mr. James Wilson has our thanks for a basket of fine potatoes, which he sent us last week. He knows the printer has to eat once in awhile.—Osceola Mills Leader-Courier.

J. E. Higgins, whom we report as leaving Weston in another part of this paper, has changed his purpose and has decided to remain with us. Jim came into this office yesterday and laid down a cluster of four chestnuts with the words, "Here's a nut to crack; who can beat it?" They were all joined together.—Weston Independent.

It makes us billous to note the pathetic appeals in some of our exchanges for delinquent subscribers to pay up. The man who runs a paper on the pay-as-you-please plan and gets flim-flammed by deadbeats is deserving of no sympathy. Furthermore, the easy-going publisher works harm to his fellow publishers who are conducting a cash-in-advance business. But it reacts on the chap who is inclined to stick to the trust business. Stop your whining. Chop off those deadbeats, and make a new start by insisting on cash-in-advance from every subscriber. You will enjoy better health and have more money at the end of the year.—Canonsburg Herald.

PERSONALS.

The Chicago limited was delayed last night by a freight wreck near Irwin and it was long after 10 o'clock before the train arrived. On the limited was "Al" Smith, the famous New York sporting man, who was met by his old friend, John Newell. Newell had some anxious moments when he first learned that the limited was wrecked, but when he found that it was only a freight wreck and no one was hurt John was chipper again. Smith was on his way to the races at Lexington, Ky.

Attorney W. J. Brennen left last night for the east on the Pennsylvania's fast line. He denied the report that he was going to consult with John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, relative to bringing quo warranto proceedings against the railroads that own the anthracite coal mines.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Dr. J. Edwin Miller.

Dr. J. Edwin Miller, a well-known physician of the West End and member of the G. A. R., is dead at his home in Steuben street, West End, of a wound in the shoulder received in the battle of Chancellorsville. Dr. Miller was born in Allegheny county 54 years ago, and at the outbreak of the war enlisted in Hampton battery. After graduating from the Jefferson Medical college, he secured a position in the United States navy as surgeon. He was a member of Encampment No. 1, Union Veteran Legion; past No. 3, G. A. R., and Guyasuta lodge, Free and Accepted Masons. Dr. Miller is survived by his widow, Mrs. Rena Munck Miller, and two children, D. Edwin and Mildred.

Mrs. Jenkin Jones.

Mrs. Catherine Jones, wife of Jenkin Jones, the city wharfmaster and former well-known glass manufacturer of the South Side, died last night at the family home, No. 2309 Sarah street, South Side, after an illness of several years. She was born in Wales 67 years ago and for the past 65 years had been a resident of Pittsburgh. She was a member of the Fifth Avenue Congregational church. Besides her husband, five children, George W., Walter D. Jones, Mrs. E. L. Evans and the Misses Ida M. and Katie E. Jones, survive.

Obituary Notes.

George S. Prince, aged 44, treasurer of the New York Central railroad, died yesterday at Yonkers, N. Y.

Mrs. Emily V. Haffner, 70 years old, widow of Frank J. Haffner, is dead at her late home, No. 1244 Resaca place, Allegheny, of paralysis. She is survived by six children.

Peter Weis, 74 years old, for many years foreman of the "twine wings" in Oakland, is dead of typhoid pneumonia at his late home, No. 3823 Bates street. His widow has just recovered from a severe attack of typhoid fever.

Word has been received in this city of the death at Brooklyn, N. Y., of Edward Wigley, a member of well-known familes of Braddock and Edgewood.

Samuel Arnold, 72 years old, who was convicted in 1865 of participation in the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, is dead at Masonville, Md. Arnold was sent to the Dry Tortugas for life, but was pardoned by President Johnson.

James Ryan of McKeesport, a gunner in the United States navy for 11 years, is dead at the Norfolk navy yard of pneumonia. Two years ago he was promoted to chief gunner for excellent work on the battleship Indiana. His remains will be buried at Washington.

The House Speakership.

From the Scranton Republican.

Congressman Dalzell has expressed the opinion that Pennsylvania is entitled to the next speakership of the house. It looks that way to others. There is no greater state, all things considered, than this. In fealty to Republican principles it leads them all. Yet in the matter of high political preferment many far less conspicuous commonwealths than our own have fared better. Perhaps that is because Pennsylvanians are modest. But be that as it may they certainly deserve recognition in this matter of the speakership. The delegation to be elected this fall is certain to contain several members capable of presiding over the house with dignity and decorum, among them Mr. Dalzell himself. There is, therefore, no reason why Pennsylvania should not be given the speakership, except that some other state less deserving may want it.

BACK IN THE COUNTRY.

The farmers are busy cutting and threshing their buckwheat to get it ready for buckwheat cakes.—Emlenton News.

M. Marso is the champion timothy grower of this vicinity. This week he had on exhibition a stalk measuring 6 feet and 4 inches in length.—Jamestown Sentinel.

Many of our farmer friends are having corn choppings these nights. This means quick work for the farmers and big feeds for the workmen.—Windber Journal.

Jacob Hawk of Atwood claims to have the champion turkey hen because she laid 126 eggs before she wanted to hatch. Can that record be beaten?—Kittanning Times.

Attorney W. C. Miller has the distinction of having killed five "skunks" in his back yard during the last month. It takes a brave man to cope with the nasty things.—Raftsman's Journal.

Heavy frosts in this country have given the buckwheat district a black eye, and how this will effect the buckwheat cake supply this winter is a question.—Osceola Mills Leader Courier.

A unique sign which is self-explanatory has been conspicuous on the fence posts horseback and reads thus: "A red cow, white all over, two white behind feet, any one finding it give me the reward."—Roscoe Ledger.

Mr. R. O. Bovard is the champion raiser of big corn and big hogs. He has a new variety of corn which produces ears from 18 inches to two feet in length. One of them furnishes a meal for a poor family. "Give me three grains of corn, mother!"—West Newton Times.

And now comes Samuel Higgins, with some of the largest peaches we ever saw. The largest measured over 9½ inches in circumference and the others were but little smaller. They were grown on his place at the corner of Meek avenue and Mechanic street, which would seem to be the place for big peaches this year.—Sharon Herald.

As a cucumber raiser C. H. Patty of Delmont takes not only the cake but the whole bakery. He has an Italian vine on which are quite a number of cucumbers, one of which measures four feet four inches long, while there are quite a number that are from one to three feet in length. They are attracting the people for miles around and are certainly not only curiosities but monsters.—Greensburg Tribune.

The finest apple that "ever came down the pike" at least the finest that ever rolled into the Herald office, was left on our table by farmer David Begley of Somerset township, yesterday afternoon. It is larger than the famous "20 ounce" and has a beautiful pink skin, is juicy and finely flavored. Mr. Begley said that he bought the tree from an Ohio nurseryman, but he has forgotten the name of the variety, which is a new one in this section. Dr. "Joe" Crist, who knows almost everything a physician and orchardman should know, declares that the apple is known to Buckeyes as the "Stump."—Somerset Herald.

MET HIS FIRST BILL OF LADING

Clergyman Recalls Callow Youth When He Became a Book Agent.

"PEDDLERS, Book Agents & Beggars Positively Forbidden to Enter This Building."

"I never see that sign," said a Presbyterian minister yesterday, "but I think of the big chunks of experience I bought when I was 'talking books.' And the biggest and hardest lesson I ever got was my first bill of lading.

"It was in my first college vacation. I had been roped in by a glib-tongued general agent to canvass three counties in Southern Ohio for a popular cook book. With visions of a $500 summer dazzling my eyes I started out the week after commencement. Strange to say, 'beginners' luck' favored me at first, and I rolled up a good list of orders for a novice.

"My first delivery was at Piqua—42 books. After making my canvass there I had gone down to Dayton and returned, when the railroad authorities notified me that my order had arrived. It was a rainy morning and I engaged a boy to help me with my deliveries. Then came the bill of lading episode. I found that to get my books out of the station I must pay over the amount of the bill, $53 10. My cash capital was $7 50. What to do I didn't know, for the station agent was obdurate and I had no friends in town.

"Finally I decided to try the sympathy racket. Making my way to the house of a Presbyterian minister I explained the situation and showed him papers that established my identity. He puzzled a moment, then wrote me a note of introduction to a wealthy manufacturer, one of his congregation.

"To him I went with my bill of lading story. He was a hard-headed business man and evidently didn't take much stock in my yarn. But he finally agreed to loan me $20 on condition that I leave my gold watch as security. The exchange was made and I hustled over to the station, where by a long argument I got the agent to let me take out half my books in return for my whole stock of cash. By 4 o'clock in the afternoon I had this bunch delivered and got the balance of my order out. Though book agents are uniformly classed with peddlers and beggars, I always remember I got valuable experience while I was one of them.

LIBERTY street is torn up while the tracks of the old Birmingham line are being relaid. The paving stones are piled on the sidewalk, leaving little room for pedestrians. Yesterday there was a blockade. Two Slavs burdened with numerous telescopes and boxes were coming down from the Union depot, single file. A citizen carrying a heavy load of wet goods was weaving a crooked path in the opposite direction. He tried to dodge the Slavs and their cargo, but failed to pass clear, and the first contact slewed the overloaded craft across the narrow channel. The inebriated individual backed up as best he could, surveyed the situation and remarked:

"Ah, g'wan, John; git a freight car; git a freight car."

FORCING THE ISSUE.

From the New York Herald.

When 7,000 troops are added to the 3,000 now in the field the operators will have a chance to demonstrate their claim that, once freed from the terrorism of the strikers, enough coal can be produced to relieve the famine. The strike leaders, on the other hand, have declared that men cannot be obtained out

GEN. STEWART MAY HEAD G. A. R.

BUSY DAY OF REUNIONS

Gov. Bliss of Michigan Defends the Reputation of Ex-Secretary of War Alger—Commissioner Ware Receives Veterans.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 603 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 7.

The contest for the position of commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. among Gen. Thomas J. Stewart of Pennsylvania, Gen. Daniel E. Sickles of New York, Col. John L. McElroy of this city and Gen. John C. Black of Illinois is growing interesting, as none of the quartet can show more than a third of the 1,400 votes in the encampment.

The Stewart boom has come to Washington with all the support of the large Pennsylvania delegation behind it. For many, many years Gen. Stewart served the state as assistant adjutant-general and turned back into its treasury the salary ordinarily paid that officer. His interest in Grand Army matters is said to be intense. He was a "short service" man, but it was not his fault, as he ran away twice to enlist.

Gen. Sickles is very well known in Washington. His service in the house of representatives and his post as secretary to the American legation at Madrid brought him before the eyes of the city most conspicuously. At several earlier encampments his name has been mentioned, but at none of them has his candidacy assumed the proportions of a positive boom.

The McElroy Boom.

Col. McElroy's supporters, headed by Col. George A. Slaybaugh, had the foresight to open headquarters for his boom in the Ebbitt house, close to the rooms occupied by Gen. Torrance as national headquarters. The consequence is that all the gossip heard outside national headquarters—a tacit understanding prevails that the matter shall not be discussed inside—takes on a strong McElroy tone. Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and various northern states are said to have pledged to Col. McElroy, the Washington man, their votes in solid blocks.

Gen. Black's candidacy is in the hands of the energetic delegates from Illinois. His position as commissioner of pensions and a Democrat are being urged in his behalf, the impression prevailing, according to his friends, that it is time a Democrat be permitted to preside over a body which is entirely non-partisan, but which has never known any other than Republican commanders-in-chief.

The reunion of survivors of the Fifty-third Pennsylvania regiment of volunteers, which was held this forenoon in Farragut tent, Camp Roosevelt, brought together a number of veterans, with their wives and daughters. This regiment was recruited from the Pennsylvania counties of Montgomery, Westmoreland, Northumberland, Luzerne, Clearfield, Mifflin and Huntingdon.

Some of the Survivors.

Among the survivors who attended the reunion were Col. George C. Anderson and Dr. Sprague of the field staff; Daniel B. Foreman, Morgantown; Cyrus Stouffer, Blairsville; the Rev. George B. Smith, Alphia, Minn., and John B. Lowery, Beaver Falls.

In the naval parade today the Allegheny camp of the Prisoners of War association made a splendid showing and were heartily cheered all along the line. Col. J. D. Walker of Pittsburgh, national commander of the association, was highly delighted over the large number in line. The Star today devotes half a column to Col. Walker's military record, and asserts that he is of direct descent from the fighting preacher of the "Walls of Derry."

The naval parade of the forenoon was not so large as many that have been seen in Washington, but it was in every way interesting. The veterans of the navy were generally old men, and many bore evidences of wounds received in battle.

Contrast in the Youngesters.

In striking contrast to them were the young men of all the branches of the present service, who marched with them as an escort of honor. This escort included representatives of both the land and naval forces.

Even while the parade was in progress the reunions of some of the army corps were taking place in the tented city on the White lot. The afternoon was devoted almost entirely to reunions and receptions.

From 3 to 5 p. m. Capt. Eugene F. Ware, commissioner of pensions, held a reception at the pension office. The entire staff of 1,400 employes constituted the reception committee.

Following the formal meeting of the commissioner and Gen. Torrance and his staff, the public exercises began on the tented grand stand erected at the side of the great court of the building, which was a mass of flags and bunting. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, Assistant Secretary of the Interior Ryan, Acting Commissioner of Patents Moore, Chief Clerk Bailey of the pension bureau and a number of leading Grand Army officials occupied seats on the platform and a vast concourse of people crowded the court, where the inaugural balls are held and thronged the tiers of balconies.

Speeches and Handshaking.

Commissioner Ware delivered an address of welcome, to which a feeling response was made by Gen. Torrance. A long line of veterans passed in front of the platform, where Gen. Torrance, Commissioner Ware and Deputy Commissioners Davenport and Kelly shook hands with them.

The huge tent, which has been given the name of Gen. Philip Sheridan, was crowded during the afternoon. The principal speakers were Secretary Root, Gov. Bliss of Michigan, Gen. H. Wilson, the Rev. Dr. Bristol of this city, Gen. Edgar Allen of the Ninth Michigan cavalry and Capt. William Potter of the Ninth Pennsylvania cavalry, president of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Rights league.

Gov. Bliss spoke of his recent appointment to the senate of ex-Secretary Alger, saying it was a vindication of an ex-soldier who had been much vilified.

Gen. Wilson referred to the proposal to erect a monument to Gen. Robert E. Lee, saying our monuments should be to men who had assisted in keeping the flag flying, and not to those who would have pulled it down if they could have done so.

Sons of Veterans.

The sessions of the Sons of Veterans began with a public reception. After Commissioner McFarland had welcomed the delegates to the city Gen. Torrance addressed them. He said the members of the Grand Army had not been as liberal with their sons as they should have been. It was but natural that the veterans should feel that to them especially had been entrusted the care of the ark of the covenant, but they should bear in mind that the time is fast approaching when they must surrender that ark.

Tonight the big "dog watch" of the naval veterans and other reunions was held at Camp Roosevelt, including the reunion of the Army of the Tennessee at

GEN. JOHN C. BLACK,
Illinois Candidate for Commander-in-Chief.

Grant tent; the Sixth army corps at Sherman tent; the Fifth army corps, at Sheridan tent; the Prisoners of War, at Farragut tent, and the Ninth army corps, at Meade tent.

Among the prominent G. A. R. ladies here is Mrs. William P. Linhart of Pittsburgh, national president of the Ladies' Union ex-Prisoners of War, who comes of a long line of revolutionary ancestors, and she had many relatives in the civil war. Her husband also was a soldier. All through the war she worked for the relief of the soldiers. Two of her brothers were prisoners and one lost his life. She is a member likewise of the Ladies of the G. A. R.

The famous Pennsylvania Bucktails are not numerically so strong here as at the encampment 10 years ago, but those here fitly represent that fighting organization, which, according to history, came from the Alleghany mountain region and not from Bucks county, Pa., as stated in one of the Washington newspapers today.

CHARLES W. METZGAR.

SOFFEL AND BIGHAM MEET IN COMMITTEE

Battle Over Petition for Repeal of Ordinance Condemning Bigham's Woods.

Kirk Q. Bigham, former common councilman from the Thirty-second ward, and Jacob Soffel, his successor, will confront each other in the committee on parks tomorrow evening. At Bigham's request Soffel introduced an ordinance repealing the ordinance providing for condemnation proceedings to get possession of "Bigham's Woods," in the Thirty-second ward, for park purposes. Now 200 people of the ward have petitioned councils to allow Soffel to withdraw the ordinance. The fight will go into this committee, and the bitterness felt in the ward for years will come to the surface. The fact that Soffel defeated Bigham at the primaries last spring after a hard fight will add to the interest of the occasion.

The most plausible reason assigned for Bigham's desire to get the ordinance repealed is that he wishes to sell a part of the property to the Wabash railroad. He cannot sell and the railroad cannot seize so long as the condemnation ordinance is on the city statute books.

Neither Bigham nor Soffel is a member of the park committee, but both requested that they be notified of a meeting of the committee. The placing of candidates in the field for the vacancy in select council created by the death of John Paul may be affected by the fight in this committee. Bigham wants to be a candidate and if he relinquishes his fight over this ordinance it will help him along in the future contest.

SNAPPERS GET ADVANCE.

American Window Glass Company Grants Demands for Higher Wages.

Representatives of the window glass snappers and the American Window Glass Company held a conference at the Westinghouse building yesterday, which resulted in an advance being granted the snappers. At the conference it was agreed that the same rules and usages as last year will prevail, with an additional advance of 2½ per cent on small double thick plate per box and 5 per cent advance on single thick per box.

The snappers, until two years ago, were paid by the blowers and gatherers. A straight scale was adopted, when the manufacturers assumed payment of the snappers. The Window Glass Snappers District Assembly No. 8, Knights of Labor, was then formed. The organization now has a membership of over 1,500. At yesterday's conference the American company was represented by Vice President William Loeffler and General Manager George E. Moore. The representatives of the snappers were: Delphus Battles of Findley, O., master workman; Edward L. Greer of Findley, O., secretary-treasurer; H. K. Ford, Hartford City, Ind.; Lee Gilpin, Jonesboro, Ind.; Guy T. Bogert, Pendleton, Ind., and George Yurt, Jeannette, Pa.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple, but Safe and Effectual Cure for It.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanson the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. R. S. Workman, Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat, reaches the stomach, this producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, Catarrh of the stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and blosting after meals

Lackawanna County Man Confesses to Highway Robbery of Twenty Years Ago.

Thomas Hanley and Luke Kelley Served Nine Years in Penitentiary for Crime and Were Then Pardoned.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 7.—E. W. Tonnery, a resident of Lackawanna county, was a caller at the home of District Attorney Jones this evening. He said his conscience had been worrying him for many years now and he wanted to get the load off his mind.

He was asked what the trouble was, and said that 20 years ago he and a man named Clarke committed a highway robbery in this county. They held up and robbed a well-known citizen, William Rosengrant.

Thomas Hanley and Luke Kelly were arrested for the crime and convicted of felonious assault and robbery. Each was sentenced to 20 years in the Eastern penitentiary. They were pardoned after serving nine years.

Hanley went west and is now a resident of Butte, Mont. Kelly bought a small farm in this county, where he now resides.

Tonnery said he was often tempted to confess, but something always held him back. When Hanley and Kelly were pardoned he thought he would let the matter drop, but his conscience kept bothering him all the time, and today he firmly resolved to unbosom himself.

District Attorney Jones has placed the matter in the hands of the county detective.

DEADLOCK IN ALLEGHENY.

Bitter Contest On for Teacher in Fifteenth Ward Schools.

A deadlock is on in the Fifteenth ward, Allegheny, school board over the election of a teacher. The candidates are Miss Grace McDowell and Miss Clara Hunter. At a meeting of the board last week 38 ballots were taken, which resulted on each ballot in three votes for Miss McDowell and two for Miss Hunter.

Owing to the death recently of William Mooney, a member of the board and his successor not yet having been elected, the board only has five members and it takes four votes to elect.

Sewickley Council Fills Vacancies.

At a meeting of the Sewickley council last night James C. Chaplin, vice president, was chosen president in place of the late Charles F. Ne[illegible]. J. D. Miller was elected vice president. Charles A. Atwell was chosen from the Second ward to fill Mr. Nevin's place as a councilman until the next election is held. An ordinance was passed regulating the speed of automobiles to eight miles in the town limits and prohibiting all racing. The ordinance goes into effect at once. The penalty is a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $50.

Why the Sectional Bookcase Is Popular

There are a great many persons who do not know from experience what the advantages of the Sectional Bookcase are. But the fact is, if you were to buy even one section you would never be without such a case. Because you would immediately fill your section with books or magazines, and soon you would find that another section was required. You would get it—and by and by you would be as enthusiastic over these Sectional Bookcases as other persons are. For there is no other way in which you can keep so many books satisfactorily.

The cost of a single section is trifling—and you can add others as fast as your requirements demand.

Come here also for other office furnishings—card indexes, filing systems, chairs, tables, and all such requisites of the modern office.

How Millinery Styles Come to America.

HALF a dozen women and three or four men over in Paris set the millinery styles for France, England, Russia, Germany and America. This little coterie of less than a dozen persons constitutes the "supreme court of fashion." Whatever they decree becomes the correct mode for that season.

Their names? Caroline Reboux, Esther Meyer, Mme. Pouyanne, Camille Roger, Marescot Soeurs, Virot et Berthe, Lewis and a few others.

Twice each year the heads of the great wholesale millinery houses go to Paris to get ideas and buy millinery materials. And when they come back each brings with him a dozen or more original model hats from the workrooms of these famous modistes—imported at a cost of from $25 to $100 each. These original creations are displayed to the customers of the firm and copied, exact duplicates are made and sent to the stores all over the country for workroom models, the magazines and the newspapers photograph them, and the new styles thus become the accepted mode everywhere.

We place at the disposal of our Millinery workroom every facility for the production of hats in the correct shapes, and buy our Walking and Outing Hats only from the best houses—the concerns who pride themselves more in the excellence of their products than on mere lowness of prices.

And yet we buy with discrimination—and do not pay extravagant prices for our goods.

Ready-to-Wear Hats

A typical hat which stands sponsor for the whole line is a Flare Turban, with a droop back made of camel's hair felt, with a tucked plateau crown and three large glossy black quills thrust through the under-brim. These come in tan, navy, brown and black.

Fifteen other styles at $1.98 that are just as dashing, chic and effective.

Trimmed Hats
At $5.00

This is one of our strongholds. For the great majority of women who earn their own living a five dollar bill represents as much as they really ought to put into a hat.

A Recherche
$10 Hat.

Now we enter the domain of real millinery elegance—the realm of the exquisite, which finds its expression in the finest silk velvet, aigrettes worth their weight in gold, sweeping ostrich plumes, cut steel ornaments, imported jet buckles and cabochons and the genuine French novelties used as garniture.

The $10 Hat that serves as a type is a large Black Silk Velvet Flare Hat, with a full shirred crown, the edge of the brim trimmed with four rows of chenille braid, and two rows of rich black silk taffeta ribbon. Resting on the crown, one drooping over the rolling brim, is a pair of glossy black wings, flecked with white. A beautiful black jet cabochon completes the garniture.

'Tis a pleasure to have you inspect the display of Trimmed Millinery in our showrooms—whatever your buying intentions—for we want you to tell others what a tasteful line our trimmers have evolved.

Sole Agents in Greater Pittsburg

For the Famous $3 Queen Quality Shoes.

THE Boston makers of this splendid shoe desiring to have an expression of opinion from the thousands of women who are wearing Queen Quality, have offered for the best written opinions, 100 Prizes, Aggregating $5,000 in Gold.

We feel confident that the women who wear "Queen Quality" can show better reasons for the superiority of the "Queen Quality" shoes than can be given for any other shoe on earth, and have decided to afford them this great opportunity.

We offer FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS in prizes to the One Hundred women who give the best reasons why the "Queen Quality" shoe is superior to all other shoes in the following respects:

1st—"That Comfortable Feeling" of a "Queen Quality" Shoe (Showing where and how they fit better than any other shoe, which is the cause of "that Comfortable Feeling").

We wish to make it clear that no special literary ability is required to enter this contest. The prizes will NOT be awarded according to the merits of the articles from a literary standpoint, but according to the common-sense and logic and value of the reasons given.

Conditions for Competing.

In order to compete it will be necessary to write your article on a blank furnished by the dealer. One blank will be given with every purchase of a pair of "Queen Quality" Shoes. This is to insure that every article submitted is based upon actual experience. Prizes are as follows:

First Prize, One Thousand Dollars.

2d Prize	$500	21st to 30th (10 Prizes), each	$50
4th Prize	300	41st to 50th (10 Prizes), "	20
5th Prize	200	51st to 60th (10 Prizes), "	15
6th to 10th (5 Prizes), each	100	61st to 70th (10 Prizes, "	10
11th to 20th (10 Prizes), "	75	71st to 100th (30 Prizes), "	5

Your article must not contain over 200 words. You may write on one or more of the points of superiority. Simply state your own ideas of what are the best reasons. Your experience may induce others to buy. Contest open from October 1 to December 25, 1902. All articles must be received by January 1, 1903. The articles will be judged and prizes awarded by a committee of prominent publishers about January 1, 1903, and the names of the winners published in the March Magazines. Address all competitive articles to Queen Quality Prize competition, care of Thomas G. Plant Co., Boston.

Of the Shoe Itself,

Showing wherein it is the peer of all other shoes—and why it is justly styled "The Queen."

What the name Worth means to a lady's costume, just that thing "Queen Quality" means to a woman's shoe. It designates the highest attainment to date. This famous shoe sets the shoe fashions and makes the styles for other shoes. It stands pre-eminent as the leading American shoe for women. It fits the foot as a glove fits the hand.

There are certain parts of the foot that needs to be left free to work. The ball of the forepart and the toes must have free play for the expansion and natural workings of the muscles and joints. Other parts of the foot must be held, supported, grasped by the shoe. The waist of the foot, that part between the ball and the instep, must be held as if it were grasped by a soft but firm hand.

The "Queen Quality" Shoe does all these things. It fits the foot snugly, yet without pressure. It gives the ball and toes room for free play and natural action, and at the same time holds the heel and instep so as to prevent the chafing and slipping of the heel and crowding of the toes, so common with other shoes; which are the causes of so many large and inflamed joints, and other foot deformities.

Once wear a pair of "Queen Quality" Shoes, properly fitted, and you will never wear any others. They are always stylish and you will be delighted with the new beauty of your foot.

GREAT PAYING EMPLOYMENT FOR THOUSANDS IN THE IMMENSE POTTERY INDUSTRIES.

The plant of the Derry China Company, now being built, covers 20 acres of ground, networked with tracks from the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, whose train yards are at this point, making it the congregating center for at least 1,000 railroad men.

The first building the Derry China Company will have finished is 500x132ft., and many other buildings will compare favorably in size with this first structure.

There will be five immense potteries to start with and 2,000 people employed. There will also be the Keeling & Ridge Brick and Tile Co.'s big works, which will employ several hundred men and turn out from 75,000 to 125,000 bricks daily, besides an enormous amount of fine exterior and interior tile products. There will also be a splendid electric light plant to supply the streets and business houses, factories and homes with illumination. There will be a number of other industries, as negotiations are in progress between the Derry Land Company and several big corporations which desire to locate in Derry.

CHOICE BUILDING SITES WILL GO AT $200 TO $600,

On Terms of 10 Per Cent Down, Balance 3 Per Cent Per Month. 10 Per Cent Discount for Cash When Paid Within 60 Days.

These terms and prices are subject to change on any of the lots remaining unsold after date of Free Excursion, as the object of this sale is to get building operations started at once, so that the men who come to work in the Derry China Co.'s immense new plant will have roofs to cover them. In fact, no such quality of property was ever offered before in a positively remarkable money-making locality at the figures that will be the sensation of this occasion.

Some business lots on Harvey and Owens avenues, and a few residence lots commanding a view of the great lake of mountain spring water will be offered at prices a little higher than $600, but in no case will the prices asked approach the sum that the lots can be resold for after the excitement of the early hours has subsided and investors realize how substantial a community is to be established.

You Get Modern Improvements!

You will understand how things are progressing when we tell you 10,000 men are now at work giving the city metropolitan improvements—streets are being sewered, graded, paved, curbed and provided with sidewalks. Purchasers who may purchase business sites before the improvements have been finished will be guaranteed improvements in the contracts. Street cars will be run from Derry to Johnstown, Blairsville, Saltsburg, Indiana, Latrobe, Greensburg, Jeannette and Pittsburgh. The line is now being projected. Another thing investors, and especially home-seekers, should not forget is that Derry will have the finest water supply in the State, if not in the United States. The Great Natural Lake, fed by mountain springs, contains 176,000,000 gallons, enough to supply a city of 300,000 population. There is more water than Highland Reservoir No. 2 in Pittsburgh holds, and in addition to it Derry has two large mountain reservoirs. Her water supply is inexhaustible. Not only inexhaustible, but pure.

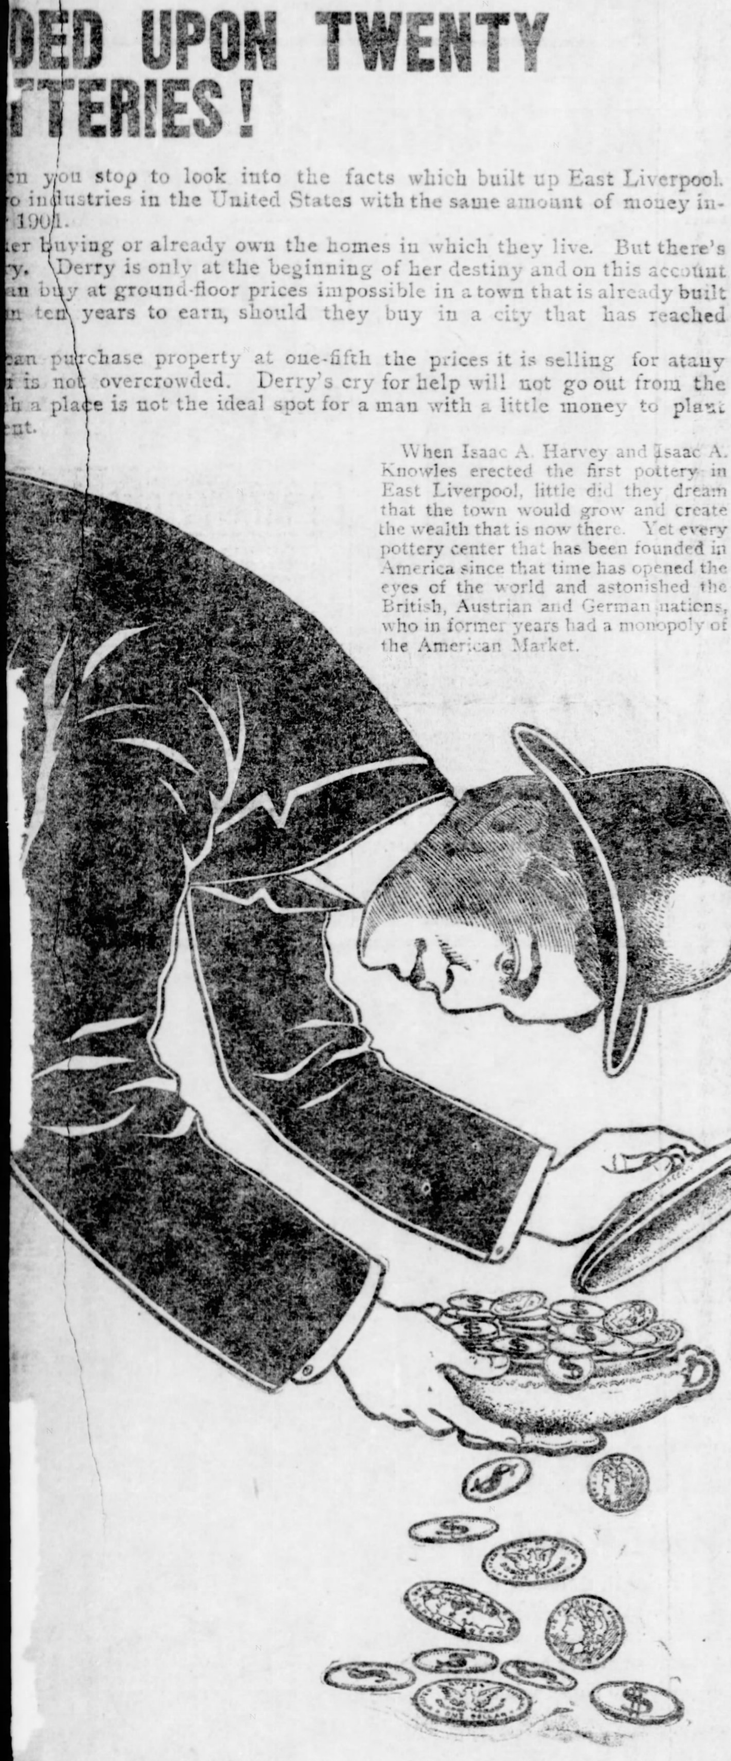
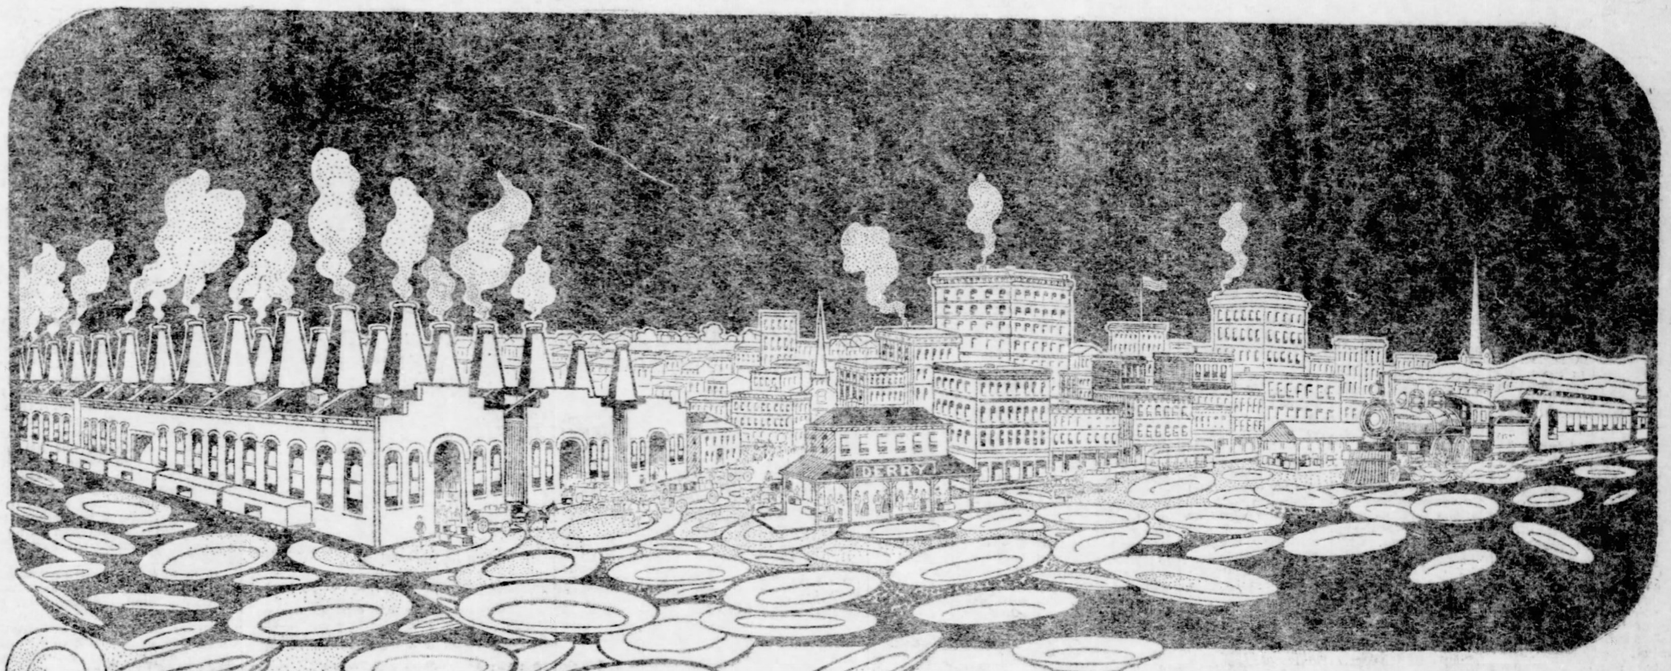
When Isaac A. Harvey and Isaac A. Knowles erected the first pottery in East Liverpool, little did they dream that the town would grow and create the wealth that is now there. Yet every pottery center that has been founded in America since that time has opened the eyes of the world and astonished the British, Austrian and German nations, who in former years had a monopoly of the American Market.





BIG WAGES!

As a rule a potter earns better wages and lives better than any other class of workmen in the United States. His hours of employment are the shortest. He starts to work at 7 A. M. stops for a second breakfast at 9:30 to 10 A. M., goes to dinner at noon, and quits work at 4 P. M. This gives him leisure moments for shopping, outdoor sports and society. These leisure hours make him the greatest liver on earth, and as a consequence the greatest shopper. Where there are potteries of magnitude there are always a large number of good stores. This is a point investors and business men who desire to locate in a new town where they can build up a splendid business should not overlook. If you get in now you can pick some great store sites on Harvey and Owens Avenues. We are sure that any of these sites can be resold before Spring at an advance of $1,000 over present prices. Very choice lots that you can purchase today at $750 will be worth not a dollar less than $3,000 by next June, and may go to $4,500 or $5,000.

These statements may seem erratic, but when you look at the pottery town of Sebring, Ohio, which can never have the future that the recently discovered, unequaled natural resources will establish at Derry, you begin to realize that we are printing facts based upon precedent— statements that can be relied upon. If there be an investor who doubts the authenticity of this assertion the Derry Land Company is in a position to make the matter clearer in a personal interview, as there are projects on foot which would take more space to print than is at our command.

BIG AIR BRAKE PROFITS RUN ON

George Westinghouse Asserts There Will Be No Merger With Rivals.

NEW ALLIED CONCERN

Despite Reduction on Price of Freight Brakes, Gross Earnings Rose to $8,559,503, or $689,646 Over Year Before.

The annual report of President George Westinghouse, in behalf of the directors of the Westinghouse Air-brake Company, submitted to the stockholders at the annual meeting held in Wilmerding yesterday afternoon, showed gross earnings for the year ending with July above those of the year before, and net earnings slightly less, while the dividend payment was over $150,000 less than the year before.

The company starts this fiscal year, beginning with August, with a credit to its profit and loss account of $3,237,044 39, as against a balance of $2,942,873 44 carried over for the year ending with July, 1901.

Gross earnings for the last fiscal year were $8,559,503, as against $7,869,857 the year before, an increase of $689,646; net earnings were $2,028,695, as against $2,981,842 the year before, a decrease of $52,647; dividend payments aggregated $2,634,468, as against $2,792,250, a decrease of $157,782.

New Brake Company Formed.

In his annual summary on the business of the company President Westinghouse announced the formation of the Standard Traction Brake Company to transact the electro-magnetic and other street car brake business. The new company is capitalized at $100,000, the stock being owned by the airbrake company.

The president called attention to the fact that the business of the past year shows a considerable increase over that of any of the former years. Notwithstanding a very large reduction in the selling price of freight brakes, he remarked that net results are substantially the same as the year before.

Mr. Westinghouse put to rest the recurring rumors that the company plans to consolidate with contemporary concerns. Of this he said:

"The officers of your company have been repeatedly questioned in regard to persistent rumors, circulated in the interest of other parties, that a consolidation of brake interests is about to be effected. There is no foundation whatever for any of these statements."

Foreign Interests Very Satisying.

Referring to the street car brake business, Mr. Westinghouse said: "The progress of this department of the business has been very satisfactory in view of the fact that it is passing through a period of development, and it is expected that the present fiscal year will show profitable returns. Large orders are now in hand, and the field seems almost unlimited."

He announced that the interests of the company in foreign brake companies have increased materially in value through the satisfactory results of their operations.

"The friction draft gear, to which reference was made in last year's report, has assumed considerable importance," he said. "After paying its proportion of the general expense of this company, which during the past fiscal year has been about one-tenth, there has been a net profit of $81,204 74, which appears under the heading 'Income from Other Sources.'"

Shares numbering 154,423 were voted at the meeting and the stockholders re-elected George Westinghouse as president and the following directors: George Westinghouse, Robert Pitcairn, H. H. Westinghouse, John Caldwell, E. M. Herr, W. W. Card and Henry W. Oliver.

MORE REMOVALS MADE.

Directors Leslie and McCandless Order Dismissals Which Have a Smack of Politics.

Director Leslie is still keeping the employes of his department in terror. Yesterday he removed O. E. Gibson of chemical engine company No. 1 from his position. He demanded his resignation on Monday evening for conduct unbecoming an employe of the city. R. H. Jackson was appointed in his place.

Hugh King was appointed by Director Leslie as license and pawnshop clerk to succeed Thomas E. Malley, who was recently appointed an operative in the bureau of detectives.

Ralph Simms, a transitman in the bureau of construction, was dismissed yesterday by Director McCandless. The letter of dismissal stated that the discharge was "for the good of the service." Recently the "organization's" Nineteenth ward committee found undisputable evidence that Simms was an ardent Citizens party man, and his dismissal was ordered at once.

COMMERCE AHEAD OF POPULATION

SECRETARY SHAW TALKS ABOUT PROGRESS.

We Must Finally Adopt Metric System of Weights and Measures.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The corner stone of the new New York customs house was laid today. The ceremonies were made impressive by the presence of a number of committees of prominent men from the leading mercantile and industrial organizations and detachments of militia and regular troops. Speeches were made by Secretary of the Treasury Shaw and former Secretary Gage. Secretary Shaw said in part:

"Our foreign commerce, like the productive and consumptive capacity of our people, has increased more rapidly than our population. Since 1860 population has multiplied by two and one-half, while our foreign commerce has multiplied by three and one-third. Thus our very prosperity redounds to the advantage of those across the seas, who supply that which we do not produce.

"We labor under a disadvantage, as compared with some other countries, in our standard of weights and measures. Sooner or later we must come to the metric system, and in my judgment, the sooner the better. But we have the advantage over all other great commercial countries in our monetary denominations. The dollar, dime, cent and mill are the natural complement to the metric system of weights and measures.

"Give us a currency as secure, a banking policy as elastic, a system of weights and measures as convenient as our rivals," he said in conclusion, "give us non-partisan support to such measures as will establish lines of steamship communication with countries in South America, South Africa and the islands adjacent, give us the Isthmian canal, and we ought to be able to maintain such relations to the commerce of the world as will conserve the peace and good will of all nations, while we carry beneath every sky a language that breathes liberty and patriotism and the object lesson of a flag that stands for equal rights and justice according to law."

THEIR HEARTS WERE TRUE

Lovers in England Seven Years Ago Are Reunited and Married in Pittsburgh.

A pretty little romance culminated last night in the marriage of Joseph Walters of Allegheny and Miss Isabella Shaw of Leigh, England, at the residence of the Rev. John A. Jayne in Chester avenue, Allegheny.

The couple had been lovers in England, both living in Leigh. Seven years ago, Walters, who is 24 years old, came to this country to make a home, leaving his sweetheart, then a girl of 15, behind him. Walters has been working in the Pressed Steel car plant.

He wrote to his sweetheart to come here. She undertook the voyage alone and yesterday alighted from a car at Union station, to be caught blushing and sobbing in the arms of her young lover.

Italian Embassy for Henry White.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 7.—Henry White, secretary of the United States embassy at London, is to be made ambassador to Rome. The appointment, however, is not to be made immediately. Mr. Meyer, the ambassador to Rome, has just returned to that post from a visit to his home in Massachusetts, and it is expected that he will remain in Rome during the winter.

RAILWAY CLUB WILL BANQUET

Annual Meeting of Pittsburgh's Young Organization Will Be Memorable.

WORK ON THE WABASH

President Ramsey to Be Here Today and Within Two Weeks Great Activity Will Be Apparent.

The executive committee of the Railway club of Pittsburgh met yesterday to make preliminary arrangements for the annual meeting on the last Friday of this month. Being the first annual session, it is intended to make the event one of particular note. A special committee was appointed to prepare a program. The committee is composed of J. D. McIlwain, chairman; R. A. Bole, J. P. Brown, J. L. Hukill and L. H. Turner.

Several prominent railroad men will deliver addresses. Banquet covers will be laid for more than 200 in the Hotel Henry auditorium. About the only matter of business to be transacted will be the election of officers. From present indications there will be no change in this year's list of officers, who are: J. H. McConnell, president; L. H. Turner, vice president; J. D. McIlwain, secretary, and J. D. Conway, secretary. The executive committee is composed of D. F. Crawford, chairman; J. Simmons and H. D. Hyndman.

Few railroad clubs have had more rapid growth than the local organization. Although in existence only a year, its membership is nearly 300, including prominent railroad men from various parts of the country. A number of applications for membership will be received at the meeting this month, and the indications are that fully 200 will be enrolled during the ensuing year.

WORK ON THE WABASH WILL SOON BE VISIBLE

Within Two Weeks Much Activity Will Be Shown—Ramsey Comes Tomorrow.

Capt. A. P. Boller, consulting engineer of the Wabash at New York, came to Pittsburgh yesterday for a conference with J. W. Patterson, chief engineer of the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western. As a result considerable activity in the work on the Pittsburgh extension may be expected within 10 days. Final arrangements were made for starting work on the Monongahela river bridge. The material for the structure has been delivered and is held in storage pending the completion of the anchorage piers. Capt. Boller said yesterday that the first structural work would probably be started on Monday of next week.

More than 200,000 ties, now on the way to Pittsburgh, will likely be received in a few days and distributed along the line east and west from Bridgeville. The Carnegie company has promised the first delivery of rails within 10 days, and on the strength of this information Chief Engineer Patterson says the work of laying the track will be started in not less than 10 days. President Ramsey will be in Pittsburgh tomorrow, when definite action will be taken toward commencing work on the terminal station at Liberty avenue and Ferry street.

Master Mechanics Met.

Master Mechanics and motive power men of the Pittsburgh division, Baltimore & Ohio, met in this city yesterday to discuss matters of importance in connection with that department. A. A. Kearney, motive power superintendent, presided. Action was taken that will doubtless relieve much of the difficulty arising from the shortage of engines.

Railroad Notes.

John S. Beale, traveling freight agent of the Columbus, Sandusky & Hocking, was in the city yesterday.

A. L. Gilmore, representing the Trades' Dispatch fast freight line, at Columbus, was in Pittsburgh yesterday.

A. M. Schoyer, general superintendent of the Northwest system, Pennsylvania lines, yesterday completed an inspection trip over the Chicago division.

J. Lefeever has been appointed acting assistant road foreman of engines for the Baltimore & Ohio, with headquarters at Akron, O.

Plans have been approved by the Baltimore & Ohio for new shops and yard extensions at Parkersburg, O., Bellowayo, O., and Keyser, W. Va. The improvements will cost about $1,500,000.

Work was commenced yesterday on the construction of a new passenger station at Verona, on the P. & A. V., to replace the old building recently damaged by fire.

SOCIETY

THE meeting of the Women's club yesterday in the assembly rooms of the Central Young Women's Christian association was very interesting. William M. Stevenson, librarian of the Allegheny Carnegie library, spoke on "The White Man's Burden Under the Stars and Stripes," contrasting the position of the United States with regard to the Philippines with the attitude of other countries to their distant provinces.

The Women's club this year has prepared no general program, but intends to take up current events and timely topics, the issuing of monthly bulletins, instead of a year book, permitting its members to study and discuss any important event or movement before it becomes past history. The club, which is more than a quarter of a century old, being the oldest of women's clubs in Western Pennsylvania, has studied the history and civilization of almost every country.

At the meeting yesterday afternoon Mrs. Andrew Easton and Mrs. C. I. Wade were elected delegates to the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, meeting next week in Titusville. Because of the recent death of Dr. Edwin Miller, no musical program was presented yesterday, Mrs. Miller being musical director of the club.

Ogg—McKee.

A home wedding, quietly conducted and with appointments which were especially pretty and dainty, took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Finley K. Ong, in South Negley avenue, East End. Their only daughter, Miss Florence Ong, and Roy B. McKee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McKee, of North Negley avenue, were married by the Rev. Henry T. McClelland, pastor of the Bellefield Presbyterian church. The bride, who is quite a beauty, was attended by Miss Agnes H. Armstrong, who was maid of honor, and by Miss Mary Worthington, bridesmaid. Norval M. McKee was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Edwin M. Ong, a brother of the bride, and A. Earl Sloan. The bride's gown was of white silk and lace, while the attending maids wore gowns of white, with bouquets of pink flowers. Pink and white flowers appeared throughout the house. After a southern wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. McKee will be at home at the Beechwood, Forbes and Shady avenues, East End, at home days being after November 15.

Wedding at Youngstown.

A wedding of interest to the younger set in the Monongahela valley will take place this evening when Robert Sweadner, a son of Richard Sweadner of Third street, Braddock, and Miss Kathleen Campbell, daughter of Walter Campbell, will be married at the home of the bride in Youngstown, O., the Rev. Dr. W. Stocking, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Youngstown, officiating. The groom until a few years ago resided in Braddock, but is now connected with the new Colonial Steel Company, near Beaver Falls. The bride is well-known in Youngstown social circles. Miss Zillah Kelley of Youngstown will be the bridesmaid, and Ralph Oster of Braddock will be best man. A wedding tour will be taken through the east, and on their return the young couple will reside at Beaver.

Oakmont Woman's Club.

The first meeting of the Oakmont Woman's club for the season of 1902-3 was held yesterday afternoon in the assembly room of the Oakmont Carnegie library. No set program was prepared, as it was the intention of the ladies to get together and have a full understanding of the year's work before the winter's study was commenced. Mrs. William F. Drill is president for the year. The study for the year is to be on Pennsylvania. History of the commonwealth is to be a large factor, as well as a study of the state's laws. Different members have been assigned topics that embrace a study of bough laws, laws relating to married and single women's property rights, and a number of other topics that will be equally interesting and instructive.

McMillan—Cornelius.

In Uniontown last Monday Miss Hattie B. McMillan of Dunbar, and David W. Cornelius of Pittsburgh, were married by the Rev. S. R. Gordon, D. D. After a short wedding trip east Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius will come to Pittsburgh to make their home. The bride is a daughter of John McMillan of Dunbar. Mr. Cornelius is the son of D. William Cornelius of this city, the well-known contractor.

Reception Day.

The managers of the Presbyterian hospital of Pittsburgh and Allegheny will hold their annual reception and donation day tomorrow, Thursday, October 9, from 2 until 10 p. m., at the hospital, Ridge avenue and Walker street, Allegheny. All who feel an interest in the hospital and its work are cordially invited. Donations of sheets, blankets, spreads, towels, bureau scarfs, night shirts, night gowns, surgeons' gowns, wash cloths, table linen, tea towels, groceries and jellies will be thankfully received.

An Indiana Wedding.

INDIANA, PA., Oct. 7.—Walter L. George of Apollo, and Miss Edna Leydic of Indiana, will be married on October 22, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Margaret Ledic. The Rev. Dr. J. D. Brownlee of the First United Presbyterian church of this place, will perform the ceremony in the presence of relatives and intimate friends of the young couple. Mr. George is a prominent merchant in Apollo, as well as an officer in the First National bank of that place. Miss Leydic is an Indiana Normal school graduate and has been a school teacher.

Sims—Orr.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—The marriage of Miss Harriett Sims and Fred M. Orr took place this afternoon at the First Baptist church. Dr. Henry Parrish officiating. The bride is a graduate of the Pennsylvania Training school for nurses at Philadelphia, and the groom a member of the undertaking firm of John S. Orr & Co.

Some Future Events.

Mrs. Fred W. Kiefer of Bellevue has issued cards for a reception on Thursday afternoon, October 16. The card of her daughter, Miss Elsie Kiefer, is inclosed.

Miss Anna Gerwig and Miss Emma Gerwig will give euchre parties next week on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons. There will be no honor guest.

The Thursday Afternoon club of Wilkinsburg will observe President's Day tomorrow afternoon, in Hamnett hall, Penn avenue and Wood street, Wilkinsburg, the hours being from 2 o'clock until 5.

The New Era club will inaugurate its club year this afternoon by the president's reception, which will be conducted at the home of Mrs. G. A. F. Ahlberg in Bayard street, Shadyside.

Notes of Society.

A pretty home wedding took place at Ben Avon yesterday afternoon, when Miss Carrie G. Wilhelm, daughter of John Wilhelm, Jr., was united in marriage with Charles C. Boggs, also of Ben Avon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Phipps have closed their home in this city and will spend the winter in Denver, Colo., and in California. Last winter Mr. Phipps purchased a handsome house in Denver.

The Iroquois club gave its first dance this season in the South Highland auditorium last evening. The committee in charge of the arrangements included J. H. Blaiss, John F. Mueller, Frank G. Conley and Harry T. Frauenheim.

A dinner and dress rehearsal of their wedding will be given this evening by Miss Estelle Montgomery and Frank Davenport, of Sewickley, at the home of Miss Montgomery's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Montgomery. The attendants of the young couple will be the guests at the dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad C. Arensburg, Miss Edith Arensburg, Charles F. Arensburg and Frank Arensburg, all of Oakmont, have returned from a summer spent in European travel. Miss Willa Cather of the Pittsburgh High school, and Miss Isabella McClung, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Samuel A. McClung, have also returned from a summer's travel and study in Continental Europe.

Col. Partridge Keeps His Job.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(Special.)—After a conference with Mayor Low today it was decided that Col. John N. Partridge should remain at the head of the police department, for the present at least. How long he will remain in command will depend on developments.

Kittanning, Pa., Oct. 6, 1902.

To Citizens of the Allegheny Valley.

Gentlemen—The sixth annual convention of the Allegheny River Improvement association will be held in the court house at Kittanning, Pa., on Tuesday, October 28, 1902.

This notice is not directed specially to the Allegheny River improvement association as an organization, but to all the citizens of the Allegheny valley who are interested in the project to improve the river.

To this meeting and without further notice all municipalities, boards of trade and other organized bodies, manufacturers, shippers and contractors are invited to send delegates and the people of all sections of the Allegheny valley are urged to be present.

S. B. Cochrane, president; J. W. Hempbill, George E. Moore, vice presidents; R. B. McKee, secretary; H. M. Brackenridge, treasurer; John M. Given, H. L. Goerman, A. W. Bell, Robert Heerlein, executive committee.

MERIT MAKES IT FAMOUS.

The Only Remedy in the World, Except a Surgical Operation, That Will Certainly Cure Any Form of Piles.

The study of physicians, the experiments of chemists, the loudly advertised pretensions of quacks, have been for years expended in one direction; to find a pile cure that would cure.

The results have been a number of harmless and in most cases useless ointments, suppositories and even internal remedies, which the public have weighed in the balance of experience and found wanting; nearly all of them gave some relief, but nothing approaching a radical cure resulted from these preparations.

The remedy required is one which will immediately stop the pain, so severe in many cases of piles, and then by contracting the small blood vessels (capillaries), to their normal size, produces a radical cure by reducing and finally absorbing the tumors and healing the inflamed, raw mucous surfaces.

Until a few years ago, no such remedy had been produced, but at that time a suppository was placed upon the market, which has since proven itself to be the long-sought, permanent cure for this common and distressing trouble; it has rapidly become famous throughout the United States and Canada, and is now sold by all druggists under the name of Pyramid Pile Cure.

It is now the best-known, because its merit and safety have advertised it wherever used. It has been advertised by word of mouth, from one sufferer to another; people who have tried everything else, even submitting to painful and dangerous surgical operations without avail have finally found that piles can be cured without pain and without expense practically, as the Pyramid Pile Cure is sold for the nominal price of 50 cents and $1 per package.

The Pyramid instantly stops all pain and at the same time contains no cocaine, morphine or narcotics; the acids and healing properties contained in the remedy speedily remove, cause a healthful, natural contraction and absorption of the tumors; it will cure any form of rectal trouble except cancer and advanced fistula, which, by the way, nearly always result from neglecting proper and timely treatment for piles.

A Bowl of Rose Suds

Munyon's Witch-Hazel Soap

She finds that it gives her such fragrance as would result from a veritable bath of roses; she discovers that if her flesh be hardened, rough, chapped or reddened the soap's medicated properties will heal, soften and beautify it; she learns that it will eradicate pimples, blackheads and all forms of skin disorders; and once having discovered that it is the greatest aid both to becoming and to remaining beautiful, she will never be without it. AN INTERESTING MEETING.

Much Interest Attaches to Coming Session of American Railway Association.

Notices have been received for the fall meeting of the American Railway association, to be held at Detroit for three days commencing October 22. Of particular interest will be the report of Arthur Hale, assistant general manager of the Baltimore & Ohio, on the workings of the per diem system for the first three months of its existence. Mr. Hale is the promoter of this system and has prepared some interesting figures showing the efficiency of the per diem as compared with the old method of mileage charges.

Another matter of importance will be the report of Ralph Peters, general superintendent of the Southwest system, Pennsylvania lines, on a uniform code for telegraphic service. Reports will also be heard from a number of committees. Those who will attend from Pittsburgh are Robert Pitcairn of the Pennsylvania railroad, A. B. Starr and A. M. Schoyer of the Pennsylvania lines, L. O. Haas of the Baltimore & Ohio and J. B. Yohe of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie.

Promotion for Davis.

O. M. Conley, general agent of the 'Frisco lines in this city, announced yesterday the appointment of R. S. Davis as contracting agent in the local office. Mr. Davis fills a vacancy recently created by the promotion of Mr. Williams to succeed J. F. Constans, who left the 'Frisco lines to become general coal freight agent of the Pittsburgh, Shamut & Northern. Mr. Davis is well known in local freight circles.

CONSPIRACY IN COAL TRANSFER

Stockholders Are Charged With Misappropriating Assets.

ACCOUNTING ASKED FOR

S. O. Rhodes Alleges an Incomplete and Unjust Distribution of McKinley Coal Company Property Was Made.

Charges of conspiracy are made in the bill in equity filed yesterday by S. O. Rhodes against William H. McKinley, Ernest McKinley and the McKinley Coal Company. The plaintiff is a creditor of the coal company. He asks for an accounting; that William H. McKinley be directed to pay the plaintiff $2,857 68; that he make a discovery of the assets of the concern, and that he be restrained from disposing of such assets.

The transaction whereby the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company got possession of the McKinley Coal Company for $140,000 worth of stock in the first named company in 1899, is reviewed. It is declared that this stock was received by William H. McKinley, and that it became his duty to sell enough stock and bonds to pay the debts of the company and distribute the balance to the stockholders. It is said he neglected and refused to make an accounting, and that the plaintiff believes and expects to be able to prove that William H. McKinley has misappropriated the assets of the concern and has made an incomplete and unjust distribution; also that part of the stock in his hands has been attached for his own personal debts.

The plaintiff says he expects to be able to prove that the defendants are conspiring together for the purpose of defrauding him out of the balance of the money due him by failing to redeem the stock of the McKinley Coal Company, which is held as security for debts. It is charged that the management and control of the company was in the hands of William H. McKinley and that the directors have neglected to do their duty and compel the defendants to make an accounting.

PROCESS FOR HACKE.

Pleaded Guilty to Assault, But Not in Court for Sentence—Frank H. Dabbs Convicted.

In criminal court yesterday Paul H. Hacke, through his attorney, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery. When he was called to appear for sentence he did not answer and a process was issued for him. He was charged with taking J. A. Mould by the throat and attempting to strike him with his fist on June 20.

B. L. H. Dabbs, Jr., and Frank Dabbs, the East End photographers, were on trial for assault and battery on charges preferred by Mrs. Mary McMillan. The prosecutrix said she, her son and a man named Yost, entered into a partnership to conduct a photograph business and later disagreed. The defendants were involved and she testified that they wanted to get her out of the place of business. She alleged that on May 28, at the home of Frank Dabbs, in Baum street, she was attacked by him in his efforts to get her copy of the agreement. The jury convicted Frank H. Dabbs, but recommend him to the mercy of the court.

B. L. H. Dabbs, whose offense was alleged to have been committed on August 14, was acquitted, but the costs placed on him.

SALE SET ASIDE.

Kaufmann Bros. Bid of $25,000 for Patterson Dry Goods Stock Higher Than Price Received.

The receiver's sale of the stock of the Patterson Dry Goods Company was set aside yesterday by Judge Brown, upon petition of Maurice Gomprecht and other creditors. It was alleged by the petitioners that the receiver sold the stock in parcels, for $13,145, but that Kaufmann Bros. bid $25,000 for the stock, and are still willing to pay the sum offered.

For the receiver it was answered that the $25,000 bid was not received until after it was announced that the stock would be disposed of in parts. In the same case the Bridgeport Silk Company filed a petition asking for the release of several oil paintings, said to have been left with the company for exhibition purposes.

MRS. GOORDMAN DENIES.

Attorneys Diamond & Zacharias yesterday filed an answer to the divorce suit of Adolph F. Goordman against Augusta Goordman, in which the respondent denies all the allegations of cruelty made by the libellant, and specifically denies that she ever compelled her husband to sleep in the "garret," or refused him coffee and cakes before a guest at their table in order to humiliate him; or that she ever knocked him down with her fists or otherwise abused and maltreated him.

Mrs. Goordman alleges that her husband, on the other hand, made a common practice of beating and abusing her every Sunday evening for two years. She avers that when she and the libellant came from Florida with their two children, about three years ago, he refused to provide her and the children with food, and it became necessary for her to pawn her wedding ring to procure enough money to buy food for herself and children.

TOOK NO ADVANTAGE.

Defendants Deny They Bought Property From Weak-Minded Man.

An answer was filed yesterday by the individual defendants in the case of Margaret L. Provost against Charles W. and Watson E. Provost and the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston Railway Company. It was alleged in the bill that the defendants obtained property from Samuel P. Provost while he was of a weak mind, and then transferred it to the other defendant, the railroad company, at a greatly increased price.

It is denied that Samuel P. Provost was of unsound mind at the time the sale was made, or that the real value of the property was not known to him. It is denied that at the time it was known the railroad company contemplated appropriating the property.

CONTESTS FATHER'S WILL.

Register Edwards held a hearing in the contest over the estate of Thomas Harvey, late of Braddock. His estate is worth about $10,000. Mrs. Mary Burke, a daughter, is the contestant. Testamentary incapacity and undue influence on the part of James Harvey and his wife are alleged.

It was testified that the decedent was addicted to strong drink, one witness swearing he had not been sober for 15 years. It was also sworn to that Harvey, a few days before his death, was under the influence of liquor and fell down stairs, breaking his collar bone. Another hearing will be held.

On Trial for Fraud.

Yesterday Judge Buffington convened the United States district court with a special jury, and the taking of testimony was begun in the cases against Charles W. Tammany and Joseph Rubinsky of Wilkesbarre, and Jacob Green of Pottsville, against whom four indictments were found on charges of using the United States mails for fraudulent purposes. The men are accused of having worked an extensive scheme to defraud wholesale drygoods and clothing dealers.

One Gets Two Shares.

Judge Cohen yesterday made a decree of distribution in the estate of William A. Reel. Mary Olive Morgan, a grandchild, and also an adopted daughter, receives two shares of the estate, amounting to $5,885 56. One share goes to her by reason of being an adopted daughter, and the other as her portion of her mother's share of the estate, the latter being a daughter of the deceased.

Seker Will Contest.

The hearing in the contest over the estate of Wilhelmina Seker of Allegheny was continued yesterday. Mrs. Mary Cassidy, daughter of the decedent, swore her mother began drinking liquor in 1898, and after that was frequently intoxicated. At one time, she said, her mother was seen drinking whisky out of a basin.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

A bill in equity was filed yesterday by C. L. Kuhn against James M. Skelly for the specific performance of an agreement to sell the plaintiff property in the Twenty-first ward.

A bill in equity was filed by Aeraham D. Trevaskis against Turtle Creek to prevent it from building a bridge over a creek. It is claimed the stone work will change the course of the water and injure the plaintiff's property.

Executions were issued as follows: Annie E. Barnes vs. W. G. Megley et al., $2,585 84; James Longenbaugh vs. Mrs. Annie Parks et al., 84.0 45; Herald Printing Company vs. W. C. Barnard, $2,143; Katherine Trautman vs. William J. Datz, $1,213 59; G. J. Gebhardt vs. B. S. Dunning, $275 69.

EMPIRE ASPHALT CO. GIVEN A SPURRING

Director McCandless Serves Notice on Company That It Is Likely to Lose Contract.

Director McCandless has notified the Empire Asphalt Company that unless it does work with greater rapidity it will be compelled to relinquish a number of its contracts. These contracts expire next month, and the director does not believe the company will be able to finish any of them. There is a penalty attached to the contracts, but as there are no instances on record where the city was able to collect penalties for failures to carry out contracts Director McCandless is not depending much on that feature.

The Empire company has the contract for the repaving of 11 streets, and all were to be done by the middle of next month. The company began work on the repaving of North Negley avenue, but so far has not finished that street and has not begun work on any of the others. Complaints are coming in every day about the streets that should have been repaved long ago. It is impossible to do asphalt work in winter, and for that reason it is believed that some of this work will have to go over until next spring, with the result that the city is likely to be made the defendant in damage suits.

At the time the Empire company secured the contracts the specifications did not provide that every company bidding must have a plant in operation within the city limits. That clause has been added to the specifications of contracts awarded since, as Director McCandless believes it will save a great deal of trouble.

"The Empire company had an old plant here," said Director McCandless yesterday, "but it was of very small capacity and did not furnish enough asphalt to keep the pavers going. I remonstrated with them about their dilatory methods, and they promised to have a plant here soon with a capacity of 1,000 yards of asphalt a day. This plant was to arrive here today, and I understand that it did arrive. I do not see how they will be able to get the work done in the required time, however."

COLOR NO BAR.

Roosevelt Tells Members of Colored Race His Policy of Appointments.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 7.—Bishop Walter of New Jersey, Bishop Clinton of North Carolina and the Rev. L. L. Carruthers of New York, representing the executive committee of the Afro-American council, called upon President Roosevelt today to ascertain his attitude toward the movement among certain Republicans of the south to exclude the negroes from participation in the councils of the party. They announced that the president stated to them that in appointments the character, intelligence and the esteem in which the applicant was held in the community in which he lived would be the first considerations, and that no man would be excluded or appointed because of his color.

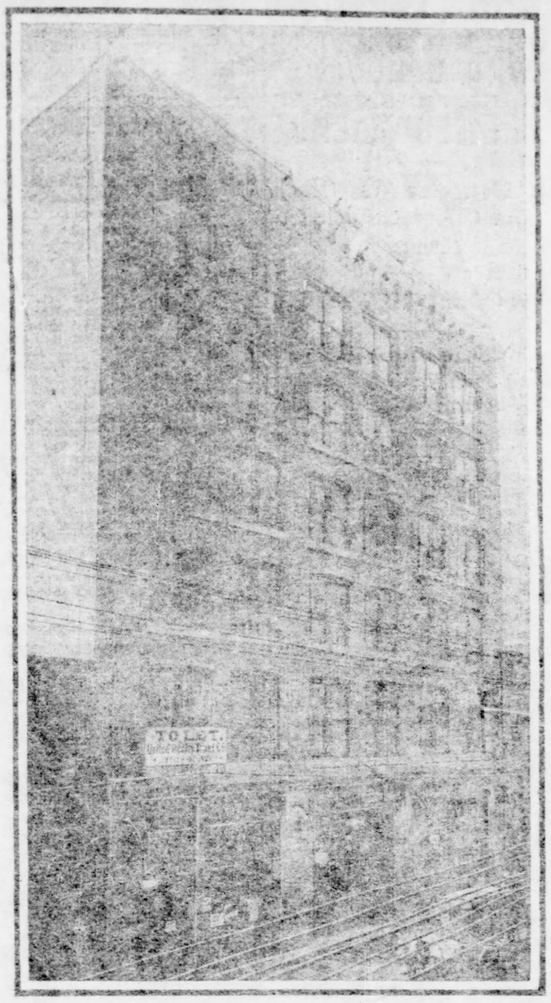
For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

THE NEW PHIPPS BUILDING, PENN AVENUE, NEAR TENTH STREET



A substantial addition to the business blocks in Penn avenue is the newly-erected warehouse of Henry Phipps at Nos. 930-934. The building is a double structure six stories high with dimensions 74x110 feet. The architects, Alden & Harlow, made the foundations strong enough for six additional stories, which will be added if needed. The walls are pressed brick over a steel frame and the front is of brownstone. The building is fireproof and of extra heavy construction to enable it to bear the weight of large amounts of merchandise. It is equipped with two passenger elevators, two freight elevators and two electric light plants. On the first floor are two storerooms which can be easily thrown together, and the remaining five stories are designed for storing merchandise. One-half of the building has been rented by De Noon Bros. for a long term of years.

BUSINESS IS STAGNANT.

Low Price of Sugar and Scarcity of Labor Injures Hawaii.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—United States Senators Barton of Kansas, Foster of Washington and Mitchell of Oregon have returned from the Hawaiian Islands, where they have been on a tour of investigation as a sub-committee of the senate committee on Pacific Islands and Porto Rico. They were accompanied by ex-Senator Thurston of Nebraska. Referring to the industrial conditions of the Islands, Senator Mitchell said:

"Contrary to the conditions of great commercial and business prosperity now prevailing on the mainland throughout the United States, we regret to say that we found the Islands in a state of very great commercial and industrial depression, caused, it is generally claimed, by the low price of sugar and the scarcity and high price of labor."

CAPT. RODGERS' DISCOVERY.

His Son, Named After H. C. Frick, Blind in One Eye.

Capt. and Mrs. W. B. Rodgers of Bellevue recently made the discovery that their 7-year-old son Clay, named in honor of Henry Clay Frick, had been blind in one eye since he was born. The captain at first thought the boy's eyes were afflicted because of an illness several years ago.

The boy's blindness is caused by a growth back of the pupil. He has what is known to the medical profession as an oversight in the good eye, and it was necessary to give him a pair of glasses strong enough for a person 34 years old.

The specialist who has been treating him says the good eye will grow stronger, but the one which has been blind since birth can never be used.

YEARS OF COMFORT AND HAPPINESS

Result From Reading an Advertisement.

"Several years ago I was in a terrible condition from catarrh of the head and throat. Had been afflicted for five years, and spent large sums of money with doctors, one of whom gave me the pleasant assurance that as soon as it reached my stomach I would die. I happened to take up a Baltimore American one day, and saw Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm advertised, sent for it, and the cure was complete and wonderful. Many thanks to you for these years of comfort and happiness. Since being cured I have not been troubled, even by an ordinary cold, for several years. Have watched every opportunity to recommend Balm to others. W. C. BALCH,
"1227 18th St., N. W., Washington, D. C."

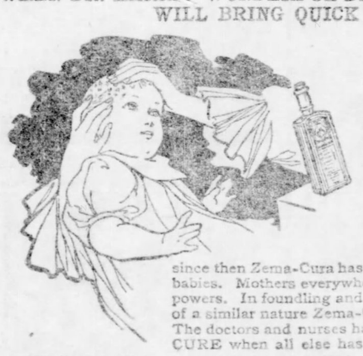
Mrs. Maggie Mitchell of Allegheny, Pa., 330 E. North avenue, writes:

"For over twenty years I was so deaf that I could not have heard a cannon go off if standing near. Now, since using nearly a jar of your Balm, I can hear the clock tick very plainly. I am very thankful that I have found a remedy that will cure me. Will recommend and praise your wonderful Balm."

Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm cures catarrh, deafness and sore throat. Acts like magic in curing children. A free sample of the Balm can be obtained for a two-cent stamp, or a full-sized jar for 50 cents, by sending to Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, O. Druggists sell it.

WHY SHOULD BABY SUFFER WITH ECZEMA?

WHEN DR. HARRIS' WONDERFUL DISCOVERY, ZEMA-CURA, WILL BRING QUICK RELIEF.



Days and months of agony will be spared the baby if at the first appearance of Eczema you begin to use Zema-Cura. Baby will not dislike Zema-Cura and it will bring immediate relief and permanent cure. You need not fear to use Zema-Cura on the baby. This wonderful remedy was the result of years of patient labor by Dr. Harris to find a cure for the eczema of her own little daughter, Eugenia, whom prominent specialists had pronounced incurable. Little Eugenia was cured, and since then Zema-Cura has cured hundreds and thousands of babies. Mothers everywhere testify to its wonderful curing powers. In foundling and orphan asylums and other places of a similar nature Zema-Cura is generally and freely used. The doctors and nurses have learned that Zema-Cura will CURE when all else has failed.

"Dr. Harris:—We have used Zema-Cura in the Widows and Orphans Home of the I. O. O. F., and find it a most excellent remedy. It does the work it was intended to do thoroughly and completely. We readily and cheerfully recommend the same to all in need of such remedies."—JENNIE LYDA, Matron, Home for Widows and Orphans of Odd Fellows of Penna., Bon Avon, Pa.

TOMMY LEACH THE STAR

The Little Third Baseman Made Some Marvelous Plays—Sam Leever and Cy Young Were in Great Pitching Form.

The first game of the series between the champion Pirates and the all-star American league team was played at Exposition park yesterday afternoon and resulted in a victory for the local team by a score of 4 to 3. The weather conditions were such that only 2,200 people turned out to see the game and the crowd took a long chance, as the lowering clouds threatened a downpour at any minute.

During the second and third innings there was a very heavy downfall of rain, which drove the bleacher spectators into the grand stand, but the players did not seem to mind the drenching and continued play with the same spirit as though it was a bright August afternoon. This dampness soaked the playing field and made it both slippery and treacherous. Still this did not seem to affect the playing any, and the ball was handled almost as perfectly as though the grounds were in the finest of playing shape. The players, of course, had to exercise great care, still they allowed nothing to get away from them.

Pretty Contest to Look At.

The contest, from a playing point of view, was about as pretty an exhibition of baseball as has been seen here this season. Both teams were out after a victory good and hard, and the champions walked off with the palm simply because they outplayed the stars in the more scientific part of the contest, that of scoring runs. In the third inning the locals put up a display of good heady base running which called forth enthusiastic cheers from the spectators. The credit for this belonged to Fred Clarke, who scored from second base on Leach's infield hit, taking a chance that a less heady base runner would never have dared.

At all stages of the game both teams played fast, snappy ball, and the only slip-up on either side was made by Bobby Wallace, who was covering second for the All-Americans, and his error was largely caused by the slippery ground. The star of the afternoon was little Tommy Leach, whose work at third base was little short of phenomenal. He made many pretty plays, but his best performance was in the fifth inning, when he raced out to near the end of the field bleachers and gathered in Wallace's foul fly.

Wore Patriotic Uniforms.

The All-Americans when they appeared on the field were dressed in uniforms loud enough to be heard all over town. It consisted of a patriotic mixture of the red, white and blue, and while very loud, looked rather neat and pretty. The twirler they selected for the afternoon was Cyrus Denton Young, the Tuscarawas rail-splitter, who was the American league's premier pitcher and who, since his last appearance here, has taken on considerable weight in the bay window line. Old Cy, however, has not forgotten how to pitch, and after the third inning had the champions at his mercy.

Schoolmaster Sam Leever handed out the slants and curves for the champions, and Sammy put up a performance of unusual merit. The All-Americans managed to get a hit or two in the first five innings, but could not bunch enough to produce any runs. In the ninth, however, they started going, and for a time things looked serious. Harley led off with an infield single and Monte Cross got in a safety to right. Catcher Sullivan then smashed the ball on the nose and sent it against the flag pole for three bases, scoring Harley and Cross. Sullivan scored on Young's fly out to Beaumont. Then Sam took a brace and the next two batters were outs, ending the game.

Started Out Like Winners.

The champions started out doing business right off the reel. Beaumont led off with a three-bagger against the right field fence and scored on Clarke's slashing two-bagger to left. Manager Fred reached third on a passed ball and scored on Wagner's out at first. Beaumont also started the third with a single to center, but was forced at second by Clarke. Fred at once stole second, and scored on Leach's infield single, which Bradley waited to roll foul. Tommy reached second on the effort to catch Clarke at the plate. Wagner singled and Leach tried to score on it, but was caught. Honus moved to third on a wild pitch and scored on Wallace's fumble of Bransfield's hot grounder. The work of Umpires O'Day and O'Laughlin was beyond criticism. The score:

WILL HAVE RACE MEETS.

Beaver Falls Horse Lovers Organize a Driving Club.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—Quite a number of horsemen of the Beaver valley held a meeting last night and took steps for a series of races on the track on the Beaver County Agricultural society on October 22 and 23 and probably the 24th. Steps were also taken toward organizing a permanent club to be known as the Beaver Valley Driving club.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. N. S. Cook. It is proposed to hang up purses aggregating $1,200 for the two days' races, and as the county fairs will all have been held it is expected that quite a string of fast horses will compete. Another meeting will be held Wednesday night.

WILL TRY AGAIN TO GET THAT CUP

SIR THOMAS LIPTON SENDS HIS THIRD CHALLENGE.

Believes He Has the Winner This Year and That America Can't Turn Out One to Beat Her.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Sir Thomas Lipton's third challenge for a series of races for the America's cup was signed this afternoon at Belfast, Ireland, by the officials of the Royal Ulster Yacht club. The Hon. Charles Russell represented Sir Thomas Lipton. The challenge was immediately posted and goes to New York on the White Star line steamer Oceanic, which sails from Liverpool tomorrow and from Queenstown on Thursday.

The Associated Press understands that the terms of the challenge do not materially differ from those of 1900. The first races are expected to take place in August.

Sir Thomas Lipton said: "I cannot discuss the terms until the officials of the New York Yacht club have had an opportunity to deal with them and have signified their opinions in regard to them."

He believed the Shamrock III. would be an improvement on the last challenger. "If she is beaten," he said, "the Americans will have to produce a better boat than can be built in the United Kingdom.

"I intend leaving the Shamrock II. in America as a trial horse there, while I use the Shamrock I. for the same purpose on this side.

"On previous occasions the arrangements for the competitions were so adequately fulfilled that I can suggest no improvements. I am anticipating my visit with the keenest pleasure, whether I win or lose. I have always been treated with the greatest kindness, and it is quite a case of revisiting old friends, only this time I hope they will not have a faster boat."

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Lewis Cass Ledyard, commodore of the New York Yacht club, was much interested today when shown the cable from London stating that the challenge of Sir Thomas Lipton for the America's cup had been signed and posted. He said he had no private advices on the subject. As soon as the challenge is received a special meeting of the club will be called to act on its acceptance.

New Pirate's Clever Record.

In all probability the best pitching record for the season of 1902 was accomplished by Irwin Wilhelm, of the Birmingham (Ala.) team in the Southern league. Wilhelm, who is a Wooster (Ohio) boy, has signed with the champion Pittsburgh team for 1903. August 18 Birmingham was in a double header against Nashville. Wilhelm pitched both games in succession, allowing his opponents but one hit in each game. The contests were nine-inning events, the Nashville team being shut out in the first game 5 to 0 and losing the second 5 to 1. In 18 innings Wilhelm struck out eight men and gave but three bases on balls.

Pittsburgh Against Scottdale.

GREENSBURG, PA., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—The Pittsburgh eleven was put through two hard practices by Coach Richardson today. Tomorrow's game with the Scottdale eleven will not be an easy one. The Scottdale aggregation is made up of a husky set of fellows, for three years they have held the championship of the coke region, having been scored against only three times. Coach Richardson will try out every member of the Pittsburgh squad.

Pittsburgh Shooter in the Lead.

LIGONIER, PA., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—The first day of a two days' shoot of the Ligonier Rod and Gun club took place today. There were 12 events, at 100. Fleming of Pittsburgh was high man, making 169; Jennixer second, 168, and C. S. Shimp, of Ligonier, third, with 165. A big crowd witnessed the sport. The shoot will wind up tomorrow.

Wash-Jeff's Baseball Manager.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 7.—At a meeting of the W. and J. college athletic committee tonight William R. Stevenson of Oakdale, a senior, was re-elected manager of the 'varsity baseball team for next year.

BIG SURPRISE AT LEXINGTON

The Rajah Distanced in First Heat of the Big Futurity.

WAS THE HOT FAVORITE

Event Won by Nellie Jay and Proved a Good Thing for Driver—Tennesse Stake Won by Twinkle in Fast Time.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 7.—The Kentucky Futurity for three-year-old trotters again resulted in a surprise. The Rajah, the heavily backed favorite, broke three times in the first heat, finished last and was distanced. After five hard fought heats Nellie Jay, the Jay Hawk and Filly owned by George R. Wooden of Boston, captured the rich stake. For driving her to victory F. McKey received $10,000 and half the winnings in the betting ring.

When the Rajah ceased to be a possibility Gail Hamilton, who won the first heat, became favorite and encouraged her backers by taking the second heat. She then retired to the ruck, Nellie Jay fighting it out with John Mc and Anak the entire route in the last three heats.

The futurity was the feature of the opening of the Kentucky breeders' 30th meeting, and when Driver McKey had saluted the judges' stand after the deciding heat, he was taken from the sulky and carried on the shoulders of friends to the grand stand, while 8,000 people cheered. The Tennessee stake for 2:08 pacers was marked by fast time, the record for the event made by Champion Dan Patch last year being equaled, and was productive of close finishes.

Hudson drove Twinkle to victory after five hotly contested heats. Daphne Dallas challenged the mare in every heat, winning the second and third. Carl Wilkes was a close contender, finishing second in the last three heats. Dan R., the favorite, had to be content with fourth money.

Dr. Strong won the 2:17 trot and Kavalli the 2:11 pace in straight heats. The weather was ideal and the track fast. Summaries:

THE FLYAWAY HANDICAP.

It Was Won by Waswift, the Strong Favorite.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Waswift, favorite at 8 to 5 today won the Flyaway handicap at 6 furlongs, the last feature of the opening day's card at Worth. The big sprinter had all he could do to beat Leviathan a head to the wire. Gregor K. finished third nearly three lengths back. Joe Martin was left at the post and Walnamoinen, heavily backed at 6 to 1, had no chance, being completely off her stride when the barrier went up. Weather clear, track heavy. Summary:

First race, 6 furlongs—Echodale, 105, Battiste, 15 to 10, won; Dodie S., 99, Pieratt, 4 to 1, second; Brewster Anderson, 102, Nutt, 7 to 1, third. Time, 1:15. Al Anno, Rabunata, Mary Pine, Pepper Dick, Quadra also ran.

BASEBALL TODAY 3:00
EXPOSITION PARK.
ALL AMERICAN vs. PITTSBURGH
WEDNESDAY, OCT. 8.

OPEN FOR THE LOCAL SEASON.

W. U. P. and Grove City Teams Will Meet Today at Colosseum.

W. U. P. opens the local football season today at the Colosseum, Allegheny, with Grove City college. The kickoff will be at 3 o'clock.

The vast improvement in the W. U. P. team, due to hard work and the tireless coaching of Fred Crolius, is plainly visible and the university will give to the local lovers of the sport a superior article of football.

Patriotism in Baseball.

GREY FRIAR WON MATRON STATES

HIGH CLASS FIELD ACEFUL THE FAVORITE.

Winner Was but a Neck to the Good—Hermis Again Shows Great Speed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Grey Friar, at 7 to 1 in the betting, and running in the all-green of F. R. Hitchcock, won the rich Matron stakes for colts and geldings at Morris park today by a neck from J. R. and F. P. Keene's maiden Surbiton, who in turn was a head in front of the favorite, Aceful. The fourth running of the Matron stakes brought out a high-class field of horses, with Aceful favorite and Grey Friar second choice, the other prices ranging from 12 to 100 to 1. They were off to a fair start with Surbiton showing the way, Grey Friar second and Aceful third. Nearing the dip it was seen that Cochran was hard at work on the favorite. Opposite the official board both Grey Friar and Aceful moved up, the leader, and Turner, riding one of his strong finishes, landed his mount a winner.

Eugenia Burch, favorite, won the filly end of the Matron stakes, with Merry Reel second and Stolen Moments, another maiden from the Keene stable, third.

Hermis Again Shows Speed.

Hermis again demonstrated that he is the best of his age in training by galloping at one mile and a quarter over the hill. He carried 126 pounds and went the distance in 2:06¾. King Pepper won the second race, the Manhattan handicap. Redfern and Rice each rode two winners. Summary:

First race, for 3-year olds and up, 7 furlongs of the Withers mile—Remorse, 109, Redfern, 9 to 10 and 2 to 5, won; Emshee, 108, O'Connor, 14 to 5 and 7 to 10, second; Annan, 112, Lyne, 30 to 1 and 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:28¾. Valley Forge, The Talisman, Choate, Taps and Col. Ruse also ran.

Second race, the fifth Manhattan handicap, for 2-year-olds and up, the Eclipse course—King Pepper, 120, Redfern, 9 to 2 and 8 to 5, won; Belle of Lexington, 100, Cochran, 9 to 2 and 9 to 5, second; Osmasker, 123, Turner, 7 to 2 and 7 to 5, third. Time, 1:12. Wrath, Himself, Extinguisher and Muzette also ran. Muzette broke down.

Third race, the Fourth Matron, for 2-year-old colts and geldings, the Eclipse course—Grey Friar, 124, Turner, 7 to 1 and 8 to 5, won; Surbiton, 109, Shaw, 15 to 1 and 4 to 1, second; Aceful, 109, Gilbert, 1 to 5 and out, third. Time, 1:11½. Fire Eater, Mordant, Bet, Blue Ribbon and Invincible also ran.

Fourth race, the Matron, for fillies, 2-year-olds, the Eclipse course—Eugenia Burch, 122, Odom, 9 to 10 and 1 to 3, won; Merry Reel, 104, Cochran, 4 to 1 and 6 to 5, second; Stolen Moments, 109, Shaw, 12 to 1 and 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:12½. Lady Albercraft, Kissing Venus and *Black Diana also ran. *Black Diana added starter.

Fifth race, the Jerome handicap, for 3-year-olds, 1¼ miles over the hill—Hermis, 126, Rice, 1 to 2 and out, won; Hunter Raine, 106, Redfern, 5 to 1 and 9 to 10, second; Owen Paul, 110, Shaw, 9 to 2 and 4 to 5, third. Time, 2:06¾. Numeral also ran.

Sixth race, for 3-year-olds and up, selling, the Withers mile—Lady Sterling, 105, Rice, 15 to 1 and 6 to 1, won; Keynote, 105, O'Connor, 7 to 1 and 6 to 5, second; Essene, 100, Shea, 10 to 1 and 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:41. Master, Lord Badge, Bar Le Duc, Prince Rudd, Stevedore, Maudora, Cornwall, Fried Krupp, Bicerts, Handicapper and Intrusive also ran.

YOUNG CORBETT SHOWED SCIENCE

HE FLOORED HIM TWICE

Toyed With Him for Five Rounds Then Put Finishing Touches On—Bout Proved a Financial Frost.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—"Young" Corbett, the featherweight champion of the world, clearly demonstrated here tonight before the Industrial Athletic club that he is entitled to the honors earned over Terry McGovern. Tonight he met Eddie Lenny, a big featherweight, who was trained to the hour, and after toying with him as a cat would a mouse for five rounds, started in on the last round and demonstrated his true fighting ability.

He knocked Lenny down twice and gave the Chester featherweight a great gruelling, but was humane enough not to knock him out. Corbett's science, strategy and hitting ability were a revelation to the Philadelphia sports, and although there was a small crowd present, making the venture a losing one for a new pugilistic promoter, the little champion won a host of friends.

Corbett demanded his guarantee, $800, before entering the ring, and for a while the management was on the point of substituting "Joe" Bernstein, but as there was an attachment ready in case the latter went on, the promoter had nothing to do but to pay Corbett his price.

The small crowd is accounted for by the fact that a rumor was current that Lenny was to "lay down," and as he quit in his bout with McGovern in this city two years ago, some credence was given the rumor.

WILLED AWAY A CHILD.

Probate Court of New Haven Has a Novel Contest on Hand.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 7.—(Special.)—A document purporting to be a will executed by Mrs. Anna E. Harding and signed by three witnesses giving away her child, Annie, 11 years old, to Patrick Kinsella, was presented in the probate court today.

Relatives of Mrs. Harding, who died at a hospital soon after making the will, entered protest. Judge Cleveland reserved decision.

Ladrones Overpower a Town.

MANILA, Oct. 7.—Gen. Jesse M. Lee telegraphs from Tacloban, Island of Leyte, that ladrones have twice attacked the town of Carigara, where they killed a number of native constabulary and levied contributions. The population of Carigara withdrew to the mountains. Ladrones have been acting recently in several parts of the islands.

Strike Worry Kills a Coal Dealer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(Special.)—To worry over the coal strike and his inability to fill contracts made six months ago, is attributed the sudden death today of Thomas J. Patterson, a prominent Brooklynite, and head of the Lehigh & Scranton Coal Company, whose plant at Williamsburg is one of the largest in the country.

Ready for Crown Prince.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has completed arrangements for the tour of the crown prince of Siam. The special train will consist of a Pullman combined car, a Pullman dining car, a Pullman compartment car and the private car "Columbia." The itinerary will cover 7,131 miles.

"Mary Magdalene" Will Be Played.

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—Paul Heyse's drama, "Mary Magdalene," which the police forbade, will have a presentation after all at the lessing theater. The police president failed today to prove before the district court that the play is blasphemous and immoral.

Sentenced to Hang.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 7.—Frank Higgins, a boy convicted of the murder of Willie Doherty, near Rockwood park, was today sentenced to be hanged on December 18 in this city. The boy took the sentence coolly.

Fatal Railroad Wreck.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 7.—C. R. Rich of Duncannon, a Pennsylvania railroad brakeman, was killed and four men were slightly injured in a rear end collision of freight trains near Mifflin this morning. Those injured were G. A. Shambaugh, drover; A. J. Carmichle, drover; Engineer Wise and Fireman H. Arter. Rich had been visiting at his home in Duncannon and was on his way to Pittsburgh when the accident occurred.

CUNNINGHAM OBJECTS

He Claims That the Nomination of Acheson by Popular Vote Was Illegal.

HARRISBURG, PA., Oct. 8.—(Special.)—The time limit for filing objections in the Dauphin county court to nomination papers expired today, and only a few minor election cases were added to those already on the calendar. The Socialist party objects to the nomination papers of the state ticket of the Socialist Labor party on the ground that that pary has no righ to use the title "Socialist." The case will be argued next Tuesday.

The contest from the Twenty-fourth congressional district, composed of Beaver, Lawrence and Washington counties, which involves the legality of the nomination of Congressman E. F. Acheson of Washington, was heard today. The objector, James H. Cunningham of Beaver, claims that the agreement between the conferees of the three counties of the district, by which the names of the candidates should be submitted to a popular vote, was illegal and that the nomination of Acheson should have been made by conference. The evidence was mainly on the party rules and the manner in which the election was held at which Acheson was nominated.

THE PRESIDENT WILL REVIEW THE PARADE

If Weather Permits, He Will Leave House Today for First Time Since His Return.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 7.—President Roosevelt expects to leave the temporary White House tomorrow for the first time since his return from Indianapolis to drive along the line of the Grand Army parade. He made this announcement tonight in a following letter to B. H. Warner, chairman of the citizens' committee:

"Let me, through you, extend the most hearty greetings to the members of the Grand Army. I have regretted greatly that my inability to leave my room hitherto has prevented my joining personally in the greeting. If the weather is good tomorrow I shall for the first time leave the house so that I may drive along the line of the parade and see the men to whom this country owes more than to any others within its borders."

LIKELY TO SHUN THE COAL MINERS

Ordering Out of National Guard May Change Pattison's Plans.

WESTERN TOUR INSTEAD

Change of Itinerary Would Permit Democrats to Dodge Some Embarrassing Questions—The Ex-Governor Enters a Denial.

By WALTER J. CHRISTY,
Staff Correspondent.

Philipsburg, Pa., Oct. 7.—The ordering of the entire National guard into the eastern coal region will likely cause the Democrats to change their campaign plans. It has been the intention to spend the last two weeks of the contest in the anthracite country. Some of the Democratic managers doubt the wisdom of speechmaking in that locality so long as the conditions exist.

If the last two weeks of the campaign are not spent in the strike region, another whirl may be made through western counties where the Democrats think they have a chance of winning. The Democrats probably are well satisfied that they have an excuse for staying out of the anthracite region. There are some delicate questions to handle there.

The party spent the day in Clearfield county and came in here tonight. For some reason, over four hours was devoted to Mahaffey, a village in Clearfield county. It was at this town that James Kerr made a speech in which he tried to instill courage into the Democrats by claiming that the party would make a good showing in Philadelphia. Kerr was selected to do this work because he has a vivid imagination.

When the candidates reached Mahaffey a holiday was declared. The schools were dismissed and a number of Democratic merchants closed their stores. This town is near the Indiana county line, and Attorney General Elkin has a number of friends there. An effort was made to win them over to Pattison. Although in a mining community, there were few miners at the meeting. Dr. J. V. Buckingham presided, and Pattison, Guthrie and Col. J. A. Woodward made speeches.

On the run over from Mahaffey Pattison and Guthrie made platform speches at Morrisdale and Munson, mining settlements. There were about 50 people at each place. A heavy rain was falling when Philipsburg was reached, but a large crowd was out to see the candidates.

Tonight a big meeting was held in the opera house, at which James A. Gleason presided. The party will be at Williamsport tomorrow night.

Gov. Pattison today gave out an interview denying the statement made in a Gazette editorial the other day, in reference to the combination of the anthracite companies. In support of his denial, Mr. Pattison cited his message to the legislature January 3, 1899, and the abortive proceedings begun in the Dauphin county court, which were left at the end of Pattison's term as a legacy to his successor in office.

THE THREE RIVERS.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI—Ohio River 3 feet and stationary. Packets in and out on good time. The Indiana will resume her place in the Pomeroy trade tomorrow. Capts. James A. Henderson, W. Wood Prichard and Thomas Brown, of Pittsburgh were guests on change today. They are attending the Navigators' association meeting.

LOUISVILLE—River on a stand; canal, 4.6 feet; falls, 7.1 feet. Weather fine, 66 at noon. Business good. The wickets in Kentucky and Indiana chutes dams are down. This keeps the river on a stand above the falls and causes it to rise below.

HUNTINGTON—River 6 feet and rising. Bonanza due for Pomeroy tonight.

GREENSBORO—River 7 feet 6 inches and falling. Elizabeth and Woodward down Wednesday. Columbia and Hiawatha up.

WARREN—River 1 foot. Showers.

POINT PLEASANT—River 3 feet 10 inches and rising. Up, Cricket.

GALLIPOLIS—River 5 feet 6 inches and rising.

OIL CITY—River 1 foot 6 inches and stationary.

WHEELING—River 5 feet 8 inches and slowly rising. Raining.

STEUBENVILLE—River 5 feet and stationary. Up, Sam Brown, 3 p. m.

MORGANTOWN—River 8 feet and falling. Rain.

MARIETTA—River 5.5 feet and rising. Bessie Smith up, noon; Valley Belle down, 10 a. m.

Arrival.

Elizabeth, Ganoe, Morgantown.

Packet Leaving Today.

Gertrude, Morgantown, 3 p. m.

News of the Rivers.

At Davis island dam last night the marks showed a depth of 4.3 feet and the river was falling.

Business on the Monongahela wharf has been very quiet this week.

Uncle Sam spent $175,000 last year propagating fish, the number of little ones sent out being over 1,000,000,000.

The sand dredgeboat Rebecca, which is on the Monongahela dock, will be ready for service the latter part of next week.

The towboat Margaret has received a new whistle which was heard yesterday for the first time. It has a mellow tone.

The Sam Brown was at Logstown at last account, 10:15 a. m., with two barges. The Charles Brown is laid up at Industry.

The wife of Capt. George Wood will be buried today from St. Paul's cathedral. Capt. Wood has had much sickness in his family during the year.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pittsburgh & Cincinnati Packet line will be held at the company wharfboat in Pittsburgh, October 15.

Some of the pool towboats were yesterday engaged in dropping light coalboats out of the pools of the Monongahela river. The recent rains filled the pools.

If the upper Ohio had not much lower the towboat pilots would not have been compelled to use a boat in making their trip of observation from Pittsburgh down the river. They could have walked and seen more.

Cincinnati will be represented at the coming convention of the Ohio River Packet Owners' association, which will be held at Parkersburg next month, by at least 50 representative business men, who will go in special cars.

The new St. Louis and Tennessee river line mail carrier, Chloh, being built at Ed Howard's, will soon be ready for her trial trip, and Capt. Alex. Halliday's steel double-hulled ferryboat will soon be ready to launch.

The United States Steel Corporation has bought the Southern Coal Company. The purchase includes 30 acres at New Orleans, having a river frontage of 2,200 feet. The corporation will build large warehouses on the property and make it the distributing point for the south. Immense quantities of goods made by the company will be stored there. It is said that about $175,000 was paid for the property. Capt. W. W. O'Neil, John A. Wood, W. B. Hodgens and S. S. Crump were the principal stockholders of the coal concern.

A STILL LOWER LEVEL TO WALL STREET PRICES

Call Loan Rate Dropped to 4 Per Cent, but the Liquidation Continued---Pittsburgh Stocks More Active at Declines.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Wall street looked upon the action of Gov. Stone in ordering the entire National guard of Pennsylvania to the anthracite coal region to restore order as marking the beginning of the end of the strike. If the operators cannot make good their claim that if they are guaranteed protection they can obtain all the miners they need, then public sentiment will compel concessions that will insure an adequate supply of fuel. The coal strike is not now the dominant factor, so far as the stock market is concerned, but the prospect for a settlement induced some covering of shorts at the opening and some buying by traders in the hope of a smart rally. London prices for American securities were strong and higher, and foreigners were buyers, and early prices in Wall street showed fair gains over the preceding night's close. As events turned out, however, these prices were almost in every instance the highest of the day. The banks again emphasized their attitude by calling loans and holding the rate firm. The principal money broker, who represents most of the larger banks in loaning money on the exchange, bid 10 per cent for $3,000,000, and up until about 1 o'clock the market rate remained firm at 9@11 per cent, the latter figure being the highest of the day. Up to noon the sales amounted to only 337,000 shares, and from a steady opening the tone had become irregular. After 1 o'clock the liquidation was resumed on a large scale, a prominent commission house being a conspicuous seller of the leading stocks. The rate for call loans declined to 5 per cent, but it did not check the downward tendency of prices. On the contrary, the volume of business increased, and at the close many stocks were quoted at or near the lowest touched on this movement. The sales reached 800,800 shares. What are classed as coal stocks were again the greatest sufferers, although the conspicuous weakness in St. Paul, which broke 5 per cent at the close, attracted general attention. New York Central sold at 152, the lowest price of the year. Pennsylvania declined to 139¼, and Reading closed below 68. Manhattan and Metropolitan both sold off sharply, and at the close there was a difference of less than 4 points in the prices of the two stocks. Industrials shared in the general heaviness, but the declines were much less pronounced. United States Steel declined to 39 and the preferred to 87⅞, no attempt being made to discount the effect of the quarterly statement, which was given out after the close of the market, and which is published in another column of this paper.

There were no important developments in the money market yesterday and no news bearing particularly upon values. The decline in the latter merely represented forced liquidation and the reduction of the buying power through the action of commission brokers, some of whom are refusing to execute buying orders except for cash or upon margins that are practically prohibitive. Time money continues very scarce, and the banks are still losing to the sub-treasury, the loss since last Friday amounting to $480,000. The treasury department has exhausted its means for extending relief, and it rests with the banks to strengthen their position as best they can, pending a return of currency from the west. Sterling exchange was slightly easier, but the financial community has for the time being abandoned hope of gold imports. At the same time there is no apparent disposition to precipitate liquidation in the stock market; a bear clique that would start in to smash things would probably be brought up with a short turn. In the ordinary course of speculation a good rally should be nearly due. The decline in prices, compared with the highest recent level, ranges from 6 to 24 points, and probably averages fully 10 per cent. Among the "pool" stocks Missouri Pacific has declined 16 per cent during the past three weeks, Baltimore & Ohio 14, Southern Pacific 12, Union Pacific 11, and the minor Gould issues have lost from 6 to 8 per cent. New York Central is down nearly 17 per cent from the high point, and Pennsylvania more than 10. Louisville & Nashville is 24 per cent below the high level of August, and it is 15 below the option price at which control was tendered Mr. Morgan. As stated, this shrinkage in so short a time would, under ordinary speculative conditions, warrant a rally, but the consensus of Wall street commission house opinion is that rallies will for some time to come be restricted to drives against the short interest, and that the tendency of the market will be downward until money becomes decidedly easier.

There was an increase in the volume of trading on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday, the sales reaching 9,891 shares, but in every important instance the business showed a loss in market values. Fully one-half the sales consisted of coal stocks. At the opening Pittsburgh Coal started at 29¼, but almost immediately jumped $1 a share, manipulation being the basis for the rise. It was known that the directors were scheduled to meet later in the day, and the sudden demand for the common stock was at first construed as meaning that the unexpected was to happen and that an initial dividend on the common stock would be declared. Later in the day the price reacted to 29⅜, and that price was bid at the close, a net gain of ¼. The preferred stock was unchanged at 91@91½. The directors announced after the close of the market the declaration of the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock. River Coal was more active than for some time past. What looked like the execution of a stop-loss order broke the price of the common to 11, from which there was a rapid recovery to 11⅞, the market closing with about 2,000 shares offering at 12 and 1,000 shares at 11⅝, with 11¾ bid for round lots. The net result of the day was a loss of ⅛ on the marketing of 2,500 shares. The preferred closed ¼ higher at 40. The steel stocks were heavy throughout the day and closed at or near the lowest. Crucible Steel common declined to 21⅝ and the preferred to 85, closing at net declines of ⅝ and ¼ per cent, respectively. United States Steel closed ⅛ off, the common selling down to 39¼ and the preferred to 88¼. Westinghouse Electric seconds preferred sold to the extent of a little more than 1,000 shares at 106@107, closing at a net advance of 1. Airbrake lost 2 points, selling down to 180 and closing at 179 bid. In the remainder of the industrial list the only activity was in Window Glass, which sold at 60 and 60½ and closed at 60¼ bid, a decline for the day of a small fraction.

There was a further marked falling off in the dealings in bank and trust company shares and as a rule prices were lower. Colonial Trust opened off at 650, a decline compared with the previous day's close of 10, and dropped to 640, closing at the low point. A decline for the day of 820 a share and from the high point of last Saturday of $40 a share. Real Estate Trust was also lower, selling at 308, a loss of 2. The best bid on Fidelity Title & Trust was 625, and the stock was offered at 690, a decline of 10 from the last sale. Pittsburgh Trust was offered at 1900, and was without bid all day. Commonwealth Trust was also without bid, and was offered lower at 250. Union Trust was not mentioned all day. The tone of the general market at the close was heavy.

World's Grain Supply.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Special cable and telegraphic communications received by Bradstreet's show the following changes in available supplies as compared with last account: Wheat, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, increased 3,452,000 bushels; afloat for and in Europe, increased 4,900,000 bushels; total supply increased 8,963,000 bushels; corn, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, increased 312,000 bushels; oats, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, increased 632,000 bushels. Among the more important increases reported this week are those of 1,500,000 bushels at northwestern interior elevators, 1,020,000 bushels in Manitoba, 281,000 bushels at Depot Harbor, 100,000 bushels at Minneapolis private elevators, and 54,000 bushels at Chicago private elevators. The leading decrease is that of 50,000 bushels at Chattanooga.

Dividends Declared.

The Consolidated Ice Company of Pittsburgh has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on the preferred stock, payable October 20 to stock of record October 10.

The Tennessee Coal and Iron Company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent on the preferred stock, payable November 1. It is officially stated that the amount of the preferred stock now outstanding is less than $250,000.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The San Francisco Street Railway stocks will be listed on the New York stock exchange today.

The Phoenix Consolidated Copper Company has called an assessment of $1 a share, payable October 27.

Natural Gas stocks were firmer. West Virginia advanced to 120, Carnegie to 121½ asked. Ft. Pitt was quoted at 68 bid.

At the opening Hill & Co. were buyers of 50 shares Colonial Trust at 650 from Miller, Masten & Co. and Whitney & Stephenson.

It is currently reported that the forthcoming dividend on Fidelity Title and Trust will be doubled, the stock being placed upon a 12 per cent basis.

When the market was its weakest yesterday a rumor gained general currency that Russell Sage was dead. Later it was reported that he was ill at his home.

Just before the close of the local market yesterday 85 was bid for 500 shares Crucible Steel preferred and 500 shares United States Steel common offered at 39¼.

A Philadelphia dispatch said: "Money here up to 7 per cent for the best, been very much easier than in other centers. Yesterday and today, however, there have been a good many loans called and there is a demand now for money."

A Wall street house wired the following to its Pittsburg correspondent: "The consensus of opinion at the close among conservatives was that there was a possibility that the market had been somewhat over-sold, and that consequently a rally might take place, but that so far the liquidation had been inadequate to afford real relief, and that consequently further lightening of loads by pools and cliques must take place, with the inevitable result of ultimately lower prices."

The fire loss in the United States and Canada during the month of September amounted to $9,110,500, the smallest for any month this year. The total for nine months of 1902 foots up $136,316,950, as compared with $120,645,350 for the same time last year.

So far this week there have been no sales of bonds on the local exchange. A bond broker states that there is practically no market for investment like issues with the inevitable result of ultimately lower prices.

Wall street observers were very confident that Mr. Keene had taken to the bear side in New York, announcing the death there of Francis Albert Bates. Deceased was at one time a prominent man in the oil business in Pittsburgh, being a pioneer in the famous Cherry run and Pithole districts.

The annual meeting of the New York Clearing House association was held yesterday and James Stillman of the National City Bank was elected president, with James W. McGarrah, vice president-cashier of the Leather Manufacturers National bank, as secretary. William Fherer was again chosen manager.

The trading in River Coal common began by Wettengel selling 500 shares at 11, the lowest point reached. Buying by Pittsburgh followed, until just before the close Hill & Co. sold a block of 1,000 shares at 11⅜ to Whitney & Stephenson. The final quotations were 11⅞ bid for 1,000 shares and 2,000 shares offered at 12.

The pipe lines again advanced the price of crude oil, Cabell & Hardy of Pennsylvania following up 2 cents to $1.27 and North Lima up 1 cent to 826. The increased number of dry holes being drilled and the prospective larger consumption of oil as fuel, on account of the high price of coal, probably accounts for the recent rise in the market.

When a tight money market occurs as the result of a political "scare" or unfounded report, the restoration to ease is comparatively quick. When it occurs as at present as a result of a genuine commercial stringency, all sections of the country, relief only comes from the movement of merchandise to market, or a falling off in activity in trade.

A number of local bank presidents had an informal discussion of the situation yesterday, but no suggestions were forthcoming relative to the money market. The latter has been rolling firm, but some borrowers thought that the supply was a little larger yesterday than for some days past. The demand, however, is sufficient to justify a 6 per cent rate on new business.

Southern Railway made a fine report of earnings, showing an increase in gross for the fourth week of September of $24,948, and an increase for the month of $505,513. The Missouri, Kansas & Texas reported an increase of $200,350 for the same month. The street had not taken much attention to the figures, but the latter furnish some explanation of the demand for money in the south and southwest.

At a meeting of the directors of the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday a committee composed of President W. L. Mustin, George W. Crawford, George W. Darr and Secretary W. W. Chaplin was appointed to visit the New York and Philadelphia stock exchanges for the purpose of obtaining ideas that may be adopted in remodeling the newly purchased home of the local exchange. The committee will also investigate the workings of stock exchange clearing houses in the east, with the view of establishing a similar department here.

Western operators were sellers of the stock of the Louisville & Nashville road and it was again reported that there would be no increase in the 5 per cent dividend rate on that security, as the road was in need of large expenditures for improvements and equipment. At the same time it is noted that Louisville & Nashville is in request and in spite of the threatened continuance of a low dividend rate there is no hesitation on the part of people connected with the prospective management to advise purchase of the stock for a long pull.

Among financial operations for which arrangements are being made or will be made in the near future, are $15,000,000 to be paid Friday by the underwriters of the new shipping combine. Today the underwriters of the new Louisville scheme will be called on to pay 50 per cent of their subscriptions. Toward the end of the month over $21,000,000 will have to be found in connection with the issue of new Baltimore & Ohio stock and a similar payment will have to be made on the 24th of November. On the first of November $27,000,000 has to be paid for the new Pennsylvania stock.

The annual report of the Westinghouse Airbrake Company—given in full on another page of this paper—shows that while there was an increase of nearly $700,000 in gross income, compared with the preceding year, there was a decrease of a little more than $50,000 in net profits. As intimated in this column yesterday the increased cost of material, etc., has more than offset the increase in the total volume of business. The statement was made at the meeting that no extensions have been or are now pending for absorbing any competitor.

The visible supply of wheat has increased 22,000,000 bushels during the past four weeks, compared with an increase of 18,000,000 bushels for the corresponding period last year. The primary receipts of wheat yesterday were 2,000,000 bushels larger, and the shipments 425,000 larger than for the same day last year. The movement of grain has recently been retarded by wet weather and poor roads, but with more favorable weather, the movement will expand. As the grain gets to market the money used to move the same will be released, and in due time currency will flow eastward.

Secretary J. R. Stanton of the Atlantic Mining Company notifies stockholders that in pursuance of the resolutions adopted respecting a change in the capital stock from 50,000 to 100,000 shares, the certificates of the Atlantic Mining Company now held must be surrendered to the American Loan and Trust Company, Stockbridge building, for exchange therefor new certificates in the proportion of two and one-half shares of new stock for each share of existing stock. No certificates for fractions will be issued, but the trust company will, at the option of the stockholders, either buy or sell any fractions at the rate of $11 for each new share.

FARMERS' BANK MAKES GOOD SALE

Closes Out Its Property in Third Avenue for $50,000 Cash.

A SQUIRREL HILL SALE

Penn Avenue Purchases—Two Houses Sold for $24,500—A $75,000 Cement Plant for Elizabeth—Other Transactions.

The Farmers Deposit National bank yesterday disposed of the property at Nos. 219-221 Third avenue for $50,000, the deal being negotiated by Samuel W. Black & Co. The purchase was made by the same party who bought the Whitney & Stephenson property on Monday for $140,000. Further than that he is a prominent business man, and not an insurance company, as was supposed by some, nothing could be learned concerning his identity. The lot sold yesterday faces 29 feet in the north side of Third avenue, a short distance below Wood street, and has a depth of 85.5 feet, making the sale at the rate of $1,724 a front foot. It has erected on it a four-story brick warehouse which, with the buildings on the Whitney & Stephenson lot, will be torn down to give place to a modern structure.

This closes out the sale of the Farmers Deposit National bank holdings in this quarter, the four properties having been sold through the same agency, as follows: Nos. 212-214 Fourth avenue, $140,000; Nos. 216-218 Fourth avenue, $80,000; the building now occupied by the bank at No. 220 Fourth avenue, for $175,000, and Nos. 219-221 Third avenue, for $50,000. The property sold yesterday is directly in the rear of the building bought by the German Fire Insurance Company, and adjoins the Whitney & Stephenson lot.

Bought a Squirrel Hill Home.

A handsome new residence in the Squirrel Hill district has been sold by Francis V. Gladden of Homestead to Lyda M. Crow and Hester L. McEldowney, for $22,000. The property is located in the north side of Irwin avenue, near Murdock street, Twenty-second ward, and measures 54.5x120 feet. It adjoins the property of Harry Darlington and the James Murdock holdings. The residence is a modern 12-room brick house.

One of the purchasers, Lyda M. Crow, sold to Henry C. McEldowney another residence property in the Thirteenth ward for $10,000. This is an improved lot, 177x180 feet, at the northeast corner of Bedford avenue and Morgan street.

Through the agency of Capt. George W. McCallam, J. H. Mellroy has sold to A. C. McCallam three residences at Nos. 6418, 6450 and 6452 Penn avenue for $15,000. The houses are directly opposite the East End hotel and stand on a lot 92x198 feet, which runs through to Shakespeare street. Two of the houses are nine-room brick dwellings and the other is a stone residence. In view of the removal of the stock yards, property in this part of the city is looking up considerably and is regarded as an excellent investment.

Two Houses Bring $24,500.

F. H. Trembly has sold two more good residence properties in the East End for $24,500. One of them belonged to D. W. Pershing and brought $18,000. It is a newly finished colonial brick house of 14 rooms, standing on a lot 50x150 feet, on the south side of Graham street, near Friendship avenue, Twentieth ward. This is the last of five houses built by Mr. Pershing last year, four of which have been sold through Mr. Trembly's agency in the last three months. The purchaser is a downtown business man who will occupy the property as a home. Mr. Pershing has already started the foundations on two more similar houses on the east side of Stratford avenue, near Penn avenue.

The other residence, which was bought by an East End woman, is a nine-room frame house on a lot, 25x100 feet, on the east side of Collins avenue, near Baum street, Nineteenth ward. The property brought $5,500 and is the fourth of its kind that the owner, David A. Ritz, has sold within a few weeks.

The International Cement Company of Philadelphia has purchased, through the Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company, six acres of land at Elizabeth, Pa., for $15,000 cash. The former owner was J. R. Wylie of Wilkinsburg. This company is engaged in the manufacture of cement from granulated slag and will at once begin the erection of a plant to employ 400 men and cost at least $75,000.

A $40,000 Flat to Be Built.

Architect F. G. Scheibler, Jr., is receiving estimates on a three-story apartment house to be built for Grogan & Coulson, at the corner of Brushton avenue and Tioga street, at a cost of $40,000.

Architect Will A. Ullom has been commissioned to prepare plans for a $10,000 brick and stone church for the colored Baptists of Crafton. The same architect has plans for a bank building in Fairmont, W. Va., to cost $75,000.

Architect Henry T. Linderman is taking bids on a hotel for William Knee, at McKeesport. The building will cost $15,000.

The Clairton Lumber Company has the contract from Architect H. C. Klepper for a brick and stone hotel at Clairton. It will belong to Charles N. Gross and will cost $15,000. The same architect is taking bids on the brick church being built for the Methodists at Turtle Creek.

Architects Kerner & Fezell have awarded the contract to Crumoy & Co. for the brick work on eight residences, to be built at the corner of Homewood avenue and Wightman street, for C. T. Beekman, at a cost of $15,000 each.

Apartments Will Cost $8,500.

Architects Milligan & Miller have given the contract to C. Lee of Wilkinsburg for a brick and stone apartment house at Rebecca and Mulberry streets. The owner is Ira C. Ewing and the estimated cost $8,500.

John Ehrlinger has the contract from Architect W. A. Thomas for the erection of a three-story apartment house for Max Rosenblum, at McKees Rocks, to cost $8,500.

Kirkpatrick street: S. Arnold sold for Dr. George H. Vaux to Harry Lieberman three three-story brick houses, on a lot 40x111 feet, in Kirkpatrick street, Thirteenth ward, for $7,450. The houses are numbered as Nos. 94-96-98, and the property extends through to Benton street. The same broker sold lot No. 149, in the Schenley Park Land Company's plan, facing 25 feet in Haldane street, Twenty-third ward, with a depth of 100 feet, and two lots, 50x100 feet, in Bourne street, in the Kishon plan of the Beechwood Improvement Company, Limited, for $1,950.

Allegheny: W. L. Scott & Co. sold for P. J. Ritter to the Hon. Morrison Foster, lots Nos. 49-52, in the Sterling Place plan, facing in Gifford street, Eleventh ward, Allegheny, for $2,500.

Still Buying in McKeesport.

McKeesport: E. J. Bechdel & Co. sold for the Empire Land and Improvement Company three lots, 30x100 feet each, in Euclid avenue, Sillview plan, McKeesport, for $1,255.

Julius street: Robert F. Griffith sold to Clinton S. Hall and William B. Rippon, Jr., improved lot, 50x100 feet, on the west side of Julius street, near Frankstown avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $7,500.

Greentree: Samuel C. Cover and David T. Rife sold to Robert Grimady 24 lots, in Greentree borough, for $6,000.

Tioga street: R. C. Ferguson sold to Thomas McC. Donehoo an improved lot, 25x120 feet, on the south side of Tioga street, Thirty-seventh ward, for $4,300.

Reed Plan: Carl Cappel sold to Albert E. Burnett an improved lot in the Reed plan, Fourteenth ward, for $3,750.

Prospect avenue: James Ritchie sold to William J. McGahan an improved lot, 48x100 feet, on the north side of Prospect avenue, Thirty-second ward, for $5,000.

Bought in the Hill District.

Harmar street: W. J. Whittier sold to Alexander Jasinka an improved lot, 25x120 feet, on the southwest side of Harmar street, near Wayne street, Thirteenth ward, for $2,100.

Loyal alley: Thomas Evans sold to John H. A. Erbe an improved lot, 20x62.5 feet, in Loyal alley, near Amanda street, Thirty-first ward, for $1,600.

Vine street: Jacob Sloan sold to Lena Irvine an improved lot, 26x75 feet, in Vine street, near Rose street, Eighth ward, for $8,000.

Forty-second street: William Veite sold to Elmer W. Moore an improved lot, 33x60 feet, on the northeast side of Forty-second street, near Willow street, Seventeenth ward, for $4,500.

Dauphin street: Est. Nat. Neuhart sold to William F. Self an improved lot, 20x94 feet, on the south side of Dauphin street, near Evaline street, Nineteenth ward, for $3,250.

Fletcher street: John Frazier sold to Margaret W. Wiss a lot, 22x70 feet, on the south side of Fletcher street, near Lang avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $1,500.

Palo Alto alley: John Elmore sold to Thomas Hannon a lot, 87x114 feet, on the south side of Palo Alto alley, near Francis street, Thirteenth ward, for $1,700.

Lang avenue: Hugh Corlett sold to Charlotte A. Williams a lot, 25x88 feet, on the southwest side of Lang avenue, near Braddon avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $700.

Building Permits Issued.

Pittsburgh building permits were issued yesterday to Catherine Wallace, for four two-story brick veneered dwellings in Hall street, Thirty-seventh ward, to cost $8,000; to Harry Holton, for a two-story frame dwelling in Mission street, Twenty-third ward, to cost $4,330, and to George Kane, for a two-story frame stable in the rear of Mansion street, Twenty-third ward, to cost $250.

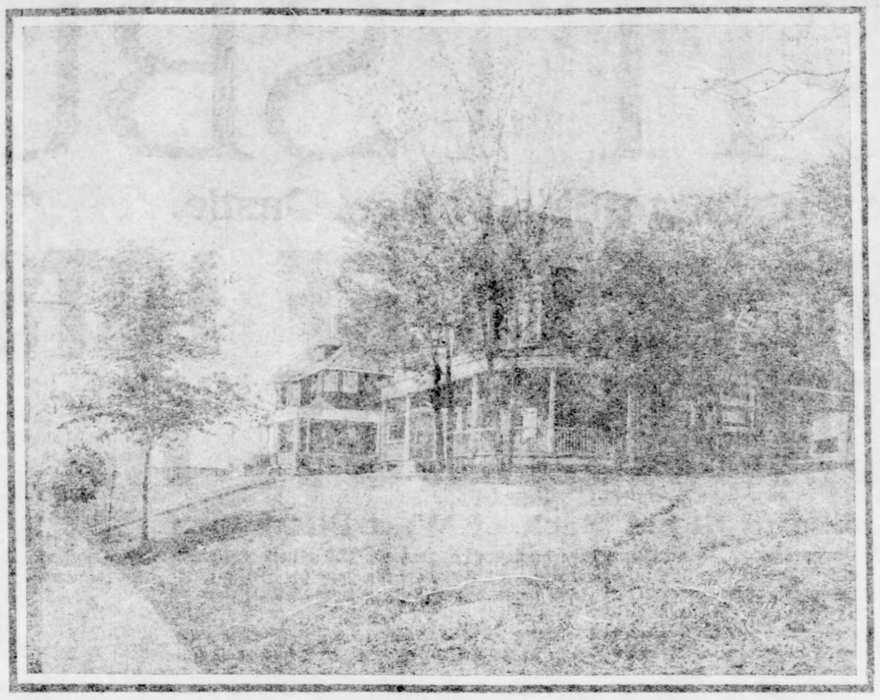
BEAUTIFUL HOMES ARE THE PRIDE OF THOSE WHO LIVE IN THE SECTION KNOWN AS THORNBURG.



Those who live "out in Thornburg" take fully as much pride in announcing the fact as those who live "in the East End" take in making it known that they are cultured home lovers. The tasty residences in Thornburg, giving by their architectural differences a charming effect and its abundance of fresh air and pure water, and a wealth of shade that is the product of 50 years of growth, are a source of the keenest pride to those who have been fortunate enough to secure homes within the limits of Thornburg. The two residences shown in the above cut are typical of the 30 fine houses that are now completed in Thornburg. They are built of Pompeiian brick and shingle and with their 10 rooms and spacious porches favorably impress all who see them. The streets are paved, sidewalks are in perfect condition and gas, water and electric lights are other advantages. No two Thornburg houses are built alike. Under the direction of Architect S. T. McClarren every dwelling has been given a style peculiar to itself. The Thornburg Land Company, which has plotted the old farm of 200 acres, has made room for dooryards and lawns by having none of the lots smaller than 50x125 feet. The houses built on the plan have cost from $5,000 to $8,000 each and are being sold through the Real Estate Trust Company. At least 50 such houses will be built each year by the Thornburg Land Company until the plan is built up.

TIMOTHY HAY PRICES REACH HIGHER RANGE

Peach Supply Limited, but Demand Slow--Navy Beans Still Advancing.

No. 1 timothy hay scored an advance yesterday, quotations going to a range of $16 00@16 50, an increase of 50 cents a ton. There is but a limited supply of this grade in the local market and some brokers endeavored to secure $17 for their holdings, although sales at that figure, if made, were not generally known. No. 1 mixed hay also advanced 50 cents, and is firm at the higher range. Best graded oats held steady at figures quoted, although there were occasional sales of oats of unsatisfactory grading considerably below quoted quotations. All grains were lower in Chicago on Monday, but the local situation held firm yesterday, no declines occurring in any line. Receipts bulletined showed but one car of corn.

There is no change in either flour, sugar or coffee, all of these staples holding steady at last week's prices. Primary coffee markets are not as bullish as they were a few days ago, owing largely to weaker conditions in Europe, but brokers have not lost faith in the future, still believing the reports of crop damage in Brazil will affect the situation sooner or later.

Beans Still Advancing.

Navy beans continue to climb, figures now reached showing a range of $2 75@2 85, which is drawing close to the $3 mark, which some are expecting to see before the end of the week. Red kidney beans are in very limited supply, if there are any, in the hands of jobbers, and quotations are omitted for the present.

There is no variation in the price of canned goods, all descriptions remaining as they were at the close of last week, with corn and tomatoes both very strong. Dried fruits are also unchanged.

Apples continue steady at old quotations, interest being maintained by purchasers, who are rushing from peaches to apples. Potatoes rule a trifle heavily and quotations are held firm. Peaches went off slightly in price, on account of the diminution of demand, which lacks animation, stock now offering not being particularly attractive and selling slowly. Quinces are becoming more plentiful and are lower. Grapes are in better supply, but demand is also livelier and quotations are steady. Cantaloupes are still in the market, but will probably not outlast the week. Cabbage is barely holding its own and is not active. Tomatoes, corn and string beans are being received in quantities just about sufficient to supply the trade, and prices fluctuate but little.

Provision Quotations Steady.

In spite of lower grain prices in the west, Chicago provision markets are holding steady to strong, with pork and lard both higher. Local quotations are firm in sympathy. The demand is good and run of live stock so far this week is not large.

Poultry continues at quotations prevailing at the opening of the week and eggs are in unchanged condition. Butter is steady at last week's figures and cheese is firm, with prices at factories steadily gaining strength. Local dealers are not following retail market conditions or quotations here would be higher than those now ruling.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 9 cars hay, 3 cars oats, 1 car corn and oats, 1 car rye; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 1 car hay, 1 car oats; Pittsburgh & Western railroad, 2 cars hay, 2 cars oats, 1 car corn. Total receipts, 21 cars.

Following are the official quotations for hay, millfeed, corn, oats and straw, corrected by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Horse Market.

Dealers report some improvement in trading during the past week, without any special reason, buyers having been more interested than for some time. Considerable stock is arriving for the season, but it is running well and good prices are secured.

The auction sale yesterday was largely attended by purchasers and 140 horses were sold at prices fully $10 a head above the average for several weeks. Stock offered showed an improvement in grade over that of last week, and found a ready market.

The Treasury and the Banks.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(Special)—In redemption of checks drawn by depositors of paid at the Seattle assay office, today's official records show that the sub-treasury paid out yesterday $83,644; total thus paid since Friday, $72,006, against $84,823 per period a week ago; total payment by government to New York banks for the day, $3,312,000; payment by banks to government, $3,562,000; balance on the day's transactions, $250,000; paid by banks to government; total net payment by banks to government since Friday, $486,000, against $138,000 similarly paid for the corresponding period a week ago. Included in the foregoing summary is $300,000 deposited by banks with the sub-treasury for payment at interior points.

PRICES WEAKEN IN GRAIN PITS

Wheat Is Lower on Good Weather, Better Grading and Heavy Receipts.

SHORTS IN CORN UNEASY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Oct. 7.—There was less activity today in both the grain and provisions market, and prices were again weak. December wheat closed ¼@¾c lower, December corn ⅝c lower and oats ¼c lower. Provisions closed 7½ to 10@12½c lower for the January delivery.

Wheat was weak early in the day on selling by commission houses on fair weather in the northwest and west. Better grading and heavy primary receipts were also bear factors. About the only bullish features were steady cables and small estimated receipts for tomorrow. Trading throughout the day was light. December opened ⅛c lower to ⅛c higher at 69¾c to 69⅞c, later selling down to 69¾c. The close was at 69¾@69½c.

Receipts Are Heavy.

Primary receipts were 1,770,968 bushels, compared with 1,777,557 a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 1,240 cars, while local receipts were 240 cars—five of contract grade—making the total receipts for the three points of 1,485 cars, against 1,427 last week and 1,041 cars a year ago.

Trading in corn was less active than of late. Business prevailed early with free selling of December by a prominent long. Shorts covered freely on the decline, causing a slight rally, but owing to lack of sustained support another reaction followed. Good weather was a bear feature. December opened ⅛@⅜c to ¼@⅝c lower, at 48⅛c to 48⅝c, dropped to 48¼c, rallied to 48⅞@49c, but again eased and the close was ⅝c lower, at 48⅜@48¼c. Local receipts were 172 cars, with 18 of contract grade.

Little Doing in Oats.

There was a moderate trade in oats with the market following corn. Commission houses bought freely early, giving fair support to the market, but later on renewed selling by elevators and receiving houses, weakness prevailed. December sales ranged between 32@32⅛c and 32¾c, with the close ⅛c lower at 32¼c. Local receipts were 161 cars.

Lower prices for hogs at the yards and weakness in grains caused provisions to rule lower. Trading was dull. Closing prices were lower all round. January pork closing 10c lower at $15 70; lard, 10@12½c lower, at $8 87½, and ribs 7½c lower at $8 25.

Fortune Is Coming Your Way at

WEST PITTSBURGH

On the Pittsburgh Side of New Castle.

OPENING SALE OF LOTS SATURDAY, OCT. 11.

West Pittsburgh

West Pittsburgh has been laid out with an idea to the permanency of the town. It is not merely a speculative venture, but a thrifty, progressive town where a town ought to be. It is the best home site in all the valley—a place where men of moderate means can live and enjoy life to the fullest. High enough to command a delightful view of the Beaver river, but not on a hill—West Pittsburgh is situated on a beautiful rolling tableland where there is plenty of bright sunshine and pure, health-giving air; where the children can run and play to their hearts' content without danger of any kind, and where nature is at her best all the year 'round.

Five Railroads

West Pittsburgh is 5 miles east of New Castle; 2 miles east of New Castle junction on the main lines of the P. & W., the B., R. & P., the P. & L. E., the Pennsylvania Lines and the B. & O. Railroad. Its railroad and shipping facilities are equal to those of Pittsburgh, and not surpassed by any in all Western Pennsylvania.

The extension of the street railway now in contemplation will place West Pittsburgh within very close communication of New Castle and the surrounding towns.

Plenty of Activity at West Pittsburgh

Ninety teams and three times as many men are now at work grading and paving the streets. Sewers are being laid and an overhead bridge across the railroad tracks is to be built, which will eliminate all danger of accident in going to and from work. The residence and business part of West Pittsburgh is on the east side of the tracks overlooking the river, and the manufacturing sites on the west side.

Not a Boom Town

West Pittsburgh is the natural and logical outgrowth of existing conditions—not merely a speculative venture. New Castle and the overflow population of the valley have been reaching out toward it for years; manufacturing interests have been demanding more room and the perfect shipping facilities that West Pittsburgh has to offer. And now that we have opened the plan, capital is coming to the front with great manufacturing enterprises that assure the success and permanency of the town.

In all the valley there is no location so altogether desirable for manufacturing purposes. The manufacturing sites occupy a broad level stretch, bounded on one side by five railroads and on the other by the Beaver river. Being above the mouth of the Connoquenessing river, the water is pure and perfectly satisfactory for manufacturing purposes—which is not the case at points below the Connoquenessing, on account of the salt which enters at that place.

Industries Already Located.

New manufacturing concerns have already broken ground at West Pittsburgh—among them being the Garland Nut & Rivet Co., which is a consolidation of the Rivet Department of the Garland Chain Co. of Pittsburgh, and the Dunham Nut Co. of Unionville, Conn. Another is a consolidation of the Safety Armorite Conduit Co. of Rankin, Pa., and the American Interior Conduit Co. of Milwaukee, Wis., and Waukegan, Ill. Other plants are preparing plans and getting ready to put up buildings. West Pittsburgh is not to be a one-industry town. It is the aim of those having the interests of the community most at heart to have located in its manufacturing district a variety of industries so that in case of a slackness of trade in any one line it will not affect the general prosperity and growth of the town.

Over $100,000 Worth of Improvements

The improvements contemplated and now under way embrace the paving with block brick of Seventh street, 70 feet wide, and running east and west through the entire town, approximately 2,500 feet; also paving with block brick Center avenue, 70 feet wide, and running north and south through entire town, approximately 3,000 feet. All other streets and avenues to be macadamized.

We have a complete sewerage system now under construction and have in contemplation a water works plant which will be undertaken as soon as possible.

$5,000 Reward!

West Pittsburgh is a town where a town ought to be. It is a straight proposition, good all the way through! We are not going to sell a lot until day of opening sale, and to prove to you our sincerity we will give $5,000 to anyone who can prove that we sell a single lot or make a single reservation before the sale opens on Saturday, October 11.

Listen for the Bomb!

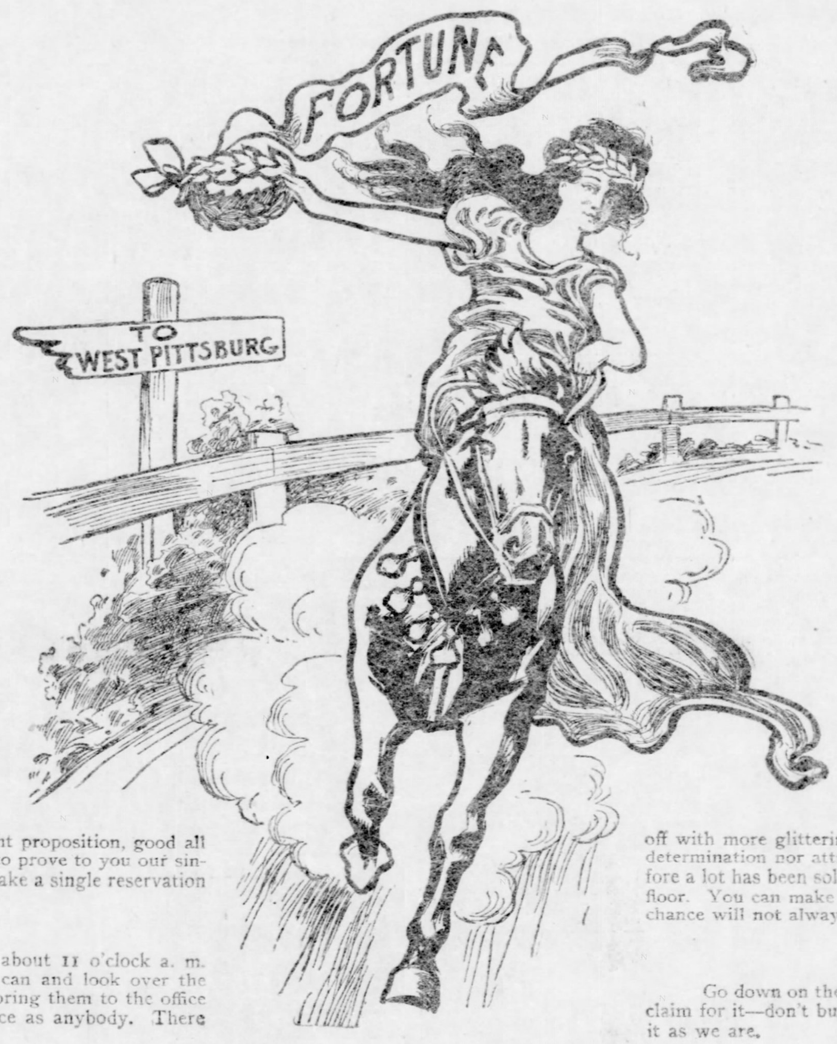
The explosion of a giant bomb on the hill back of West Pittsburgh at about 11 o'clock a. m. will announce the opening of the big sale. Get on the ground as early as you can and look over the plan. Then when the bomb explodes take the tags off the lots you want and bring them to the office on the plan. There is going to be a big rush, but you will have as good a chance as anybody. There are nearly 1,600 lots and every one good.

We are Going to Stand Back of West Pittsburgh

The town is there to stay. Its success and permanency are assured. The money we realize from the sale of lots will be put into new manufacturing enterprises. We have planned a great future for West Pittsburgh and we are going to stand back of it and make it realize all that we have planned.

The opening sale of lots is simply your opportunity to get a share in the general prosperity, for it is going to be general. Everybody who has a dollar invested will win out handsomely. There isn't any doubt about that.

West Pittsburgh is going to be the industrial center of Western Pennsylvania in a few years. It is above the high water mark; has all the railroad facilities and advantages of location enjoyed by Pittsburgh; plenty of pure water and absolutely no disadvantages at all. Real estate values are going to climb rapidly; can't help it. Everything is there to make them go up and to keep them up. If you want to clean up a big profit in a little while you will be at the opening sale Saturday, October 11.



Positively No Lots to be Sold Until Opening Day

We could dispose of hundreds of lots within 10 hours, if we were willing to do so. Every day people come to us with money in their hands. Others want to have certain lots reserved. But we will not sell a single lot, nor make a single reservation, before the opening sale. This is to be the greatest sale in the history of Western Pennsylvania real estate, and everybody is to have an equal chance. There are lots for all, good ones, too; nearly 1,600 of them.

Go on the morning free excursion if you can. First choice will be best. If you can't get away in the morning, catch the afternoon train. But go. Get there somehow, even if you have to lose half a day. You will have a chance to win a lot for nothing and—anyway the opportunity for investment is too good to miss.

Look at the Investment Opportunity

Over 500 houses will be needed the first year. Need we point out the great possibilities to you? All kinds of stores will be needed. Need we emphasize the advantages of getting an early start? Lots are cheap now and easy to buy. But how long do you suppose they will remain at present prices? The probability is that before the day of opening sale is over they will be worth 30 to 50 per cent more. So whether you want to buy lots and build houses; whether you want to rent or whether you want to go into business, or whether you want to buy and sell again at a big profit, West Pittsburgh is your opportunity.

Large Lots $100 up

Ten per cent cash, balance at the rate of 2½ per cent a month. You can own a house as easily as you can pay rent.

A Discount of 15 per cent will be allowed for cash within 30 days.

Where an amount of one hundred dollars or more, over and above the amount of first payment due, is tendered in cash within 30 days, 10 per cent discount on such excess amount paid will be allowed.

The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying the whole of the principal sum at the time of making any of the monthly payments, and for such anticipated payments a discount at the rate of six per cent per annum will be allowed.

Titles Guaranteed

Rebate for Early Builders

A rebate of 10 per cent will be allowed on purchase price of lots for the first 50 houses started, if the same are pushed to completion. A rebate of 5 per cent will be allowed on the second 50 houses.

Free Sites for Churches and Schools

As quickly as congregations are formed, we will donate sites for three churches. We will also provide suitable sites for two schools.

The March of Prosperity Is On

All along the Beaver valley real estate values are booming. Prices are climbing higher and higher. All but in West Pittsburgh. We haven't raised values there one cent. But we will after this sale. They are bound to go up. Everything is there to make them advance. Think of it. The town only just laid out and two big manufacturing establishments have already broken ground! Others have options on West Pittsburgh land and are making their plans to erect plants in the very near future. No town in the world ever started off with more glittering or more substantial prospects. No town ever started off with so much life and determination nor attracted to itself so much enthusiastic interest! West Pittsburgh is a success before a lot has been sold. Will you enjoy a share of its success? You can get in now on the ground floor. You can make hundreds of dollars out of a few dollars down and small monthly payments. The chance will not always be open to you. Such opportunities do not come often.

Investigate for Yourself

Go down on the special train and investigate West Pittsburgh for yourself. If it isn't all that we claim for it—don't buy. But we know that if you look into it you will be just as enthusiastic about it as we are.
